GERMAN TROOPS SEIZE MOSCOW FACTORY AREA

Take Power Plants Near Capital.

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP).—The German armies battling toward Moscow tonight were declared to have occupied factories, power plants, and lignite fields in the city's outlying economic region, and thus to have brought appreciably closer the last great struggle for the soviet capital.

Just where these industrial centers are located was not precisely stated. It was said, however, that their capture represented advances west and south of Moscow.

[The Red army announced it had beaten off a series of attacks on Moscow and admitted the fall of Odessa. Story appears on page 4.]

Claim Advance in South.

A German commentator declared that assuming the wind was right the city was now hearing the thunder of German guns. And in any case, he added, "German air bombs must be painfully audible."

The far southern theater of war, including the region extending from Kharkov on the Donetz river to Rostov on the Don to the east, was described here as an area of swift German advances.

The German and allied armies in the Ukraine, freed by the fall of the Black sea port of Odessa from any possible fear of counteraction at their southern flank were said to be smashing eastward in the Donetz valley against a desperate Russian resistance typified by Red counter-attacks which hurled old-fashioned cavalrymen head on at German tanks.

Take 800 Prisoners.

In a single such clash—between what the Nazis called the arms of the present and last centuries—it was claimed that the Russian units were decimated and that 800 prisoners, 500 horses, and 51 cannon were captured.

The capture of Odessa, which was credited largely to Rumanian arms, brought a shower of praise for Rumania along with suggestions that the country could expect commensurate recognition in the axis' proposed her own power."

The booty seized in that long besieged city, said the high command, "cannot yet be estimated."

Set Fire to Oil Tanks.

A German war reporter disclosed, however, that the Russians had set fire to all oil tanks in the city before falling back. His report did not indicate how much of Odessa, aside from military objectives, had been destroyed.

Russian efforts to flee the flaming city by sea, the high command declared, had cost the Reds at least six transports sunk by bombers and eight more badly damaged, along with a soviet speedboat destroyed.

Rumanians Celebrate.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 17 (AP). Flags fluttered from Bucharest buildings today and enthusiastic crowds demonstrated before the royal palace in celebration of the fall of the long besieged soviet Black sea port of Odessa.

HEAR HARRIMAN REACHES CAPITAL IN LONDON PLANE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—W. Averell Harriman, head of the United States delegation to the Moscow conference on Russian war needs, was reported to have arrived in this capital tonight in a bomber which flew direct from London. With Harriman, it was understood, were several army officers.

The direct flight from London, where Harriman returned after conferences with British and Russian officials in Moscow, will put into the hands of the government the latest information on the status and requirements of the Red army, hard pressed by advancing German forces.

Whether Harriman planned to make a preliminary report to officials here or go to Hyde Park for a talk with President Roosevelt was not known immediately.

At the Moscow conference in late September and early October—at which Lord Beaverbrook represented Britain and Foreign Commissar Molotov the soviet government—Harriman pledged "the fullest possible support" of the United States in getting material to Russia for the war against Germany.

ATTACK BY SUB ON U. S. WARSHIP STIRS CONGRESS

House Passes Bill to Arm Ships.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Maps and pictures on pages 6 and 7 and back page.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—A war conscious congress seethed today over the announced torpedoing of an American destroyer about 350 miles south and west of Iceland.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Termed by some legislators as the incident which may bring on a declared war between the United States and Germany, the submarine attack this morning upon the U. S. S. Kearny figured largely in the house debate which preceded passage, by a 259 to 138 vote, of legislation permitting the arming of American merchant ships.

Interventionists shouted that the attempt to sink the destroyer was "an open act of defiance" by Hitler, and bloodthirsty Sen. Claude A. Pepper [D., Fla.] demanded that the navy retaliate "with two sinkings for each assault."

Fear War Incident.

Noninterventionists, led by Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], replied that when the navy operated under shooting orders from the President, such incidents were not surprising and expressed the hope that war would not result. But Rep. Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.] voiced the belief of many in both houses when he commented gravely:

"If the Germans are guilty of this attack, it is probably the incident for which we have been waiting."

"The U. S. S. Kearny, destroyer, was torpedoed this morning while on patrol duty about 350 miles south and west of Iceland," the navy announcement said. "No casualties to personnel were indicated in dispatches received by the navy department. Despite the damage received, the ship is able to proceed under her own power."

The destroyer, under command of Lieut. Comm. A. L. Danis, was one of the navy's newest. Her keel was laid in 1939 and she was completed in 1940. The vessel has a standard displacement of 1,630 tons, is 341 feet long, and has a 35 foot beam. She is armed with the standard 5 inch battery of her class.

Carried Crew of 200.

According to Jane's fighting ships, the Kearny has in addition to her 5 five-inch guns, 10 smaller guns, and 10 torpedo tubes of 21 inches. She carried a complement of approximately 200 men and officers. She was built at a cost of $5,000,000 at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company yards at Kearny, N. J.

The attack upon the destroyer occurred in the same general area as the Greer incident. It was revealed only this week that the United States destroyer Greer had stalked a German submarine for hours in coöperation with a British plane. In an exchange of torpedoes and depth charges, the Greer was uninjured and no signs of a hit upon the submarine were noted.

Dwarfs Neutrality Debate.

Announcement of the attack upon the Kearny dwarfed the issues involved in the house debate on the repeal of that provision in the neutrality act which prohibits the arming of merchant ships. Passage of the bill had been conceded. On a roll call, 219 Democrats, 39 Republicans, and one American Laborite voted for the measure while 113 Republicans, 21 Democrats, 3 Progressives, and 1 Farmer-Laborite balloted against it.

The five Chicagoland states voted 3 to 1 against the administration's proposal.

A previous motion to recommit the measure in order that further hearings could be held was defeated, 257 to 136. The legislation now goes to the senate, where it may be amended to permit American ships to enter belligerent ports, generally conceded to be the last step to be taken by the United States before a declaration of war.

It was recalled in the debate that the house on March 1, 1917, voted 403 to 14 to arm merchant ships. The

THE GAMESTER WHO GAMBLED AWAY OUR FORTUNES IS NOW PLAYING WITH OUR LIVES

Police Blow Up Bootleg Mine; 30 Hurt in Riot

Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 17 (AP).—Thirty or more men were injured today when state police and coal company guards, wielding riot clubs and throwing tear gas bombs, drove away 1,000 protesting miners before dynamiting a bootleg anthracite coal mine.

Map locates scene of riot.

Jeers from the miners greeted police as they arrived with warrants to carry on a campaign promoted by Pennsylvania's anthracite emergency committee to close bootleg coal holes operated on property owned by mining operators.

Driven Out by Tear Gas.

Miners who had taken refuge in the shaft were forced out with tear gas bombs. A crowd at the entrance retreated as police advanced, swinging their clubs. The injuries were mostly bruises, and all the men returned to their homes after treatment by physicians.

The miners began to gather at the scene, near Coplay, early this morning when word was received 50 state troopers and 20 detectives, hired by the Lehigh Valley Coal company, were on the way. Before the police arrived, Edward Seader, leader of the miners, sent a telegram to state authorities.

"We do not want any bloodshed," the telegram said, "but we do want to be left alone until jobs are given us in legitimate operations."

Job Program Drafted.

Seader referred to a provision in a plan worked out months ago by the anthracite emergency committee for stabilization of the hard coal industry in eastern Pennsylvania.

Under the plan men engaged in coal bootlegging would be given jobs by operators as makeshift workings are closed. The plan seeks to eliminate the coal bootlegging that has mushroomed in the anthracite district in the last 12 years.

Several independent shafts in the Mahanoy City area were dynamited three weeks ago. At that time the free lance miners sent delegates to Harrisburg to protest.

The troopers held warrants to close two workings in the vicinity today, but because of the feeling among miners they withdrew after dynamiting the first.

Seader said the miners would gather here at 10 a. m. tomorrow, form a caravan, tour most of Schuylkill county, and return here for a massmeeting tomorrow afternoon.

ANTHONY J. MULLANEY CAMPAIGNS FOR N. Y. MAYORAL CANDIDATE

District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn, regular Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York City in opposition to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, has an active champion and campaigner in Chicago.

Anthony J. Mullaney, first deputy fire marshal, is a second cousin of O'Dwyer.

"And proud of it too," Mullaney said yesterday.

The Chicago fire chief said he is not campaigning for O'Dwyer just because he is his cousin, but because he thinks the man will make a great mayor for New York City.

Chief Mullaney's method of campaigning, in a city which boasts few New York votes, is to praise his candidate to every visiting fireman—especially those from New York.

200 VISIT LOCKUP TO SEE THE MAN WHO ISN'T THERE

Sergt. John Griffith, chief of the confidence detail, said yesterday, a bit wearily, that there is no Harry Miller locked up at police headquarters on a check passing charge. During the last few months about 200 persons have come in in response to supposed calls from headquarters to view the mythical Mr. Miller, who, they had been told, tried to cash a check on their account.

Sergt. Griffith gave this explanation:

A collection agency, with a list of debtors and no certain addresses has been phoning [for example] all the John Does in the directory, locating the one sought, and using the Harry Miller gag, has mentioned the name of the bank on which the fictitious check was drawn. When the unsuspecting John Doe protests that he has no account there, the agency phoner, posing as a policeman, asks where Mr. Doe does have an account, is given the information and promptly attaches the account for the amount due.

Treasury to See You Don't Read Between the Lines

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—It's going to be harder than ever to read those big spending and tax documents from the treasury. To save paper, the treasury has ordered that all its press releases be single spaced instead of double spaced.

Britain Masses Powerful Army for Desert War

WITH BRITISH FORCES IN EGYPT, Oct. 17 (AP).—The most powerful army Britain has ever assembled in Africa lies spread over the western desert for defense of Egypt and for whatever offensive action against Italian-German forces in Libya may be decided on by the British.

Gen. Auchinleck.

The plans of Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck, British middle east commander, have not been revealed, but there is much evidence to support a belief that a terrific battle will be fought along these North African shores.

It seems obvious that the British are not likely to pass an opportunity to strike at the Germans in Libya while the Nazis' main forces are engaged in the big push into Russia.

Points to Be Considered.

This idea gains weight when one considers the following points:

1. How nice it would be from the British point of view to knock the axis forces completely out of Africa.

2. How much wear and tear it might save if such an operation were undertaken while Hitler's air force is so busy in Russia that it would be difficult for him to divert one or two thousand planes to Africa.

Such a campaign cannot be undertaken lightly. Many difficulties are involved.

Nazis Have One Advantage.

One is the German armored divisions in northeastern Cirenaica, the easternmost part of Libya. Despite desert supply problems more serious than those facing the British, these divisions already have shown great skill in desert warfare and since occupying the escarpment at Sollum have certain topographical advantages.

There is also the staggering problem of getting in the equipment and supplies which the present British army needs, not only to replace losses suffered in the desert and Greece, but to outfit this ever growing force and maintain it.

Materials are pouring in now from all parts of the empire and the United States in greater volume than ever, but most of them come by the long route around the Cape of Good Hope or across the Indian ocean and this takes time.

Promise to Aid America if It Declares War

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 18 [Saturday].—America must declare war on Japan at once if the Japanese make any further move in the far east, the News Chronicle said this morning.

"The time for decisive American action is at hand," said the Daily Mail.

"It is clear that America may soon be catapulted into the war," exclaimed the Daily Herald, while the Daily Telegraph argued that "fear of American naval power" is one of the "main factors which have given Japan pause."

These comments disclosed what England expects from the United States and the promises made by President Roosevelt, despite a recent announcement in Washington, D. C., that America had entered into no commitments regarding the orient.

Pins Responsibility on U. S.

Heading the demand for American entry into the war, the News Chronicle said:

"Let it be said at once that if Japan were not at once countered by an American declaration of war Germany would stand to gain enormously. America has the major responsibility in the far east."

If negotiations between Washington and Tokio have failed, the paper contended, "America's course is clear and we will join with her."

"If a Japanese attack on the soviet brought America into the war, then the free world might feel, perhaps, that Japan's action was a blessing in disguise," it added. "The resulting struggle probably would be short and sharp—a single fleet engagement would decide the issue."

The News Chronicle diplomatic correspondent suggested that a Japanese attack from Manchukuo on the Russian maritime provinces to isolate Vladivostok [Russia's Pacific port] and cut the trans-Siberian railway "may be expected at any moment."

Offers to Support U. S.

Citing "opinion in London," the writer said that only "the most inflexible warnings from the United States and Great Britain, acting in concert, will be enough to avert war in the far east."

The British government, he said, is "fully prepared to fulfill the pledge of support to the United States government in any course of action necessary."

That Britain does not intend to take the initiative in the far east was also made clear in the Daily Mail editorial, which said:

"Japan's aggression is America's business. British imperial action there must conform to her [America's] leadership in the Pacific."

Paper Draws a Moral.

The Daily Herald, pointing out that American entry into the war might raise new problems "drastically affecting American materials to Russia and ourselves," drew the moral that "whether or not Japan or America, or both, enter the war the need for a vast expansion of the arms program in Britain must dominate our plans."

The Daily Telegraph cautioned against hasty conclusions on the situation in the far east. It said that the crisis in Tokio "does not necessarily mean war tomorrow."

ROSES WILT, TEA GETS COLD, WINDSORS FAIL TO MAKE APPEARANCE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—A group of congressmen waited restlessly with a fading bunch of roses and a lukewarm pot of tea today for a visit to the capitol by the duke and duchess of Windsor that did not take place.

Mrs. Mabel Anderson, who had expected the coupe to visit a Red Cross booth in the capitol rotunda, finally gave the flowers to tourists and poured out the tea.

"I'm so sorry," she said. "We worked as hard as we could to get things ready."

Mrs. Anderson said she wrote to the duchess asking her to visit the booth and have tea. An aid to the duke, she added, telephoned to say that the duke and duchess both would come. Mrs. Anderson then invited members of the house foreign affairs committee to be present, and most of them came, including Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.].

Rep. Karl E. Mundt [R., S. D.], who has opposed some administration measures in the foreign policy field, said he was on his way to the tea when he was notified that the British embassy had sent word that the duke and duchess were unable to attend.

U. S. NAVY TELLS CARGO SHIPS TO QUIT ASIA SEAS

Capital Links Orders to Events in Japan.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—The navy department today ordered American merchant ships in Asiatic waters to put into "friendly ports" immediately.

After it became known that such instructions had been issued by radio, the navy department tried to soft pedal the action by announcing that "very few" ships had been ordered into port. Officials did not identify the ships involved, or the ports to which they were directed to proceed.

The official statement warned that "any implication that they will not continue to ply their usual trade is entirely erroneous."

Routine Move, Says Navy.

"For some time, the movements of American merchant ships have been controled and directed as seemed desirable," the navy's statement continued. "Instructions regarding this are amplified or modified from time to time. There is nothing unusual or new in such procedure."

Other quarters indicated concern over the shakeup in the Japanese government. While first reaction was favorable to the appointment of Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo as the new premier, official and diplomatic circles urged caution until the makeup of the entire cabinet is ascertained, particularly the choice of foreign minister. Tojo is regarded here as among the more conservative of the aggressive nationalistic factions in Japan.

[In Tokio it was said Tojo hopes to present his cabinet selections to Emperor Hirohito today. Reliable sources said Shigenori Togo, former ambassador to Berlin and later to Moscow, might be named foreign minister and minister of overseas affairs.]

Change Disturbs Officials.

Officials were plainly disturbed over the fall of Prince Konoe's cabinet yesterday. Konoe recently initiated "peace talks" with the United States, but not much progress had been made with the Roosevelt administration, which continued to view the Japanese coldly.

Concern naturally was felt lest the Japanese government now adopt a completely hostile attitude. President Roosevelt held a long conference yesterday with high officials over the Japanese and Russian situations, and kept in touch with officials here today by telephone from his home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

No figures were readily available on the number of ships affected by the navy order, but estimates ran to at least 14—all carrying war materials to Russia.

War Supplies Pour In.

Despite Japanese warnings against shipments of oil and other supplies thru their waters, American ships have been proceeding to Russia in increasing numbers and in sight of Japan, it is reported by officials.

A considerable number of American ships are carrying war supplies to Malayasia for transfer to the Chinese. American ships plying those waters return with strategic materials such as chrome, tungsten, and manganese from China; tin from Burma, and rubber from the Dutch East Indies.

A dispatch from Manila, in the Philippines, reported that one vessel, the freighter Perida, operated by the United States Maritime commission but flying the flag of Panama, was ordered back into Manila harbor today, a few hours after sailing.

Pacific Bases Well Along.

Later in the day the navy announced that satisfactory air bases in the Pacific is progressing satisfactorily, and that the base at Midway Island had been completed "far ahead of schedule." Midway is about 1,200 miles from Honolulu on the route to Yokahoma, Japan.

Exceptional speed also was reported in the development of Alaskan air bases at Sitka, Kodiak, and Dutch Harbor. Moreover, the announcement said that the great new dry dock at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, is basically complete and that the Kaneohe air base on the Island of Oahu already is in operation, with enlargements being carried forward.

Satisfactory progress likewise was reported at Palmyra and Johnston Islands.

Jap Ship Proceeding.

TOKIO, Oct. 18 [Saturday] (AP).—The government information board announced today that the liner Tatuta Maru, enroute to the United States with several hundred American passengers, will continue its voyage despite foreign reports to the contrary.

PHONY PASTOR TRIES TO SHEAR A LOST SHEEP

Fails to Pull the Wool Over Eyes of Its Brother.

Mr. John Sellers, an enterprising young colored gospel singer, spiritual reader, and self-styled "reverend," thought he had a good thing in two newly acquired parishioners, the Brothers Crossly.

Brother Claudius Crossly, also colored, was in Joliet penitentiary, serving a life sentence for murder, but eager to rejoin his brother, Arlo, at 5450 Indiana avenue. The Rev. Mr. Sellers, who sings for the convicts at Joliet, learned of Brother Claudius' desires.

It would be a cinch, said the "reverend," to get Claudius' sentence commuted, and then get Claudius paroled, if he had a little money to help the case thru the parole board. Claudius referred the singer to Brother Arlo, who came up with $160 last winter.

Recently Sellers approached Arlo, explaining that because of the anti-Negro sentiments of a supposed member of the parole board, the ante had been raised to $300. Brother Arlo, now suspicious, visited the board, learned of Sellers' hoax, and told his tale to First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, who assigned a colored assistant, Walter McCoy, to the case.

Trap Is Arranged.

Yesterday Prosecutor McCoy arranged a trap. Sellers showed up at the home of Miss Emily Littles, 4931 Vincennes avenue, a friend of Brother Arlo. Handed seven marked $20 bills, the "reverend" smiled, thumbed the bills tenderly, and remarked:

"In no time I'll have Claudius out of jail. Right now I'm off for Springfield to give the parole board this letter."

Sellers' letter was succinct and to the point. It read, in effect, "Dear Board of Pardons and Paroles: "Here's the rest of the money in the Claudius Crossly case. I paid you $160. Here is the balance, $140. Please send him home right away."

His Arrest Follows.

The "Rev." Sellers had no sooner finished reading the letter when out of another room stepped Detectives John Kelly and James Courtney.

Sellers confessed and was taken before the grand jury, which returned a true bill charging confidence game. Two years ago, Sellers said, he worked the same trick for $75 on a convict who did not know he was about to be released.

"Ain't it a shame?" asked Mr. Sellers gloomily, as he left the grand jury room, "I used to be pretty good at foretelling the future."

Apartment Boiler Blast Causes $10,000 Damage

Basil Trinkaus, 24 year olds, was burned slightly last night when a boiler exploded in the basement of a building at 6121-23 Ellis avenue. About 50 persons were driven to the street in the resulting fire which caused damage estimated at $10,000 by First Deputy Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney. Trinkaus, whose mother, Mrs. Lucy Trinkaus, manages the building, was in the basement when the boiler exploded. Robert Trinkaus, 12, rescued his dog from the family apartment.

Nazi Farmers to Get New Shoes for Their Pigskins

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—German farmers who do their own slaughtering are being urged to skin swine with care. Under special regulations now in force, delivery of an undamaged pigskin will entitle the farmer to a pair of shoes. Two pounds of pigskin leather rate one pair of children's shoes, but it takes twice that amount to get a coupon for a pair of adult's shoes. Damaged skins are rated at only half their "shoe value."

U. S. Fleet Shows No Signs of Rising Far East Tension

HONOLULU, Oct. 17 (AP).—The world's mightiest fleet, that of the United States, went about its gunnery practice and patrol activity as usual today, with no outward sign of the increasing tension in the Pacific over political developments in the far east. Units of the fleet, based at Pearl Harbor, put in at intervals for supplies or shore leave.

3D MILEY SLAYING SUSPECT SEIZED; INDICT 2 OTHERS

Club Employe Named in Confession.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17 [Special].—Raymond S. Baxter, 27 years old, was arrested today on a charge of murder in the robbery-slaying of Marion Miley, the golf star, and her mother. The two were killed the morning of Sept. 28 in their apartment in the Lexington Country club.

[A. P. Wirephoto.] Raymond S. Baxter.

The Fayette county grand jury at the same time indicted Thomas C. Penney, 32, a former Lexington carpenter, and Robert H. Anderson, 36, a Louisville night club owner, on charges of murder in the slayings. Circuit Judge Chester D. Adams set Anderson's trial for Oct. 27.

Accused in Confession.

Police Chief Austin B. Price said Baxter, a greens tender at the country club, has been accused as an accomplice by Penney, who confessed his part in the slayings after his arrest last week in Fort Worth, Tex.

Chief Price said Baxter was sentenced to a year in the state reformatory in April, 1939, on a charge of receiving stolen property but had been placed on probation before having entered prison.

Anderson, who was arrested in Louisville after he also had been accused in Penney's confession, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned after the indictments had been returned.

Two Guns Recovered.

Earlier in the day Penney accompanied police to Louisville, where the two guns which were used in the slayings were found buried in an amusement park. The guns were in a white sack which Penney said originally contained the $130 the killers took in the robbery. Penney previously had told police he had thrown the guns in the Ohio river near Louisville.

Miss Miley, who was 27, and her mother, Elsa, 52, were shot to death by two gunmen who demanded the receipts of a Saturday night dance at the country club. Mrs. Miley was manager of the club and her daughter was a golf instructor there.

TINKLING COINS BRING ROUNDUP OF BANDIT GANG

Police Capture Two with Kidnap Victim.

From 8 p. m. to 4 a. m. Detectives Leo Mikell and Leonard Kreusler cruise about the city. They wear plain clothes and drive in Mikell's automobile. They are on a special detail, always watching for persons whose behavior is suspicious.

Fred Phillis.

Seventeen minutes before their shift ended yesterday they saw another car pass in Marine drive at Carmen avenue. Because the car's license plate was tilted, the policemen stopped it. Three men were inside.

"Give us a pass, copper," said the driver. "We're rushing a sick man to a hospital."

Shaking Man in Rear Seat.

His statement appeared correct. In the rear seat sat a middle aged man, his body shaking as if with palsy. Mikell, who stood by the rear door, was about to wave them on, when he heard a strange tinkle.

The tinkle came from the region of the shaking man's stomach. Mikell looked closer and observed a coin changer, bouncing in tune with the shakes. Mikell and Kreusler drew their guns.

The palsied man ceased trembling, identified himself as Fred Phillis, 53 years old, attendant in a filling station at 5500 Sheridan road, and the reason for his shakes became apparent. Pressed against his ribs had been a revolver in the hands of his seat companion.

"These men just kidnaped me," stammered Phillis. "Two of their pals are over at the station now, looting it."

Find Station Robbed.

The policemen bundled Phillis and the two robbers into their car and sped to the station, but it was empty, robbed of $50 and $100 worth of accessories. The prisoners, Steve Chiappetta, 23, of 2539 Congress street, and Raymond Boinski, 19, of 3003 Van Buren street, told the names of their pals.

At 7:30 a. m. the latter were arrested. They are Boinski's brother, Charles, 16, and Marshall Petramale, 24, of 2852 Polk street, Chiappetta's cousin. In the rear of a neighborhood boys' clubroom at 2454 Harrison street, the policemen recovered the loot.

NATION'S NEWEST, FASTEST SHIPS GIVEN TO BRITAIN

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Two of the newest and fastest freighters in the American merchant marine have been given to Britain under the lend-lease plan, marine circles reported today.

They are the 2 million dollar Extavia, 6,550 tons, of the American Export Line, and the Hawaiian Shipper, 7,500 tons, of the Matson Navigation company. The Hawaiian shipper, completed this year, set a record last June when she steamed from New York to San Diego, Cal., in 12 days.

Rock Mistaken for Plane in Hunt for Lost Aircraft

Carlsbad, N. M., Oct. 17 (AP).—A posse searching the rugged mountains on the Texas-New Mexico boundary, southwest of here, reported today that a strip of white rock had been mistaken for an army observation plane, missing since Monday. The plane, from the 120th observation squadron at Fort Bliss, Tex., last was reported on a routine flight to the anti-aircraft gunnery range 40 miles north of El Paso. Aboard were Lieutenants Willis Hunt of Blytheville, Ark., and C. S. Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., and Sergt. Rich. Lauck of Denver, Colo.

PARACHUTIST TO MAKE PRACTICE LEAP TOMORROW

Arthur S. Starnes, parachute scientist, will make a 12,500 foot test dive early tomorrow morning as a preliminary to a 35,000 foot substratosphere jump early next week, he announced last night. Both leaps will be made from the Phillips Petroleum company's laboratory Lockheed Lodestar transport plane which has been borrowed for the leap tomorrow. On each jump Starnes will attempt to alight on Rubinkam airport, Harvey.

The 35,000 foot drop is to be a delayed fall of 30,000 feet or more in an effort to gather scientific data. This may be used by the government to provide equipment for fighting pilots finding it necessary to bail out of disabled craft at high altitudes. Physical reactions of the jumper and natural phenomena will be recorded. Special oxygen equipment for the jumper will receive a practical test in the plunge.

The Lockheed plane has been equipped with two special telescopes that will enable both Starnes and his pilot, Frank Clark of the Phillips company, to see the airport from their peak altitude. A special type of door, opening inward, will enable Starnes to jump from the cabin. The scientific record of the jump will be turned over to a group of scientists from Northwestern university's technological and aviation laboratory.

HUNT BASEBALL HERO AS FUGITIVE 'LAUGHING KILLER'

BULLETIN.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 17 [Special]. — A man believed to be Ed Taylor, wanted under the name of Clarence Higginbotham as a fugitive from the Alabama penitentiary, where he was serving a 45 year term for a holdup murder, was arrested tonight at Sioux Rapids, Ia., according to Chief R. W. Nebergall of the Iowa bureau of identification.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 17 [Special].—A soft spoken, jovial automobile salesman, home run hitting hero of Iowa's semi-professional baseball circuit, tonight was the object of a statewide search as Alabama's fugitive "laughing killer."

Clarence Higginbotham.

The hunted ball player, known to sports fans and Des Moines friends as Ed Taylor, is Clarence Higginbotham, 43 years old, who in 1936 escaped from the Spiegner, Ala., prison after serving two years of a 45 year sentence for murder.

"Taylor" was exposed as the hunted convict shortly after a detective story magazine appeared on newsstand Wednesday with an account of his crime, and carrying his picture. Higginbotham saw the article and that evening showed it to Jay Ver Duft, a fellow ball player.

Denies His Guilt.

"That's me," Duft quoted Higginbotham as saying, "but I'm not guilty."

Duft said Higginbotham remained at his home overnight. On Thursday morning Duft drove Higginbotham and a girl companion to Grand Junction, Ia., 45 miles north of Des Moines, where Higginbotham and the girl left the car and disappeared.

Shortly after his escape, Higginbotham and the wife he married while a fugitive were captured at Flossmoor, Ill. Higginbotham refused to stop his car for police who were conducting headlight tests. They caught him after a wild chase. Fingerprints showed him to be the Alabama fugitive.

Flossmoor police handed him over to a deputy sheriff from Montgomery, Ala., to take him back to prison. Thirty minutes later Higginbotham complained of hunger. The deputy stopped the car at a roadhouse and had the driver get sandwiches. Higginbotham asked permission to go inside to the washroom, and the deputy consented. He never saw his prisoner again.

Wife Traces Career.

Higginbotham's wife, now abandoned in Des Moines, told police she rejoined the fugitive after his escape from the deputy. They went to Lake Mills, Ia., where Higginbotham took the name Taylor and got a job as manager of an amusement park. His baseball ability became known and he was hired by a Des Moines beer distributing firm as a truck driver, and to play on their semipro team.

Higginbotham, under the name of Taylor, was one of the best hitters in the league, and led the team to the state championship in 1938. His clowning antics on the diamond and his batting prowess made him popular with the fans. He became an automobile salesman and fraternized with the Des Moines police, to whom he sold a number of automobiles.

A drug clerk who read the detective magazine told police of Taylor's resemblance to Higginbotham. Police then learned he had fled. His wife said she knew her husband was wanted for murder, but stayed with him because she loved him.

"And I still love him," she declared.

Higginbotham was convicted of murdering William Lambert, 22 years old, operator of a Birmingham radio shop. Lambert was shot to death by a masked gunman when he resisted the killer's attempt to rape his sweetheart. The killer fled laughing, the girl testified later, and Higginbotham became known as the "laughing slayer."

SHOT IN MOUTH WHEN HELD UP IN SALOON; CONDITION CRITICAL

August Dierken.

August Dierken, 30 years old, a cabinet maker, was shot thru the mouth and critically wounded last night by one of a trio of bandits attempting to hold up a saloon at 1300 North Halsted street. Dierken, who lives at 2115 Dayton street, was seated at the bar when the bandits entered. As they announced the holdup Dierken rose, apparently intending to raise his hands, and was struck in the mouth with a revolver. The gun fired, the bullet breaking off several teeth and possibly fracturing Dierken's skull. He was taken to Henrotin hospital. The bandits, all of whom were armed escaped with $200.

WITNESS COMING BACK; ASSAULT TRIAL ADVANCED

Judge John Sbarbaro of the Criminal court, at the request of the state's attorney's office, yesterday advanced the trial of Joe Montana Jr., west side gangster, to Monday. Montana is accused of assault to murder Frank Zito in a dispute over an illicit still.

When Zito, the state's star witness, disappeared from his guarded loop hotel room Tuesday, where he had been detained since Aug. 1, Montana's trial was put over until Feb. 15. However, Zito was found late Wednesday in Harrisburg, Ill., and yesteray was on the way to Chicago in custody of Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine.

Roland Libonati, counsel for Montana, announced he would be ready to go to trial Monday. Three other men, named by Zito as Montana's fellow gunmen, are fugitives. They are Rocco Iacullo, Joseph Esposito, and Mike Greco.

COL. M'CORMICK LAUDS CHICAGO ADMINISTRATION

Gives Credit to Kelly in Speech to Editors.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, yesterday praised Chicago's city government, saying that it has kept the community from mob rule, has made a serious drive against gangsterism in labor unions as well as elsewhere, and so protected manufacturers here that there has been no need for the army or navy to take over operation of any factories in this area.

Speaking at a luncheon in the Drake hotel at which he was host to 300 Associated Press managing editors, Col. McCormick introduced Mayor Kelly, the guest of honor, and said he is responsible for the city's efficiency.

After telling the editors they were welcome in Chicago the mayor said: "I hope you don't think I fixed up that speech of praise Col. McCormick just gave. I didn't. And I think we all know that nobody can fix up anything with Col. McCormick."

Chicago a Free City.

"I do not know why you chose Chicago as the place for your meeting this year," said Col. McCormick, "but if it was because you wanted to find a town where you would be perfectly free from mob interference, that would have been a sufficient reason.

"This is one of the few industrial cities in the United States that has not had mob rule at any time in the last 10 years. The army has not had to take over any plant, nor has it had to begin operating any factories in Chicago.

"The police force has been sufficient to preserve the peace.

"I wonder if you have ever thought that the police force is the only occupation that deals exclusively with people who wish to corrupt it. That is true all the way from the young lady who smiles to get out of a ticket to the top hoodlum in the crime business.

Battle, Not Conspiracy.

"We had gangland here in prohibition days, and with prohibition gone, gangland has been trying to take over a number of labor unions and assess the poor workmen huge sums of money.

"Our police have a battle on with gangland now, but it is a battle and not a conspiracy. It is a battle that is being won.

"Bioff and Browne are being tried in New York. They would be sitting pretty if they had not tried to move into this town.

"I am proud of our police force. Something else that we have in Chicago is a detective force that operates as such. I think it is common knowledge that in the good old days the detective force was an organization of men allowed to put on civilian clothes and given a license to blackmail people in illegitimate occupations. That is all over here and the detective force actually uses the scientific methods which we read about in the detective stories.

"I suppose as long as we have education and school boards there will be controversies as to how well they are run. There can be no doubt about the fact that in the Chicago high schools there are far more ROTC units than in any other city in the United States.

Reservoir for Officers.

"We talk about defense these days, but for 25 years Chicago has been developing officers for the army. You will find a larger number of Chicago officers among the reserve officers than from any other city.

"Our fire department is something that would do you great benefit to see. Comparisons are odious, but I will say that the regular army, in which I served, and our navy would do very well to study the Chicago fire department. They would see a marvelous skill in the technique of machines and in the use of them which would stimulate their emulation.

"I am in the way of being a member of the fire department myself, because I was its first aerial observer at the great elevator fire in 1939. In fires of great magnitude, the airplane is as important in the war against fire as against any other menace.

"Obviously the man who is responsible for the efficiency of the military is the commander in chief. The commander in chief of the Chicago police department and the Chicago fire department is Mayor Kelly."

Willie Bioff and George E. Browne, to whom Col. McCormick referred, are American Federation of Labor leaders now on trial in New York City on charges of having extorted $550,000 from the country's four largest film producing companies on threats of calling ruinous strikes.

Carbine to Replace Army Pistol

The carbine weighs 4.6 pounds and is a semi-automatic gas operated weapon firing one shot at a time from a clip of 10 or 20 cartridges. It is 7 inches shorter and almost 4½ pounds lighter than the standard Garand rifle. [Acme Photo.]

ARMY PAINTS LEAVES FOR CAMOUFLAGE IN CAROLINA MANEUVERS

Camden, S. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Camouflaeurs, with paint spray guns, are in a race in the Carolina army maneuvers, trying to keep apace with nature in approximating the color changes of fall.

Every few days they paint again the leaves of trees that have been killed by axmen making a place for the 1st army to train in the Carolina sandhills. Each time they have to change the color combination to make leaves, dead for a week or so, resemble living cover to deceive airplane observers. The dead leaves have the texture—all the army specialists have to do is match the ever-changing colors.

Working on the job is the 84th engineer battalion of Fort Belvir, Va., the only camouflage unit in the army. One company distinguished itself during the Louisiana maneuvers by converting the mobile headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear of the 2d army into a popstand.

U.S. NAVY ORDERS TROOP CARRYING PLASTIC GLIDERS

Fleet of 14 to Include 10 of Usual Type.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Development of a new synthetic material described as particularly suited to aircraft construction was disclosed today in an announcement that the navy had ordered a fleet of 14 gliders, including four big troop carrying ships made of plastics.

Military airmen long have dreamed of a plane construction material that could be molded to shape in large sections for speed in building, yet have the same strength and durability in relation to weight as characterized the best airplane metals.

Whether the wood impregnated plastic with which the navy is now preparing to conduct advanced experiments is such a material remains to be seen, but navy officers who have made preliminary tests are reported to think highly of its qualities.

Two Carry 24 Men Each.

In laying out its experimental glider program, the navy department decided to have its four largest motorless planes made of the plastic.

Two of these craft, capable of carrying 24 men each, will be made by Snead and company, Orange, Va. The other two, with a capacity of 12 men each, will be made by Allied Aviation corporation, Baltimore. In addition 10 two-man gliders have been ordered from Schweizer Aviation corporation, Elmira, N. Y.

The larger of the two transport types will have a wing spread of 110 feet and gross weight of 12,000 pounds. The smaller will have a wing spread of 88 feet and gross weight of 6,500 pounds.

Many Advantages Claimed.

If use of the plastic in gliders proves satisfactory it was considered certain that experiments would be made with regular motor-powered craft built of the same material.

The new plastic was described by the navy as having many advantages over other similar materials. It will not pick up moisture or fungus growth, according to the official description; it is light and durable; it is easily worked into any shape; it has a "long fatigue limit," which means it can withstand strains, twists, shaking and the like without cracking or chipping, and if a plane made of it is damaged in landing, repairs can be made speedily.

AP'S CHIEF SAYS WAR IS HELL FOR REPORTERS, TOO

Pays Tribute to Foreign Correspondents of Today.

Covering the European war today is quite a different task from what correspondents had during the Richard Harding Davis era, but Associated Press reporters are doing just as good a job under much worse circumstances than news was covered or written in the past. That's what Kent Cooper, general manager of the AP, told 300 editors yesterday in the Drake hotel.

Cooper, speaking for his organization in the ninth annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association, described the work of Larry Allen, AP correspondent, who has been stationed with the British fleet in the Mediterranean. Allen was aboard the aircraft carrier Illustrious when it was bombed.

"Went Thru Hell."

"Nobody in the 'good old war correspondent days' ever went thru the hell that Larry Allen did in that semi-total destruction of the Illustrious," Cooper said. "And nobody ever wrote a sweeter story afterward."

Criticism has been voiced by many editors, he continued, who wanted more coverage of the war.

"In this war millions of men are involved and no newsman is allowed at the front," he said.

"Incidentally, since it developed its modern hellish aspects, I've had mighty few requests for foreign assignments from editors and managing editors. Before that, I should say, I had plenty."

The "Whole Truth."

Cooper said that many Associated Press member editors want the service to take its correspondents out of the axis countries and to have them tell the whole truth of what is happening behind the censorship.

"In the first place, the United States is at peace with the axis countries," Cooper said. "These editors who want us to take our men home would have us get in and pitch hard to get the United States in war. We are an impartial news reporting agency, not a propaganda bureau."

Several department heads from the New York, Washington, Kansas City, and Atlanta divisions of the AP followed Cooper in replying to specific items of censure raised by editors in general sessions of the meeting on Thursday. Among these were Byron Price, executive news editor; Brian Bell, chief of the Washington bureau, and John M. Roberts, foreign news editor.

Basil L. Walters of the Minneapolis Star-Journal and Tribune was elected chairman of the association for the ensuing year. George W. Healy Jr. of the New Orleans Times-Picayune was chosen vice chairman. Los Angeles was selected for the 1942 meeting without dates being set.

FINED AS FAKE PHYSICIAN.

Robert Epistle Williams, 55 years old, colored, was fined $100 yesterday by Judge Albert E. Isley in County court on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

BEAT OFF WAVES OF NAZI ATTACKS, MOSCOW CLAIMS

Soviet Army Admits Loss of Port of Odessa.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 18 [Saturday] (AP).—Exchange Telegraph quoted the Moscow radio today as saying that Russian troops had recaptured Orel, about 200 miles south of the soviet capital, on Tuesday.

MOSCOW, Oct. 18 [Saturday.] (AP).—Red armies before Moscow beat off one fierce attack after another by German forces battering at the western defenses of the capital, the Russians announced early today.

"Heavy fighting continued along the whole front," said the early morning communique, which also announced the abandonment of the Black sea port of Odessa. "Fighting was especially stubborn in the western direction where the Red army beat off several fierce enemy attacks. Fourteen German planes were brought down."

Earlier front line dispatches said the soviet defenders had smashed two German spearheads which had penetrated defenses about 100 miles from the city, but the danger to the capital remained grave.

Halted by Artillery Fire.

The communique failed to specify where the assaults on the central front were stopped, but dispatches to the official press said the Germans were beaten back at Vyazma, 125 miles west of Moscow, and also at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest.

In the Vyazma sector a heavy Red artillery fire halted the German advance, while in the Kalinin area more than 100 German tanks supported by aircraft were destroyed after the Nazis had penetrated the Russian lines Wednesday and Thursday with parachute troops, tanks, and motorized infantry, the Russian reports stated.

"The evacuation of soviet troops from Odessa, organized by the Red army command during the past eight days, was completed in time and in perfect order," the soviet communique said of the retreat from the southern city which the Germans announced they entered Thursday.

Troops Moved by Fleet.

"Our troops having fulfilled their task in the Odessa area were transferred by our fleet to other sectors of the front in a perfectly orderly manner and without any losses.

"Rumors disseminated by the German radio to the effect that soviet troops were forced to evacuate Odessa by an onslaught of German and Rumanian forces are absolutely without foundation.

"In reality the evacuation of Odessa was carried out pursuant to the decision of the supreme command of the Red army for strategic reasons and without any pressure on the part of German and Rumanian troops."

Nazis Slowed Down: Reds.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP).—The Moscow radio declared tonight that the German advance toward the Russian capital had been "somewhat slowed down."

Two hundred miles south of Moscow, according to the broadcast, the Germans had failed in an encirclement maneuver after occupying Orel. As for the southern front, the radio added, the Germans have thrown large forces against the approaches to the Donetz basin, supported by Hungarian, Italian, and Rumanian divisions and there "the battle is raging with evergrowing intensity."

U.S. ENVOY AND SUPPLY MISSION QUIT MOSCOW 'FOR POINT EASTWARD'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—The state department announced late this afternoon that Laurence A. Steinhardt, United States ambassador to Moscow, and members of his staff have left the soviet capital with other members of the diplomatic corps "for a point eastward of the capital at the request of the soviet government." It was presumed the Americans were on their way to Kazan, 450 miles east of Moscow.

The announcement added that on the same train were "high officials of the people's commissariat for foreign affairs, members of the American supply mission, two representatives of the American Red Cross," as well as several American newspaper correspondents.

Two American embassy secretaries, Llewellyn Thompson and G. Frederick Reinhardt, and three clerks, were left in Moscow. Military and naval attachés accompanied Steinhardt.

RAID ON NAPLES KILLS 12; BRITISH SUBMARINE SUNK

ROME, Oct. 17 (AP).—Naples was bombed early today by British planes. Twelve persons were killed, 37 were injured, and several fires were started. The high command also announced that an Italian torpedo boat sank a British submarine in the Mediterranean, the second reported sunk in two days. Italian planes last night bombed Valletta harbor, the naval base on Malta, it was said, while British raiders struck at Bengazi, axis held port of Libya.

British planes which attacked Naples were said to have "hit several civilian dwellings" and the high command implied that all the victims were struck in these dwellings.

British Asking for Both Drivers and Ambulances

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Members of the American field service said today that the British war office has called for 400 ambulances and 1,000 drivers for the middle eastern front and that the first contingent of drivers would depart "by whatever means of transportation is available." Maj. Stuart Benson and Capt. George H. J. King, field service members who revealed the war office's request, said they would leave for Cairo with the contingent.

ARGENTINE FUEL TO BE RATIONED TO SAVE STOCKS

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 17 (AP).—Argentina ordered fuel rationing today to conserve stocks in the face of a shipping shortage.

Railroads were directed to reduce coal consumption 40 per cent and oil 15 per cent from their 1940 totals, while the gasoline allotment was limited to 1938 consumption. Traffic will be reduced if necessary to meet these cuts.

Industries which can use fuels produced in Argentina or neighboring countries were forbidden to use ocean-borne supplies.

Dire Need for Shoes Ends Bulgars' Meatless Days

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 17.—Because increased slaughtering of cattle has become necessary to provide the population with shoes, Bulgaria's two meatless days per week are to be abolished, it was announced tonight. The leather will be used to manufacture moccasins for peasants, who comprise 80 per cent of the population.

EXPECT RUSSIA TO MAKE STAND BACK OF VOLGA

Moscow Garrison Will Fight On, Reds Say.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP).—Indications that the principals of the Russian government, abandoning Moscow for Kazan, 450 miles to the east, were preparing to reorganize war operations from bases in the 100,000 square mile area between the lower Ural mountains and the Volga river were seen here tonight in authoritative quarters.

At the same time, Russian informants reiterated that Moscow's vast garrison would "continue to fight as long as it has a single shell left," altho acknowledging that the problem of supply became more acute as the German envelopment maneuver proceeded.

Recall Paris Withdrawal.

"The withdrawal of the government would not mean that we concede the fall of Moscow," they added, "altho we don't deny that the situation is grim. Remember that the French government withdrew from Paris in the World war and Paris did not fall. The withdrawal from Moscow merely would mean that the leaders want to be free to continue the direction of war operations without the distractions and restrictions of a besieged city."

The government's apparent plan to set up an area of resistance between the Urals and the Volga would create a great new theater of continuing warfare in southeastern European Russia, presumably with a line of great strength along the Volga, which the Germans even to reach—and assuming their conquest of Moscow—would have to advance 500 miles.

Back of the Volga in that part of Russia stretches another 300 odd miles before the Urals.

Tells Russian Strategy.

One source declared that it was part of Russian strategy if need be to base ultimate operations from below a line running from Stalingrad on the Volga 1,200 miles northeast to Chelyabinsk, which lies behind the Urals. He added that with British help by way of Iran, the allies could make sorties which the Germans would find "pretty trying."

In connection with the widely accepted understanding that the soviet government had left the city for Kazan, it was learned that some messages from Moscow had asked London authorities to direct future communications to an address "other than Moscow."

[The British radio, in a broadcast heard in New York yesterday, said that Premier Joseph Stalin "is known to be still in the Russian capital."]

The British military mission, it was stated authoritatively, has left Moscow at the request of the soviet authorities and presumably has gone to Kazan.

URUGUAY SPEEDS $17,000,000 ARMS BUYING PROJECT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 17 (AP).—Neighboring Uruguay today rushed a project for obtaining arms from the United States.

The Uruguayan chamber of deputies planned a special session next week to consider a $17,000,000 loan from the United States for arms purchases. A committee reported favorably on the loan and its approval is expected speedily.

The Uruguayan purchasing commission already in the United States would be instructed to buy enough supplies for a small regular army and for an additional force of 150,000 men in case the country should go on a war footing. Observers said this indicated the possibility of conscription. Contemplated purchases include light and heavy field artillery, tanks, training planes and bombers, and mobile anti-aircraft units.

Jails Husband

MRS. ANN GILL.

Harry G. Gill, 30 years old, 6338 Eggleston avenue, an examiner for the Chicago Title and Trust company, was sent to alimony row in the county jail yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort for being $204 in arrears in support money to his former wife, Ann, for their daughter, Sandra, 4 years old.

Mrs. Gill thru her attorneys, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, said Gill had been ordered to pay her $7.50 a week for support of their child at the time of their divorce a year ago. Gill, who has remarried, was sent to jail after he told Judge Desort he could make no payment on the arrearage. Becker said both Gill and his present wife were employed.

BRITISH OFFICER SLAIN BY ITALIAN IN ATHENS CHASE

BOLOGNA, Italy, Oct. 17 (AP).—The newspaper Il Resto Del Carlino today reported that a British lieutenant colonel was shot and killed while trying to escape arrest in Athens.

The officer, who had remained hidden in an Athens house after British troops fled Greece, was discovered by Italian authorities.

Two soldiers who were sent to arrest him were greeted with pistol shots and wounded. The officer then ran thru the main streets of Athens firing on Italians he met until he was shot by an Italian officer in a midtown square. Three soldiers and three civilians were wounded.

Honor Duke of Gloucester at Gibraltar Luncheon

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 17.—The military governor of Algeciras, Spain, Gen. Barron Ortiz, and other Spanish grandees today attended a luncheon party by the British commander of Gibraltar, Viscount Gort, for the duke of Gloucester. Tomorrow the duke, who is a brother of King George VI., will inspect Gibraltar's air raid precaution services.

DEATH TO DUTCH FOOD SABOTEURS DECREED BY NAZIS

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Oct. 17 (AP).—A decree by German Commissioner Arthur Seyss-Inquart today fixed a maximum penalty of death for endangering or limiting the Holland food supply.

The penalty would apply to aggravated cases of violation of food price regulations, trading in the illegal "black market," or slaughtering animals except in quantities and at times designated by the authorities.

The commissioner warned parents that the death penalty could be inflicted on children as young as 16 years old for violation of the decree.

In a statement to the Dutch people he asserted Germany "is at war in the interest of all Europe" and any infringement of the food supply essential to victory must be punished remorselessly. He said offenders would be tried in special courts from whose verdict there would be no appeal.

20 Czechs Slain or Doomed.

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP).—Twenty Czechs were executed or sentenced to death at Prague and Brunn [Brno] last Wednesday, newspaper dispatches reported today.

In Prague, five persons were shot on conviction of preparation of high treason and possession of forbidden weapons, these reports said, while nine were hanged for economic sabotage.

The Brunn court martial sentenced three to shooting and three to hanging on the same charges.

The German military commander for occupied France announced the execution Oct. 7 of Leon Albert Liust on charges of "aiding the enemy thru communist activity against the German armed forces."

39 Convicted as Petain Foes.

VICHY, France, Oct. 17 (AP).—Thirty-nine persons were sentenced today in courts of the occupied and unoccupied zones as the government pressed its campaign against political enemies of the Petain régime.

In a mass trial at Toulouse involving 43 persons charged with illegal political activity, a military court handed down 25 convictions ranging from 15 years at hard labor to two years in prison. All the accused, including those acquitted, were described as foreigners.

A military court at Marseilles sentenced six persons described as communists to terms ranging from 15 months to three years, and sent a 17 year old boy to a penal colony.

Six others described as communists were sentenced to from one to seven years by the court at Douai in the German occupied zone.

Also in the occupied zone Arcade Mignot, mayor of the Normandy town of Neville, was sent to prison on charges of making insulting remarks about Chief of State Petain and Vice Premier Darlan.

EDWARD CUDAHY, HEAD OF PACKING FIRM, DIES AT 81

End Comes at Home After Long Illness.

Edward A. Cudahy Sr., founder and head of the Cudahy Packing company, died early this morning in the family home at 22 Banks street. He was 81 years old and had been seriously ill for several years. Physicians said death was caused by a heart ailment.

Edward Cudahy Sr.

Members of his family had been summoned and were at the bedside. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mr. Cudahy was born in Milwaukee on Feb. 1, 1860, the youngest of six children of Patrick and Elizabeth Shaw Cudahy, who came from Ireland in 1842. When he was 12 years old he went to work for the Plankinton Packing company of that city as a messenger boy. From that job he rose steadily.

As a stockyards "cowboy" he herded cattle from the pens to the slaughter house. He skinned carcasses and dressed meat. He was a ham trimmer, cashier in a retail market, and a meat cutter. He even learned German to aid him in his contacts with many customers.

Becomes Head of Plant Here.

While still a young man Mr. Cudahy's abilities commanded the attention of Armour & Co. He became superintendent of the company's Chicago plant and later manager of the beef department.

At the age of 27 Mr. Cudahy was appointed general manager of the Armour plant in Omaha when the Armour-Cudahy company was organized, taking over Sir Thomas Lipton's South Omaha plant. Three years later, in 1890, Mr. Cudahy and his older brother, Michael, purchased the Armour interest, forming their own concern with Michael as president and Edward as vice president and general manager.

Mr. Cudahy became president on the death of his brother in 1910. Four years later he announced his retirement in "favor of younger men." His nephew, Joseph M., succeeded to the presidency, but a year later relinquished it to his uncle.

Back on the Job Again.

"I thought I could take a vacation," declared Mr. Cudahy at that time, "but it seems the only rest I can get is rest after a good day's work. So I'm going back."

In 1926 Mr. Cudahy became chairman of the board, being succeeded as president by his son, Edward A. Jr.

In 1900 the younger Cudahy, then only 5 years old, was kidnaped from the family home in Omaha. He was released unharmed after his parents paid a ransom of $25,000.

There has always been speculation among packers as to why the Cudahy company never opened a plant in Chicago, the center of the live stock industry. The company maintains offices in Chicago, but its largest plant is in Omaha.

There is a story told among the old timers about the reason for this: When the Cudahy brothers bought out the Armour interest at Omaha to organize their own concern, so goes the story, they reached a gentleman's agreement that the Cudahy company would not establish a plant in the Chicago stockyards for forty years.

If this were true it would account, market men said, for the company's not coming to Chicago up to 1930, when the 40 year period expired. Since then it has taken no step to found a Chicago plant.

In Chicago Since 1911.

Mr. Cudahy married Miss Elizabeth Murphy of Milwaukee in 1884. They moved to Chicago in 1911. Their golden wedding anniversary was celebrated with a family gathering in their home on Thanksgiving day of 1934.

Mrs. Cudahy, who was noted for her philanthropic activities, died in May, 1937. Mr. Cudahy was seriously ill following an operation for appendicitis in December, 1936, but recovered and was in apparent good health thru 1937 and 1938.

Besides his son Mr. Cudahy leaves four daughters. They are Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm, Mrs. Austin H. Niblack, Mrs. Vaughn C. Spalding, and Mrs. John N. Stearns Jr.

Mr. Cudahy had made large gifts to educational and charitable institutions. In 1930 he and his wife presented a $300,000 library to Loyola university. He was a member of the Chicago Historical society and of the Chicago, Glen View, Saddle and Cycle, and Casino clubs.

NEW DEAL SCANS WAR PROGRAM OF 50 BILLION A YEAR

Considers Spending Half of National Income.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Amid growing tension over developments abroad, high administration sources revealed today they were studying a proposed 50 billion dollar a year "victory program" for American armament and aid to Britain and other countries.

While the program is only in the study stage, it was learned authoritatively that President Roosevelt had ordered the army, navy, and Office of Production Management to map out a program that would match the productive efforts of the Germans.

The Germans are supposed to be spending more than half of their national income on arms, and 50 billion dollars a year would be about half the prospective American national income.

Study Possible Effect.

Officials who revealed these studies, however, cautioned that "There is nothing formal about this," and pointed out that it hasn't gone far enough yet to be taken up even tentatively with the budget bureau.

With priorities already disrupting production of many consumer items, officials want to figure out more clearly what the effect of such a program would be on American economy before getting down to serious consideration of it, it was explained.

The President was reported to have asked for this study because of a feeling that the American defense effort —while already demanding greater expenditures than ever have been made before in the history of the republic—did not come up proportionately to the effort being made by Great Britain and by Germany in relation to their resources.

Double Present Pace.

Federal expenditures are estimated for the current fiscal year at about 24 billion 500 million dollars and are expected to use up about 18 per cent of the national income. The new "victory program," if adopted, would double these expenditures.

Another problem that the experts have yet to figure on before recommending such a program is the question of where the money would come from. This fiscal year, even with the new record breaking taxes recently enacted, revenues are estimated at 12 billion dollars. This total might rise to 15 billion dollars during a period of increased business activity, but huge additional taxes or borrowing would have to be inaugurated to pay for a 50 billion dollar a year spending program.

ADMITS ROBBING GRANDMOTHER.

Adrian, Mich., Oct. 17 [Special].—Charged with stealing $310 that his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Luce of Blissfield, has been saving to pay on a mortgage, Harold Luce, 18 years old, pleaded guilty in Circuit court today. Police recovered $242. He will be sentenced later.

WORDS OF F. D. R.

(To the Brazilian congress on Nov. 27, 1936.)

"Your first concern, like ours, is peace—for we know that war destroys not only human lives and happiness, but destroys as well the ideals of individual liberty and of the democratic form of representative government which is the goal of all American republicans."

DROP COMPLAINT AGAINST SOVIET MYSTERY AGENT

New York, Oct. 17 [Special].—Dismissal of the case against the mysterious Gail Bradalovitch Ovakimian, arrested here May 5 for having failed to register as an agent of the soviet government, was obtained in federal court today by United States Attorney Mathias F. Correa on the ground of "important international considerations."

Further mystery was added by Correa's admission that Ovakimian, who on May 7 was released in $25,000 bail put up by the Russian consul general, had been out of the country for two months.

"It is the opinion of the state department that public policy will be served by suspension of the proceedings against Ovakimian, on condition that he leave the United States, never to return," Correa told Judge Samuel Mandelbaum.

At the time of Ovakimian's arrest soviet representatives here would not deny he had been an agent here for more than two years. He had lived in Brooklyn, where his mysterious appearances and disappearances had interested his neighbors. In June, 1940, his wife and small daughter left for Russia, taking with them six trunks.

BRITAIN RUNNING SHORT OF MEN, SAYS U. S. ENVOY

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Great Britain is encountering labor shortages, John D. Biggers, special minister to England, said today on his return from Europe by Clipper.

"They lack the manpower to maintain a big navy, a large army, and a great air force, and at the same time obtain maximum industrial output," Biggers declared. "They are not getting the full production of which their plants are capable. They are making up part of the labor shortage by bringing thousands of women into the factories.

"The German army and air force still are dominant on the continent. Germany's vast supply of war equipment is still greater than the combined accumulation of Britain and the United States. As long as that situation exists, Hitler will hold the advantage. But the British position is immeasurably stronger than it was a year ago, and I think Britain will continue to gain steadily in strength. She is certain to if we do our part here in the United States."

RAIDERS SINK 2 SHIPS AND BLAST HARBORS: NAZIS

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP).—Air raids on shipping around the British Isles and on harbors of the southeast and west coasts of England were announced today. One large merchant ship and another of 1,500 tons were reported sunk.

The Germans acknowledged British bombers raided western Germany during the night. They said the damage was "inconsiderable." One British plane was reported shot down.

British Raid Ruhr, Ports.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—British air raids on Germany's industrial Ruhr region last night were reported today. The main target was Duisberg, while other raiders struck at docks at Dunkirk, Ostend, and Calais. Four planes were missing from these attacks and attacks yesterday and last night on shipping off Norway and the Frisian Islands. The admiralty tonight announced the loss of one of its fast little patrol boats, the corvette Fleur de Lys.

PANAMA ENVOY TO SPEED CANAL DEFENSE GRANTS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP).—Ernesto Jaen Guardia, Panama's new ambassador to Washington, said today concession of land near the Canal Zone for American air bases would be one of the first orders of business when he reaches Washington.

Guardia, who arrived here on his way to his post, said the new Panamanian régime was in agreement on the matter and was completely in accord with the inter-American idea of a common hemisphere defense.

The land concession, he asserted, was agreed upon by the ousted administration of Dr. Arnulfo Arias and denied that the Arias government had been unsympathetic toward the United States. Guardia maintained the sole reason for the change in the government was Dr. Arias' departure from the country without authorization of the national assembly, as required by the constitution.

CITIZENS ABROAD GET EXTRA YEAR TO RETURN HOME

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Legislation to amend the nationality act of 1940 to preserve the citizenship of certain American citizens abroad has been signed by President Roosevelt.

Under the act it was declared that naturalized citizens remaining abroad for a certain period of time would lose their citizenship unless they returned to the United States by Oct. 14, 1941.

The amendment, Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., Ohio] told the senate, would add an additional year to the time in which citizens may return to preserve their citizenship. He added that it was the senate interpretation that the measure preserved citizenship of affected persons even tho it was not signed by the President by midnight Oct. 14. The senate hurried the legislation thru Oct. 13.

Grandson of Belligerent Sen. Carter Glass Enlists

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 [Special].—Carter Glass III. of Lynchburg, Va., has enlisted as an army air corps aviation cadet, assigned to ground duty, and will be sent to a class in communications training at Scott field, Belleville, Ill., the war department announced today. He is the son of Carter Glass Jr., editor of the Lynchburg Advance, and the grandson of war minded Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.]. He was graduated from Washington and Lee university last spring.

PRESIDENT HAS NOTHING TO SAY ON TORPEDOING

F. D. R. Talks Instead of Philadelphia Sewage.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 17.—President Roosevelt today maintained a strict silence on the swift moving developments of the last 24 hours, including the torpedoing of the American destroyer Kearny and the formation of a new cabinet in Japan.

He discussed instead, in answer to questions, the problem of sewage disposal in Philadelphia and the power problem in San Francisco, arising from the federal Hetch-Hetchy development.

Asks Action by McNutt.

Mr. Roosevelt described the Philadelphia sewage problem as a literal and figurative stench in public nostrils and stated that no prudent administration would approve any change in the original law creating the federal development at San Francisco which would permit private interests rather than the city to operate the power plant.

Mr. Roosevelt read a letter he has sent to Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt directing a study of the Philadelphian sewage problem to determine whether it constitutes a menace to the national defense in view of the fact Philadelphia has more than a billion dollar's worth of defense contracts.

Nothing on World Affairs.

To reporters who poured into the small room with a barrage of questions concerning the Kearny incident and the Japanese cabinet shakeup, he gave almost nothing.

He acknowledged that he had received word of the torpedoing of the Kearny three minutes after his arrival here from Washington at 8:30 a. m., from Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and that he had also conferred with Secretary of State Cordell Hull on the Japanese situation.

He refused to be drawn into questions which would have had him brand the attack on the Kearny as an act of piracy. He declined to discuss the incident in any detail other than to say it had occurred well within the American zone of hemisphere defense. He displayed no alarm in his attitude.

Daughter at Conference.

The press conference was attended by his daughter, Anna, who was clad in denim trousers and hunched herself forward on a small chair. Back of the President leaning against the wall was her husband, John Boettiger, Seattle publisher. In another chair, his ashen face at eager attention, sat Harry Hopkins, lend-lease chief and personal ambassador of the President to Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin.

Absent from the conference was the President's royal house guest, Crown Princess Martha of Norway, who put in a last minute appearance aboard the Presidential special at Washington last night. The princess has been a guest of the summer White House on three of the President's last four week-end visits here. Mrs. Roosevelt, did not accompany the party, delegating the task of hostess to royalty to her daughter, Anna.

The crown princess did not travel in the private car she used on her last trip here, but shared that of the President. Her private car is paid for by the Norwegian government out of tax money collected from Norwegians before the fall of that nation. Her passage for the present trip was billed to the White House.

The subchaser is the first sea-going vessel built in Pittsburgh in 100 years and the first combat ship built here since the war of 1812. Dravo has contracts for 19 other chasers, 15 of which will be constructed and launched here and the remainder at Wilmington, Del.

BERLIN AND VICHY AGREE TO TRADE DIPLOMATIC AIDS

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The French and Germans have agreed in principle to exchange official representatives between Berlin and Vichy, it was learned tonight.

Krug von Nidda of the German consulate in Paris has been appointed as German representative in Vichy, it was said. The consulate general is to be established about Nov. 1. Informed quarters said they did not know who would be appointed the Vichy representative to Berlin.

As Germany and France still are technically at war, and since resumption of relations of even a semi-diplomatic character is regarded as epoch making here, it was stressed that the arrangement does not supplement any military clauses in the armistice convention. It is looked upon, however, as a harbinger of closer French-German relations.

Lieut. Col. F. U. McCoskrie Gets New Army Position

Lieut. Col. Frank U. McCoskrie has been appointed assistant chief of staff, G-2, in charge of military intelligence and public relations for the 6th corps area, it was announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. J. M. Cummins, commanding the area. McCoskrie will replace Maj. Giles R. Carpenter, who has been transferred to a general staff post with the 1st division.

WHEN STATE JOB BUREAU FAILS HE FINDS MEN WORK

Free Service Is Provided for Hundreds.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The gayest place on the south side right now is a large basement at 6433 South California avenue. Three nights a week it is crowded with smiling men and women.

All are out of work. Some have been out of work for as long as 10 years. But now all are as confident as Albert J. Howe, the man who operates the basement which in eight months has become the south side's fountain of employment.

The average employment agency is a glum, dour place. True to the legend over the gates of inferno, "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here," the average applicants are frightened, stilted, self-conscious. Not these. They grin.

Helps Hundreds Find Jobs.

Since April when Howe, as chairman of the back to work movement of the 15th ward division of the Illinois Republican Service Men's league, organized the basement and its free jobs, 1,500 unemployed have straggled in. Fully a fourth of these have been on WPA.

Here lies the anomaly. Those on WPA and fully half of the generally unemployed already had applied many times to the Illinois State Employment Service for jobs. None found them. But Howe has found jobs for 800.

One was a man of 71. The WPA discarded him as too old. Howe found him work as a die cutter. Another was a man of 62, out of work 10 years. Howe found him work as a night watchman. Another, 29, had a fingerless left hand; he now has a job making boxes. Another was a one armed man, another a deaf boy. All now are at work.

Stories of Job Hunters.

The tales many told as they awaited interviews with gray haired, sweet faced Howe all narrowed down to one. It is a tale of the Illinois State Employment service and the work it never found for them.

"I've been registered at that place six months," and egg inspector said. "How many times did they call me for work? Not once."

"I registered there Aug. 16, 1939," a painter said. "See?" and he hauled out his registration book. "I went back every month. What did I get? Nothing."

"I've been registered four years and I never got a call," a stock clerk said. "Mr. Howe here just told me some places to go and I've never even been in here before."

"I don't know whether they tried to get me a job or not," a trucker said. "But I never got nothing from them. Mr. Howe already got me one three day job."

"I reported there every month," a shipping clerk said. "They never sent me out on anything. Said I had bum legs. I can sit and work, can't I?"

"Just two years is all I've been going there," a bindery foreman said. "I was there every week for 40 weeks. They never sent me out on a single interview. They said only domestic help was needed. I said, 'Well, try me on that.' But they never did."

Howe says it is all quite strange. He has no trouble finding jobs. More than 300 manufacturers are coöperating with him. "As far as jobs go," he said, "we can always get jobs." Moreover, he says, given enough help he could "handle all the unemployed from 12th street to the steel mills."

IRAN'S FORMER SHAH ARRIVES AT BRITISH INDIAN OCEAN ISLAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The former shah [king] of Iran, Riza Khan Pahlevi, has just arrived in Mauritius, a British colony in the Indian ocean, and the governer there has been instructed by the British government "that his majesty should receive every consideration during his stay," it was officially announced tonight.

Arrow locates Mauritius.

Mauritius is a small island not far from Madagascar in the Mascarenhas group and is near Reunion, where the French exiled the Riffian chieftain, Abd-el-Krim, and his entourage following his overthrow by the combined French and Spanish forces in 1925.

The reason for "his imperial majesty, the former shah of Iran," landing at Mauritius was explained as due to the "war situation."

GERMANS START MOVING 20,000 JEWS TO POLAND

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP).—Up to 20,000 Jews from Berlin and the Rhineland are to be transferred to the general government of Poland soon, it was learned tonight.

The contingent from the Rhineland arrived in Berlin today after being given periods of from 10 minutes to three hours to prepare for the trip.

They were permitted to take what they could pack in suitcases, plus 100 marks [about $40] each in cash.

BOY DIES OF MENINGITIS.

Francis Daly, 12 years old, of 538 West 44th street, died at the Municipal Contagious Disease hospital last night of pneumoccic meningitis, which supposedly resulted from striking his head on an iron pipe in falling from a tree last month.

Chinese Enlist in British Army; May Recruit More

HONGKONG, Oct. 17.—Military authorities disclosed today that 50 Chinese had enlisted to serve as regular British infantry men. If the experiment proves successful, it was said, more would be recruited. A Chinese engineer corps already is in existence as part of the British forces, and recently Chinese were recruited as artillerymen.

TORPEDO ATTACK ON U. S. WARSHIP STIRS CONGRESS

House Passes Bill to Arm Merchant Ships.

bill was filibustered to death in the senate but President Woodrow Wilson decided he had authority to order the ships to be armed. He issued the order on March 14. Twenty-three days later, during which time 63 American lives were lost in submarine attacks upon merchant ships, congress declared a state of war to exist between this nation and Germany.

Points to 1917 Experience.

"We are refusing to learn thru the bitter and tragic experience of 1917," Rep. Dewey Short [R., Mo.] told the house. "No armed merchantman ever sank an enemy vessel but 35 of our armed ships were sunk. We are sending these vessels with popguns forth on suicide sailings.

"We have just heard that an American destroyer has been damaged by submarine attack. What chance would an armed merchantman have? This is a bill simply to create the incident which will plunge us into war."

Democratic Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts and Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], ranking minority member of the foreign affairs committee, clashed over the Kearny incident.

"The Kearny was not in neutral waters," noted Fish, "but in the war zone. Whenever we send our ships, with shooting orders, into belligerent zones, we run the danger of such an attack as this."

McCormack Belligerent.

McCormack shouted that he was amazed at this observation by Fish.

"It doesn't matter what zone the destroyer was in!" he bellowed. "When the time comes that American naval vessels cannot go into the Nazi war zones, then we might as well pull down the American flag!

"An American destroyer has been torpedoed! There is no doubt in my mind about who fired the torpedo. The Nazi government has said to the world that neutral vessels enter at their peril an ocean stretch 1,600 by 1,500 miles in area. No country can bar the American flag from flying anywhere on the seven seas!"

Argue Freedom of Seas.

The house was in an uproar as Fish took the floor again. When Rep. John D. Dingell [D., Mich.], attempted to heckle Fish, he was shouted down by loud cries of "regular order!"

"Suppose that American destroyer was in the Baltic ocean, off Gibraltar or off the British coast," Fish said. "Shall we still claim the rights of neutrality? If you send our warships looking for submarines off the British coast, you are going to run into trouble. That is an entirely different matter from keeping our supply lines open between the United States and Iceland."

"We've heard loud talk about the freedom of the seas," chimed in Rep. Short. "Is the British blockade of food for starving millions in the conquered countries—is that freedom of the seas?"

"There's no such thing as freedom of the seas today," replied Fish.

Senators Voice Fears.

The senate was not in session today but a number of senators voiced their fears of the outcome of the Kearny incident.

"It is to be expected that this incident will add somewhat to the feeling that we are being attacked by Germany," said Sen. Nye. "The force of these incidents, however, can well be dissipated by knowledge of the extent to which we have gone, under the leadership of the President, to invite these incidents.

"The President did not tell us the whole story when he revealed the encounter of the Greer with a German submarine. It is known now that for more than three hours the Greer pursued this submarine and that the submarine fired upon the Greer only after the explosions resulting from the bombs dropped by a British airplane.

Says We Invite Trouble.

"These incidents involving the Greer and the Kearny are incidents very largely of our own making and our own inviting. We cannot order our ships to shoot to destroy the vessels of certain belligerent nations and hope at the same time that the ships of those nations are not going to seek to destroy our ships.

"I hope the American people are going to deal realistically with these incidents and realize that at least one of them has been provoked. It still is America's duty to stay out of this war. But it will grow increasingly difficult to stay out if we proceed to a course that is bound to invite incidents."

Taking the opposite viewpoint was Sen. Pepper, outspoken advocate of an immediate declaration of war upon Germany.

"This is one more in a chain of piratical assaults upon American vessels which should spur the United States to redouble our purpose to clear the oceans of this kind of interference," he asserted. "It is the job of our navy to pay back these assaults with two sinkings for each assault."

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican interventionist, declared the attack "indicates Hitler's defiance of our policy of clearing the seas and it is just one more act that further complicates an already complicated situation."

Calls Incident Inevitable.

"If we send our destroyers out hunting for submarines," said Sen. George D. Aiken [R., Vt.], "we can expect to have them shot at."

"It was inevitable in view of the President's order to the navy to shoot on sight," commented Rep. George J. Bates [R., Mass.], member of the naval affairs committee. But Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, voicing the administration's stand, asserted:

"This justifies the statements that many of us have been making, that the United States is in danger of attack."

No Comment in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 17 (AP).—German spokesmen said late tonight they were unable to comment on the torpedoing of the United States destroyer Kearny. Earlier, authorized quarters explained they had nothing to say because initial American reports of the affair gave no indication that a German warcraft was involved. It was pointed out, furthermore, that German submarines do not keep in constant touch with their bases and usually return to their stations before making reports.

2 FROM CHICAGO ABOARD KEARNY, U. S. ANNOUNCES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 [Special].—Two of the complement of the U. S. Destroyer Kearny, torpedoed off Iceland this morning, were Chicagoans, the navy reported today. They were Ensign Roy Albert Norelius, 22 years old, whose parents live at 7417 Colfax avenue, and Samuel J. Wells, 2054 Washington boulevard, member of the crew whose rating was not given. The ensign's father, Albert, a carpenter, said his son was a member of the first graduating class of the midshipman's school on the Chicago campus of Northwestern university.

Rescue 29 British Seamen in Life Boats 14 Days

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 17 [Delayed]—(AP).—Guided by a British patrol plane, the Icelandic trawler "Surprise" today rescued 29 British seamen who had spent 14 days in a lifeboat, after their merchant ship was torpedoed. Of the ship's crew of 60, one is known dead and 30 are missing. Six of the survivors are in a hospital and the others are at Patreksfjord, on Iceland's west coast. They said the missing men were in a boat better equipped than their own.

TOJO HEADS NEW MILITARY MINDED TOKIO CABINET

Strong Policy Toward U.S. Believed Aim.

TOKIO, Oct. 18 [Saturday] (AP).—Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo formed and swore in a new Japanese cabinet today with himself as premier, war minister, and home minister, and Shigenori Togo, former ambassador to both Berlin and Moscow, as foreign minister of a govment reportedly pledged to pursue a strong policy toward the United States and other foreign powers.

Eiki Tojo.

Gen. Tojo thus became one of the most powerful premiers in the recent history of Japan, with a firm grip on the internal situation thru the home office and an equally strong grasp on foreign policies thru the war ministry.

Personnel of the cabinet succeeding that of Prince Fumimaro Konoe, which resigned Thursday, was disclosed only with the installation ceremonies in the presence of the emperor at the palace this afternoon.

Admiral Gets Post.

Gen. Tojo, an admirer of the German military method, chose as his navy minister Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, commandant of the Yokosuka navy yard and former commander of the fleet in China waters.

Other members of the cabinet, which informed sources said was determined to strengthen the national wartime structure, included:

Vice Adm. Ken Terashima, railways and communications; Okinobu Kaya, finance, a post he held in an earlier Konoe cabinet; Shinsuke Kishi, commerce and industry, a promotion from vice minister of that department; Lieut. Gen. Chikahiko Koizumi, welfare; Michiyo Iawmura, justice; Hiroya Ino, agriculture; Kunikhiko Iashida, education, and Maj. Gen. Teiichi Suzuki, minister without portfolio.

The last five are holdovers in the same positions they had under Konoe, whose government quit in admitted inability to solve grave problems of policy.

A Heel-Clicking Régime.

Eiichi Mori was named chief of the legislative bureau and Masayuki Tani, a career diplomat who has served in Germany, the United States, China and many other countries, was chosen president of the board of information.

The new cabinet, with Tojo himself holding three of the key portfolios and with a strong military flavor pervading other offices, was portrayed as a firm, leather-booted, heel-clicking régime, determined to enforce conclusion of the China incident, even as reports of relations with the United States were viewed with foreboding.

See Axis Victory.

Observers felt that appointment of this 56 year old cigar-chewing soldier was a victory for the axis, which has been pressing for more active Japanese support in the European war.

Domei, news agency with high official connections, said that Tojo had been assured the support of Gen. Gen Sugiyama, chief of staff of the imperial army, and Gen. Otozo Yamada, commander in chief of the home forces.

Sugiyama and Yamada, along with Gen. Kenji Doihara, the famous empire builder-manipulator, consulted with Tojo and the commander in chief of Japan's huge army in China, Gen. Shunroku Hata, was reliably reported to have reached Tokio by plane for consultation.

See Attack on Vladivostok.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 17 (AP).—Foreign military and naval observers here expressed the opinion today that there is now an increased likelihood of a Japanese attack on the soviet union's big far eastern port of Vladivostok by land from the north and west, despite the lateness of the season.

They doubted that Japan is strong enough to defeat the far eastern Red army or even to attempt a large scale offensive along the entire Siberia-Manchukuo border during the winter, but they believe Japan capable of capturing Vladivostok.

NEW DEAL GOVERNOR SIGNS WAGE-HOUR ACT FOR VIRGIN ISLANDS

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands, Oct. 17.—Charles Harwood, New Deal governor, today climaxed the social and economic revolution on these islands by signing a "wage and hour act" designed to give the underprivileged groups here social benefits similar to those of the United States. The bill provides the following rates of pay: Clerks, 15 cents an hour; unskilled workers, 20 cents; semi-skilled, 30 cents, and skilled, 40 cents. It also establishes a 48 hour week.

When the bill was presented to the governor, local business men protested on the ground it would spell economic ruin and force many to close shop. Political groups, however, rallied to the cause of the workers, finally marching upon the government house, with leaders clamoring for executive approval of the bill.

Today legislative leaders who fought a long and bitter fight to obtain passage of the legislation attended Harwood's signing of the document, while thousands voiced their approval. The bill will become operative in 30 days.

Mission 'Surprised' China's Finance Plight Isn't Worse

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 17 (AP).—The United States-British financial-economic mission to China, headed by Merle Cochrane and Sir Otto E. Niemeyer, holding its first press conference today, expressed surprise that China's situation is not more difficult "considering what the country has been thru." Members said they had come in a purely advisory capacity "to apply to the problems here the experience gained in Europe and elsewhere."

NEW DEAL GOAL COLLECTIVISM, LANDON WARNS

Plight of Little Business Laid to Schemers.

Kansas City, Kas., Oct. 17 [Special].—Alf M. Landon, Republican Presidential nominee in 1936 and former governor of Kansas, declared in a speech tonight that under the "smoke screen" of national armament, a little group of New Dealers is attempting to establish a collective state in America.

"The plight of the small business man in this country is partly because this little but influential group of New Dealers believe his day is past," Landon said. "They say that he is an economic anachronism, like the livery stable. While saying this they are working hand in hand with big business to make their words a reality."

Landon spoke before the 2d District Women's Republican club, and warned its members that in the present "menacing" situation, "the dangerous idea that any one who differs with Mr. Roosevelt on anything is indulging in sniping criticism, is being carefully promulgated by the Democratic national committee."

Urges Relentless Campaign.

"If we are to preserve the republic at home," he continued, "some one must carry on an unending and relentless campaign, to preserve American basic principles in our government itself, and also, against the failure of our national defense program. We must not let the cry of 'No criticism of the President' conceal the pitiful and tragic failure adequately to equip the boys we have drafted from business, schools, and farms of this country.

"The one thing on which there is complete unity is the necessity for speeding up the production of military arms and military equipment. This is the job of the chief executive, and there is increasing opinion, almost to the point of unanimity, that he is falling down on his job.

"The alarming failure of our defense production can be charged to the President's unwillingness to deal candidly with the American people, and to delegate authority into experienced hands."

Warns of "Smoke Screen."

Former Gov. Landon reiterated his point that the "smoke screen" of national preparedness was being used to do away with the small businessman, and concentrate economic power in a few hands, and added:

"After that, they figure that it will be comparatively easy, using again the slogan, 'hate economic royalists,' to insure the permanent establishment of their ideas of a collective state—something like the Nazis did to Thyssen and his fellow industrialists.

"Big business fails to note the true reason the oil properties were confiscated in Mexico. That is, if the Mexican oil leases had not been based on huge concessions, and had been based on 80 acre and 160 acre tracts, owned by individual owners, as they are in this country, there would not have been the expropriation by the Mexican government.

Sees Private Monopolies.

"The answer that the New Dealers seek to our mechanized industrial civilization is big cartels, huge private monopolies, managed by the state. Then comes the inevitable appearance of the man on horseback, who always follows the elimination of the 80 acre farmer and the small business man.

"Out of this war, regardless of what our part in it may be, this little group of New Dealers hope to establish, beyond repeal, their collective state. It makes no difference to these New Dealers if men employed by small business are thrown out of work and compelled to rely on the cold comfort of public aid.

"This only increases the number dependent upon the state, and thus makes easier the establishment of the new world order. The New Dealers have been aided and abetted by some representatives of big business, who were thinking only of the immediate prosperity of their own companies. When I charged some of the dollar a year men with this last February, the President said I sounded like a columnist.

"But the distress of the small business man has grown steadily worse since then. He has received nothing but promises, so far. His difficulties in obtaining material have just begun to manifest themselves. Big business should be compelled to distribute fairly its supplies of material, which superior financial resources enable it to accumulate."

"In a period of vital emergency, when all our efforts and all our thoughts should be centered on defense preparation, the President chooses to provoke political controversy by a series of magazine articles.

"In my judgment, he is not merely raking up old quarrels. He is much too smart a politician to do that at this time, just for the sake of his place in history. The President knows that despite his promises to the people, we are facing a lowering standard of living.

Resort to Old Tricks.

"Therefore, he must resort to his old tactics of stirring hate, stirring group against group, linking the fight for a New Deal with a new world order, in order to hold his supporters. The President, the smartest politician of all, is uneasy because too many of his erstwhile critics are supporting him now.

"The attempt to turn the latent desire in the breast of every American for national unity and coöperation into a 'hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil' of Franklin Delano Roosevelt is a menacing threat to the United States.

"The President, step by step—thru one subterfuge after another—has cut our ship of state from its moorings of early neutrality, and now we find ourselves in the middle of a Niagara, with the roar of the falls of war sounding ever louder in our ears.

"Over eight years of 'slick' leadership is destroying the confidence in political leaders essential to popular government."

CONFEDERATION OF U. S.-BRITAIN URGED BY EDITOR

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP).—One hundred twenty-five members of the Illinois State Press association heard William J. McCulloch, publisher of the Hamilton, Ont., Spectator, advocate tonight the confederation of the United States and the British empire.

McCulloch outlined Canada's war effort and denied an America First committee charge that Canadian boys refused to do what American boys are conscripted to do.

"All Canadians from 21 to 24 years of age are being called into service for the duration of the war," he said.

Canada did not have to enter the war, the publisher said, but chose to do so and even asked King George VI. to declare war for Canada.

"Enlistment of men in this war," he reported, "is higher than the conscription in the first World war."

Rags in School Closet Start Blaze; Loss $1,000

Birthday for Linda

Linda Darnell cutting 18th birthday cake in Hollywood.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 17 (AP).—Linda Darnell's 18. That means a lot more to the Dallas born screen beauty than it does to most girls. For no longer does Linda have to conform to four hours of shooting and four hours of study a day at 20th Century-Fox studio; punch a time clock to record her movements around the lot, and have a welfare worker on the set of "Rise and Shine," in which she's playing a college cheer leader. Now Linda, 18 yesterday, is her own boss—so far as California is concerned.

RUSH TRAINING OF OFFICERS AS ARMY EXPANDS

Course Slashed from 10 Months to 9 Weeks.

This is the first of a series of articles by Capt. Corpening who is making a tour of the several army service schools.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 17.—The newly expanded army's need for officers is so great that the general staff and command school here now is grinding them out in nine week courses despite the admission of school executives that competent staff officers could not possibly be produced in that short time.

The courses formerly extended over 10 months, but they have been shortened and streamlined to give the greatest number of students as much of a smattering of army staff duties as possible in the least time.

Even under this highly speeded program, which has been in effect since Nov. 1, 1940, another full year will be required for the school to produce enough of these nine week officers to man the general staff of the vast new army.

Strive for Practical Course.

Gen. Horace H. Fuller, post commandant of Fort Leavenworth and head of the school since July 1, commented that school executives are endeavoring to avoid becoming too academic in the courses, adding: "It is our aim to make the army as practical as possible."

The principal change made in the school curriculum is that in order to give staff training little time is given to command training. Also passé are the requirements that students study all departments of general staff and historical and general education subjects. Gone, too, is the requisite that they have a well grounded general knowledge of all weapons.

Now the students have three weeks of general instruction in staff work and weapons. They are then assigned to study the particular duties of one of the four general staff departments which occupies the balance of their time in school. The four departments are G-1 personnel and administration, G-2 intelligence, G-3 training and operations, and G-4 supply.

Average 360 Students to Class.

Classes also are larger now, averaging about 360 students as compared with 240 in the old courses. The number of instructors have been increased from 45 to 60. The average age of present classes is 38 years, the youngest member being 24 and the oldest 57. The student officers wanted most are those in their early 30s in the captain or major grades.

Study and class periods are from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 5 p. m. There is no school work Saturday afternoon nor Sunday. The school term is so short that no interim examinations are held. Those failing to pass just do not graduate.

A lack of instructors and adequate school facilities prevent the enlargement of the student membership. Because of the scarcity of classroom space the student body is divided into two groups which necessitates the repetition of all lectures and group class work.

Authorities in Special Field.

The method of instruction is primarily by lecture courses presented by competent authorities in their special field. The courses cover various phases of the general staff departments. Between lectures the students are given specific problems coverd by talks. Maps and government manuals are their textbooks.

A schedule listing classes, meeting rooms, designations, and various events for the coming week is distributed among the students each Thursday. Senior officers keep tab on all events by turning office walls into bulletin boards.

An attempt is made to keep up to date on all phases of modern warfare. Latest reports from military attachés abroad keep the school staff posted at all times on new methods being developed in other countries.

The course is open to any officer in the army, but the war department usually selects men whose records or recommendations indicate they are specially qualified for some particular branch of military necessity. The department of operations gets most of the graduates, with the supply department ranking second.

PUSH PLAN TO AID EX-DRAFTEES IN OBTAINING WORK

Gen. A. F. Lorenzen, chairman of the committee formed by State Treasurer Warren Wright to aid in finding jobs for conscripts released from military service, said yesterday that his group will ask coöperation from Paul Armstrong, state selective service director, in locating men who leave the army and navy without prospects of work.

Wright was asked by the committee to confer with Armstrong in Springfield tomorrow and ask that he instruct draft boards to furnish the committee with names of men who report that they need work.

"Industries are coöperating well with us," Lorenzen said, "and have listed several hundred jobs. We appreciate their help and are doing all we can to help conscripts as fast as they come to us."

50,000 Pounds of Dynamite Explode in Mine Building

Kellogg, Idaho, Oct. 17 (AP).—Fifty thousand pounds of dynamite exploded today in the powder house of the Sunshine Mining company, causing damage estimated at $20,000. There were no casualties. The blast wrecked a warehouse, demolished the residence of a company employé 200 yards from the powder house, damaged several freight cars, and tore up nearby railroad tracks.

CHICAGOAN RAPS NEW DEALER FOR EVADING QUERY

Still Asks if 4 Freedoms Include Negroes.

Former State Senator William E. King of Illinois wrote a second letter yesterday to Senator Lister Hill [D., Ala.].

This communication was in comment upon a Washington interview in which the Alabaman said he would not read an earlier letter addressed to him by the Chicago Negro leader, Hill also said he made it a practice not to answer letters coming from outside Alabama.

King originally was prompted to write Hill because the latter spoke on the radio for the national administration's foreign policy. King asked whether the four freedoms of the administration cover Negroes and whether Hill believed in equal rights for all men.

May Reach Wastebaskets.

In his second letter, King said to Hill:

"I note with some degree of consternation that you say you limit your correspondence to the narrow confines of a single state.

"You were picked [at the Democratic national convention] to voice for the first time the proposal that the unwritten law against a third term be flouted and overridden.

"Were you then appealing merely to Alabama? Or were you pleading with the Democratic party of the whole country and, as you did last Sunday night in the American Forum of the Air, addressing yourself to the whole nation?

"Is it your attitude that you, as a senator of the United States, have no concern with questions that originate outside the state of Alabama?

"Does your American flag carry only one star?

"Setting aside for a moment, if you please, the responsibilities of a senator of the United States, do you, as an American, find it possible to square with the principles of the four freedoms the inhuman treatment of millions of true American citizens in the south including Alabama?

Asks About "Four Freedoms."

"Do you officially, as one of the lawmakers of our country, condone, sanction, and approve ruthless discrimination against Negroes in the army and navy? Or do you maintain that the four freedoms should prevail 'everywhere in the world'—except for the Negro?"

"May I express the hope that in ruling out all appeals to you except those from within your own state, you may not subject yourself too much to influences hooded in midnight secrecy which already have stained the history of Alabama?"

U. S. MUST PAY $774,187 FOR THE CURTISS AIRPORT

Original Offer Is Too Low, Says Jury.

A jury in the federal court of Judge William J. Campbell yesterday fixed the value of the former Curtiss-Wright airport, Glenview, at $774,187. The jury returned a sealed verdict after deliberating more than 15 hours in the government's condemnation suit.

The 319 acre airport, now known as the United States naval reserve aviation base, is being used for training naval reserve flying officers. Last year the government deposited with the court a check for $577,295 as its offer in the first step to acquire the field.

Compromise Seen.

The verdict represents a compromise between the government offer and the price sought by the Curtiss-Wright corporation, owners of the airport before it was taken over by the navy. The corporation valued the airport at more than a million dollars.

Attorneys for the government and the company said there would be no appeal from the verdict tho Clarence Beatty Jr., assistant United States district attorney, said final decision of appeal would rest with the attorney general.

High Cost Project.

Attorneys Edward R. Adams and Kenneth E. Walser said the cost of laying out the airport in 1927 and 1928 amounted to $1,600,000. The land alone cost $597,000, they said.

During a week of testimony, the property was variously valued as high as $1,266,200 by an expert for the company and as low as $518,000 by a government witness. Since acquiring the field the government has spent $50,000 on improvements.

STUDENT RITES MARK DEATH OF RAVEN SHERMAN

Symbolic of the widespread mourning thruout America over the death of Raven Sherman, a platinum blonde, was a simple memorial conducted yesterday on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Miss Sherman, intimately known and beloved by from 40 to 50 million odd men, young men, women and children, died Thursday in the interior of China. She had been hurled from a speeding truck by Capt. Judas, a noted ruffian and border scoundrel, and altho two handsome young adventurers, Dude Hennick and Terry Lee, sought manfully to assuage her injuries, she died in their arms.

In so doing, she was one of the few characters in the history of comic strips in America to die, these figments of imagination and facile pens usually being considered deathless. No one in all America ever had believed Milton Caniff, creator of the strip, "Terry and the Pirates," in which she appeared, would let her die. But he did.

Local services were conducted by students of Loyola university beside the quiet waters of Lake Michigan. One mourner appeared shrouded in a sheet. The others merely stood, heads bowed and facing the east, to experience a moment of that eternal quiet to which Raven Sherman has gone.

Note to radio listeners: Miss Sherman's body was buried yesterday, but her spirit and voice still appear five days a week over W-G-N at 5:15 p. m.

MUSIC SOOTHES MOTHER WHILE CHILD IS BORN

A tiny, dark haired young woman lay upon an operating table in Henrotin hospital yesterday, singing along to a concert of frequency modulated radio music while she was delivered thru a Caesarean section of a five pound son, while under a local anaesthetic.

The young mother, who weighs less than 100 pounds, is Mrs. Pauline Siegal, wife of Allen Siegal of 1515 South Kolin avenue. Dr. Edward L. Cornell performed the operation, using the music to distract the patient's mind.

"All women should have their babies born to music," said Mrs. Siegal a few minutes after the operation was completed. "The whole thing was a symphony," she said smilingly, "the baby—the music—everything was just wonderful."

The baby was born to the melody of Tschaikowsky's "Concerto in B Flat Minor," one of the selections Mrs. Siegal requested. Ten minutes after the operation was completed Mrs. Siegal was in her room and ready for breakfast.

NAME KANKAKEE MAYOR TO HEAD MUNICIPAL GROUP

Mayor Albert F. Hattenburg of Kankakee was elected president of the Illinois Municipal league yesterday, as the organization closed its 28th annual convention in the Congress hotel. He succeeds Mayor Charles E. Lee of Decatur. Mayor Ray E. Klingbiel of East Moline is first vice president and in line to succeed to the presidency next year.

One of the final actions of the convention was to pledge full coöperation of city officials with national armament work. A resolution was adopted urging the state to speed construction of a grade separation on route 42 in North Chicago, which has heavy traffic from Fort Sheridan and the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Action was deferred on Mayor Klingbiel's proposal that the league fight a law passed earlier this year by the legislature providing that fines from traffic violators go to county treasurers. His city, East Moline, needs these funds for street patrols, Klingsbiel said.

SCHOOL SEASON ADDS 866 TO STATE'S PAY ROLLS IN SEPTEMBER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP).—An increase of 866 in the number of state employés in September—26,932 compared with 26,060 for August—was reported today by the office of State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder.

Officials in the auditor's office said the pay roll gain was attributable largely to the opening last month of the University of Illinois and the State Teachers' colleges.

The university pay roll showed 2,654 employés in September compared with 2,090 in August. That of the department of registration and education, including the five normal colleges, jumped from 1,276 employés in August to 1,576 in September.

The biggest employment drop of any state department or agency was reported by the Illinois public aid commission, whose staff for administration of relief fell from 594 in August to 371 for September.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL FOR SEIZURE OF U. S. PROPERTY

Requisitions for Arms Program Provided.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt has signed into law legislation which would authorize him to requisition supplies, equipment, and machinery needed for the national arms program. The White House announced the action today.

In order to requisition material the President must first determine there is an immediate need which will "not admit of delay or resort to any other source of supply."

The law also requires a finding that "all other means of obtaining the use of the property for the defense of the United States upon fair and reasonable terms have been exhausted."

"Fair" Compensation Required.

The government would be required to pay compensation based on "fair market value" of the property.

If the owner declined to accept the compensation offered he would be paid 50 per cent of the amount offered and would be permitted to sue the government for an additional amount.

When the President determines that requisitioned property is no longer needed for the preparedness of the United States, it must be returned upon payment of fair value. In any event, property must be returned by Dec. 31, 1943, if the owner desires it and pays a "fair price."

Tool Requisition Provided.

The law would permit requisition of "any military or naval equipment, supplies, or munitions, or component parts thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials necessary for the manufacture, servicing or operation of such equipment, supplies or munitions" needed for this country arms program.

The measure excludes from its terms authority to requisition or require registration of firearms possessed by any individual for his personal protection or sport or to infringe on the constitutional right of an individual to keep and bear arms.

It also would not authorize "the requisitioning of any machinery or equipment which is in actual use in connection with any operating factory or business and which is necessary to the operation of such factory or business."

INDIANS CALL OFF STRIKE TO WEIGH PAY RAISE OFFER

Shawano, Wis., Oct. 17 [Special].—General Manager Harold E. Holman of the Menominee Indian mills at Neopit, 18 miles north of here, late this afternoon announced that William Zimmerman, assistant commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington, had authorized him to offer a 3 cents an hour raise to all hourly employés. Holman said Zimmerman promised to send a representative to Neopit next week to determine whether any further wage increase is warranted and to recommend appropriate action.

Gordon Dickie, president of the Menominee Indian mills local employé association, an independent union, immediately postponed the strike scheduled for today and called a meeting to discuss the proposed raise, which would be effective Oct. 15. He expected concurrence with the government proposal and union delay of a threatened strike. The union had asked a 10 cents an hour increase, effective a month earlier.

A strike by the Indian employés would be in effect a strike against themselves as the million dollar mills are owned coöperatively by the Menominees, altho under the supervision of the bureau of Indian affairs of the department of interior.

RULES COUNTIES MUST PAY COST OF REGISTRATION

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP).—Attorney General George F. Barrett held today that expenses of administering Illinois' new state-wide permanent voters' registration law must be paid entirely out of county funds.

In the opinion written for State's Attorney Harold C. Jones of Douglas county, Barrett said the appropriation must come from general county funds within present tax limitations.

The registration act is to be effective at the 1942 state and congressional elections, with registration to begin next June in all downstate territory not now under jurisdiction of election commissions.

FLAMES DAMAGE TAR PLANT.

Fire which caused clouds of heavy smoke late yesterday destroyed a large quantity of tar in the 100 foot tar cooking tank in the plant of the Barrett company, makers of tar products, at 2800 South Sacramento avenue. A 3-11 alarm was sounded.

Judicial Candidates

(This is another in a series of sketches of the nominees for the Cook county judicial election of Nov. 4. They are being published in the order in which the candidates' names will appear on the ballot.)

REPUBLICAN.

Attorney Elmer M. Walsh, south side civic leader, has been assigned twelfth place on the Republican Superior court ticket for the Nov. 4 election. Born and educated in Chicago, Walsh is 43 years old and is making his second try for public office, having been an unsuccessful candidate for the Municipal court in 1932.

Elmer M. Walsh.

Walsh attended Calumet High school, took special studies at the University of Chicago for three years, and was graduated from the Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1924. He has since been in practice here save for a period of two years, from 1918 to 1920, when he was employed in the bureau of railroad valuation of the Interstate Commerce commission.

When Walsh ran for the city bench, the Chicago Bar association gave him an exceptional indorsement altho he was then only 34, saying that his good ability, temperament, and fine character qualified him for election.

Walsh has been president and now is attorney for the South Bryn Mawr Improvement association.

DEMOCRATIC.

Judge Francis B. Allegretti, 12th on the Democratic Superior court slate for the Nov. 4 election, was born in Trivigno, Italy, 60 year ago, but is a citizen by virtue of his father's naturalization. He was brought to the United States when 5 years old and all his education was obtained here.

F. B. Allegretti.

The judge attended the Northwest Division High school and studied law at the Hamilton College of Law, being admitted to the bar in 1914. He was a bank clerk for two years after his admission, and for 10 years thereafter was a truant officer for the board of education.

Allegretti was elected to the Municipal court in 1924, and to a full term in 1928, spending considerable time in the Boys' court. His service there was noted favorably by the Chicago Bar association when the judge was a candidate for the Superior bench, but the association added that it did not think him qualified for elevation. He was elected, nevertheless, to fill a three year vacancy, and was given a full term in 1935.

BROOKS' MEETING PICKETS REBUKED BY AFL UNIONS

Granite City, Ill., Oct. 17 [Special].—The Tri-Cities trades council, an organization of AFL unions in Granite City, Madison, and Venice, today rebuked 15 pickets who stationed themselves with signs outside the community high school here Wednesday night, when Sen. C. Wayland Brooks was the principal speaker.

Brooks disarmed the pickets with handshakes and smiles and his meeting proceeded without any disturbances. Today Elmer Barnett, secretary of the trades council, issued the following statement:

"It has been called to our attention that a certain group under the name of organized labor, but presumably under a communistic leadership, picketed Sen. Brooks' meeting at the high school Wednesday night. The Tri-Cities central trades council went on record as being opposed to these tactics of intimidation and the suppression of free speech and wants the public to know that no labor organization affiliated with the council had any part in the picketing of the meeting."

Kentucky Quads Grow Like Weeds, Says Doctor

Leitchfield, Ky., Oct. 17 (AP).—The Porter Lashley quadruplets—three girls and a boy—are growing like weeds these days and are in excellent health, says their doctor. The quads, born last Feb. 23 at the Lashley farm home, have gained from 11 to 14 pounds.

Immediately after their birth, they were taken 60 miles by ambulance to the Louisville city hospital. Later they were transferred to a private hospital in Louisville and were brought to Leitchfield Aug. 30. They now live in an air conditioned nursery which is part of a new house built for the Lashleys by a milk company.

CALL METHODIST YOUTH TO PEACE RALLIES NOV. 11

Two Million Urged to Join in Demonstrations.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

A call for Armistice day demonstrations against war by two million youths of 43,000 Methodist churches across the country was announced yesterday by Herman Will Jr., chairman of the youth commission of the Methodist church, 740 Rush street.

The call was issued by the National Conference of Methodist Youth Fellowship, which was recently organized under the guidance of the church's youth commission at Baldwin, Kan. The conference embraces all youth organizations of the former Methodist Episcopal churches of the north and south, and the former Methodist Protestant church. The Armistice day peace demonstration is the first nation wide event called by the new national organization.

Let Strong Voice Be Raised.

"On Armistice day let the strong voice of Christian youth be raised, while there is yet time, for peace—not for selfish reasons, but because we believe that only a United States at peace can make its highest contributions to the welfare of mankind.

"Arrange a special peace rally on a local church basis—perhaps interdenominationally. Include worship, a well informed speaker or dramatic presentation, and the passage of a strong resolution to be sent by your group to the President, your congressman, and the press. In addition, secure a flood of letters to your governmental representatives.

Only Congress Can Vote War.

"In a democracy we must speak. Only congress can vote a declaration of war. It is our democratic and Christian obligation to express our convictions to congress. The margin which separates us from war is narrow. That very fact must increase our determination and our activity for peace."

The youths are asked to fast one meal on Armistice day and give the amount thus saved for the support of conscientious objectors in CO camps thruout the nation.

COURTS CALLED NATION'S FRONT LINE OF DEFENSE

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP).—Roscoe Pullman, president of the Southern Illinois Normal university, tonight praised the courts as "the front line of our defense against the horrible things that have happened to countries like Germany, Italy, and Russia."

Speaking before the Illinois Circuit Judges association, he said:

"Only in countries where there are long traditions of rule by law and where there are just and independent courts, can there be any freedom or any security against tyranny by officials of the government.

"There is no law, as we understand it here, in Germany or in soviet Russia, where courts are entirely subservient to the interests of the gang which happens to be in power."

SPY TRIAL BARES PLOT TO REVEAL SAILING DATES

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Five days before the American Steamship Robin Moor sailed from New York on her last voyage, Leo Waalen, one of 15 men now on trial for espionage conspiracy, submitted her sailing date and destination for radio transmission to Germany, FBI Agent William Friedeman testified today.

The Robin Moor was sunk on May 28 halfway between Brazil and South Africa; and some of the eight passengers and 38 seamen who were rescued said they believed the trailing German submarine had advance information on the Robin Moor's route.

On this evidence the govenment rested its six weeks old case.

RULES EVANSTON MAN STILL WED TO FIRST WIFE

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in the Circuit court yesterday ruled that George T. Coonley, Evanston mortgage banker and real estate operator, who is living with his third wife, Mrs. Catherine Koch Coonley, at 1110 Grove avenue, Evanston, still is married to his first wife, Mrs. Frances W. Coonley, 47, of Racine, Wis., who is suing for separate maintenance.

Coonley had asked that her suit be dismissed because a court in Jackson county, Missouri, granted a divorce to him in 1920. The court ruled the Missouri divorce invalid, as the Missouri Supreme court had done in 1922 in upholding his wife's nullification suit. Coonley married his first wife Dec. 23, 1915, and left her in October, 1919. In the next 16 years he sent $16,000 to her for the support of herself and their three children.

Coonley obtained the Missouri divorce on the ground of desertion. He then married Mrs. Myrtle Darrow Coonley, who divorced him in 1930. He married for the third time in 1931 and stopped the support payments when his youngest child became 18 years old. A hearing on the first wife's suit was set for Nov. 6.

HISTORIC DECLARATION OF AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY

No. 2—John Adams:

"Peace is made between Russia and the Porte, and the defensive treaty between England and Holland is expected to be soon signed. May the world continue at peace! But if it should not, I hope we shall have wisdom enough to keep ourselves out of any broil, as I am quite in sentiment with the Baron de Nolken, the Swedish ambassador at St. James's, who did me the honor to visit me, altho I had not visited him. 'Sir,' said he, 'I take it for granted that you will have sense enough to see us in Europe cut each other's throats with a philosophical tranquility.'"—To the President of Congress, Feb. 10, 1784.

GET THE BRITISH OUT OF ICELAND.

The American destroyer Kearny has been torpedoed while on patrol duty in the neighborhood of Iceland. The navy department announces that the crew suffered no casualties and that despite damage the ship was able to proceed under her own power. At this writing further details of the incident are lacking.

In the absence of these details it will be premature to assume that the Kearny was, like the U. S. S. Greer in the previous incident on Sept. 4, cooperating with British forces in hunting down and bombing a submarine, but this possibility cannot be wholly dismissed. The Greer, it was recently announced by the navy department, was obeying orders in the action which brought about the attack on her, and it is a proper assumption that the Kearny was operating under the same orders.

The nation can only thank God that none of the crew of the Kearny was called upon to furnish the blood upon which the war mongers have been depending to speed our entry into active warfare. Such an affair as this was inevitable from the moment Mr. Roosevelt undertook his convoying and shoot-on-sight policy in the North Atlantic. A little more patience and they will undoubtedly get the blood they are looking for, unless the country succeeds in restraining them from their insane course.

Hitler can be deprived of any excuse for interfering with American communications with Iceland if Mr. Roosevelt will take one simple step. That is to demand that the British armed forces be withdrawn from that island, and that complete control of its defense be turned over to the Americans, as Mr. Roosevelt said it would be when he first announced the landing of the American expeditionary force there.

When he made that announcement he gave as its primary purpose the relief of the British forces on the island for duty on more active fronts. But when Mr. Churchill gave out the same news in parliament he said the British forces would not be withdrawn for the time being. It is apparent that there was deceit somewhere. The question is whether Mr. Churchill deceived Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Roosevelt deceived the American people.

Our forces in Iceland are in an impossible position. We are not at war and the British are. Hitler has every excuse to attack the British troops there and none whatever to attack ours, but it is obvious that he cannot attack the one without the other, and in the event of such an attack our units would be engaged in the conflict.

Secretary Stimson still insists that the American forces are free agents under their own independent command. If this is true it is an unprecedented situation in military affairs, since custom has always dictated that joint forces of occupation shall be under the command of the senior officer present, who, in this instance, is British.

Mr. Stimson did not choose to deny the statement that the British censors are examining all the mail sent and received by the American forces. The American forces apparently are given only that portion of the news from their homeland which the British think they ought to have, and may send back to their families in this country only such information as the British want them to give. This is a humiliation to Americans.

Our secretary of war pleads that while the relief of the British troops in Iceland is to be completed as soon as practicable, it is not practicable now. Mr. Stimson's explanations, as given Sen. Vandenberg, are far from convincing. His excuse is that it is difficult to get troops for Iceland because it is forbidden by law to send conscripts or reserve officers out of the western hemisphere. While this seems to settle officially the hemispherical position of Iceland, it does no credit to Mr. Stimson's administration of the army.

If Mr. Roosevelt told him the same thing that he told the American public at the time of the original occupation of Iceland, he must have had an approximate idea of the number of troops necessary to hold it. If he sent the first complement knowing that it would be impossible to organize in a reasonable time forces necessary to furnish the occupation and completely relieve the British, he was a party to the deceit practised on the people of the nation.

His excuse, however, is dubious. The troops can be found—they must be found—and they must be sent to Iceland as quickly as possible. The present situation is an invitation to warfare on land and sea which Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Stimson may want but the American people don't. If Americans are in sole occupation of Iceland Hitler will have no excuse to interfere with traffic to the island.

THE PULPIT SPEAKS.

The virtual unanimity of the clergy on the wisdom of preserving the freedoms in this country by refusing to lose them either to a domestic dictatorship or on the battlefields of distant continents is significant. Without important dissent, a great body of men exercising a tremendous intellectual and spiritual leadership in American life has seen the war policy for the folly it is.

Within the last few days we have had declarations from the heads of the peace commission of the Methodist church, the Youth commission of the Methodist church, the Lutheran Synodical conference, and the Ministers' No War committee. We have seen the results of a ballot conducted among Catholic clergymen thrudut the United States. All of these join the spokesmen of almost every other creed and sect in telling the nation that both morality and interest will be advanced by keeping the peace.

To single out but one of these expressions, 91.5 per cent of more than 13,000 Catholic clergymen voted against engaging in a shooting war outside the western hemisphere, while 90.1 per cent opposed extension of American aid to the communistic Russian government.

The Catholic clergy represent a universal church, with interests in all lands and among all peoples. The church knows what it can expect from atheistic bolshevism, but it knows, too, that its clergy and its followers have been oppressed in Nazi Germany. Both there and elsewhere its lands and property have been confiscated or have run the risk of confiscation, and its clergy and parishioners are subject to maltreatment or martyrdom.

But the Catholic clergy in the United States have shown that their temporal allegiance is to their native country. Their vote was a vote for America.

THE RIGHT TO RIOT.

With the seizure of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. store in Highland Park, Mich., the CIO has extended its open insurrection to the state in which its beginnings were fostered by the paternalism of the New Deal. In a single operation the CIO has managed to flout the law, property rights, and the privileges of a presumably free citizenry.

The United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employés [CIO] is on strike at the store, but it was the United Automobile Workers of America which mobilized a thousand pickets and seized and held the store for 45 minutes. This lawless action occurred while 2,000 customers were in the store. They were trapped there. The CIO leader called the seizure a demonstration of sympathy and asserted, "This will indicate that Sears will have to recognize the rights of employés and conclude an agreement." Police called to the store said they could do nothing because they could not distinguish unionists from customers.

The only right asserted by the CIO was the right to riot. It is a right which the CIO habitually asserts. It demands and obtains immunity from the ordinary application of the community peace code and even from martial law. In Gary it has compelled the management of the largest steel plant to promise that the police will be called in only with the union's consent, which is never. In Alabama, when the National Guard was called out during a partial strike, the strike was made complete in order to enforce the demand that the Guard be demobilized.

The CIO right to riot and rebellion was first established in the automobile strikes at Detroit and Flint in the winter of 1937. The right was established with the benevolent encouragement of Gov. [now Mr. Justice] Murphy, then Mr. Roosevelt's satrap in Michigan. The birds have come home to roost. The state of Michigan has surrendered its sovereignty to the private army of the CIO. It may take a final civil war to reassert the government of the state.

UNITED FOR A FREE PRESS.

Rarely has the value of newspaper coöperation been better demonstrated than by the recent meeting in Chicago of the Inland Daily Press association. Its members devoted most of their time to the discussion of the impact on their business of priorities and probable shortages of supplies essential to publication.

It is very well to talk about the power of the press, and it is a real power, but the power is essentially the power of a group rather than of the individuals who compose it. The newspaper is never the first business in its own town, nor the second, nor the third. This is true whether one is considering THE TRIBUNE, the New York News, or one of the hundreds of dailies in the cities of 10,000 to 50,000 thruout the country.

The vast majority of newspaper publishers are small business men, subject to the same trials and disasters which small business men face thruout the country today, and for that reason also subject to governmental coercion unless they are prepared to withstand it as a group rather than as individuals. Most papers buy newsprint by the carload or less, and depend upon the manufacturers and railroads to keep their presses rolling.

Totalitarian government is just as much an enemy of the small independent newspaper as the small independent newspaper is of totalitarian government. The power of economic life and death has been seized in Washington by men whose allegiance to a free economic system is, to say the least, dubious. It is true that the newspapers have been given assurance that they are regarded as an essential industry and that they are to be given priorities to insure the supplies necessary for their publication.

These fair words do not obscure the fact that it would be easy to deny transportation facilities for newsprint, or type metal, or some other essential requirement to a little newspaper whose editor refused to open his columns to panegyrics on the insanity now reigning in Washington. Against such an eventuality, which is by no means a fanciful one, the newspapers' best defense is group action made possible by such meetings as the recent one in this city.

Editorial of the Day

REMINDER BY THE PRESIDENT.

[New York Sun.]

In the President's article in the current issue of Collier's he says, with respect to use of federal troops in the North American Aviation corporation strike, that responsible labor leaders "all realized that this was not a bona fide labor dispute but a form of alien sabotage, inspired and directed by communist forces, interested not in the advancement of labor but in the defeat and overthrow of the United States." There is no profit in contrasting these words with the words employed by the President in the recent letter to Joseph Stalin. The conventions of diplomacy account for part of the Stalin letter; the exigencies of world events account for the rest of it. The President's words about the North American strike ought to be remembered by all Americans, for they apply with equal force to many another strike which did not catch the public eye as the North American strike did. Until the attack on soviet Russia on June 22 the contribution of the American communists to the defense program was obstruction, if nothing worse. The reason for the change of the American communists' attitude toward the American defense program should be filed for future reference.

MR. PEPYS COACHES HIS TEAM.

18th Oct.—Will go out to the football field today, unless the cold I have caught runs into a fever, and will cheer hoarsely for the home-town boys and urge the quarter back to use this play or that, and if he does not heed me I will groan in agony of spirit. Last Saturday I was there, and my companion, an ex-footballer, said, "We'll have to pipe down on our sideline coaching today. Look who's behind us." I looked, and there was Elmer Layden, czar of the professional league, ex-Notre Dame coach, former member of the Four Horsemen, etc. But I said, "We'll talk to 'em better and louder than ever and give him an earful."

After the first half Elmer seemed to think he had learned enough from us, for he went up to the press box and found Arch Ward, and said: "Do you know, this is the first football game I ever saw from the grandstand," and Arch asked, "How do you like it?" and Elmer said, "I never had any idea there was so much fine coaching among the spectators."

Our boys seem to have prepared for every emergency, because there is a cluster of weeping willow trees on the grounds of Dyche stadium, just inside one of the gates. This is, maybe, the only football field in the country completely equipped with foliage for a melancholy ending, but today, at the close of the game, I hope that the Michigan followers, and not the Wildcat partisans, will be standing forlornly under the willows, drooping like them in graceful despair.

HYMN TO AUTUMN.

Hail to Autumn, queen of beauty,
Queen of harvest, queen of seasons;
Pay we then our lover's duty,
Tell we then our lover's reasons.
Hail her beauty's ceaseless fountains,
On the forests, fields and ranges,
Playing on the purple mountains,
Trailing light in endless changes,
From cicada, master hummer,
To the hoarfrost, master tinter,
From the sultry suns of Summer
To the shining snows of Winter.
Hail, O, hail to all her splendor.

Blue her skies and bright her waters;
Mellow mooned her misty twilights;
Fair, O, fairer than earth's daughters,
Flaming gold and crimson highlights
Deck her vestments, crown her forehead,
Clothe her limbs in burnished beauty,
Leading us to Winter's door-head
Laden with her fruits and booty.

Heaped her hoard in fullest measure,
Fruits of corn, and vine, and forest;
Knows the year no other treasure
Like her bounty lays before us.
Broad the board and gay the trimming
Spread in honor of her giving,
Long the feast with gladness brimming,
Praising joy she brings to living.

By the hearthfire's glowing embers
Fill the bowl to overflowing;
To the queen our youth remembers
Pay the debt our love is owing;
Drink we then a toast to Autumn:
To her landscape lit with glory,
To her love we yield to no man,
To her largess old in story,
To her moods that move with lightness,
To her paths we walk with gladness,
To her hoarfrost's jeweled brightness,
To her beauty touched with sadness.
Hail to Autumn! Hail to Autumn!

When Playgoers Get Together.

Regarding the so-called "Chameleon theater" [Oct. 14]: Please insert between "Central" and "Punch and Judy" the name Minturn-Central. I gave the theater that name in 1925 when Harry Minturn and I took its lease and presented there "One Man's Woman," of which a critic wrote, "Here's one that burns holes in the asbestos curtain."

The name of Minturn, one of Chicago's most popular stock company actors, recalls that another is in town with "Louisiana Purchase." Now he is known as Edward H. Robbins, a name given him by David Belasco when Eddie was engaged as leading man in "The Easiest Way." [Robbins was his mother's maiden name.] But it was as Edward B. Haas that he was known and admired here. He was featured with Marie Nelson at the People's theater on the west side; then he was engaged by Ed Thannhauser for the Bush temple on the north side, where he played opposite Adelaide Keim.

Yes, he is a bit gray, a little heftier, and somewhat stooped, but he still has that smile the matinée girls loved in 1906-'07-'08.

Remarkable! He knows his fish
And also flowers;
He gratifies our ev'ry wish

He's most amazing! "Ologies"
And "isms" all
Salaam and make apologies
At his mere call.

Not only does he head the slate
For human ferrets,
He also is a hero great:
He eats raw carrots!

WHY ALLOW CONSTIPATION TO PERSIST?

MOST of our difficulties with constipation are due to bad habits or personal laziness. There isn't a particle of excuse for the disorder unless an abnormality is present within the bowel. Perhaps we have failed to teach the colon proper behavior. The best time for instruction is during childhood. Once the canal has learned to go thru its maneuvers on schedule, it will adhere to the lesson scrupulously, unless too much bewilderment is occasioned by enemas and cathartics.

Of course, if one should deliberately ingest too little water or deprive the body of essential fluids, we can understand that thirsty tissues will withdraw liquid from the intestines. This will render the contents less spongy. For years, a common sense rule has been prescribed by physiologists—namely, drink at least two glasses of warm to hot water flavored with lemon juice a half hour before breakfast. This simple procedure will be effective in most cases.

It goes without saying that, for average health, we must imbibe an adequate quantity of bulk—not necessarily irritating roughage. In addition, the meals should supply requisite vitamins and minerals. One who is on a starvation or reducing regimen may not experience regular evacuations. Sometimes we forget that insoluble material, such as cellulose [which is present in most vegetables], is helpful in stimulating the contraction of the smooth muscle of the alimentary tube. It is the presence of a mass of food undergoing digestion which provides the stimulus for the onward movements of the débris.

Probably our greatest fault lies in the failure to respond to nature's warning or urge. We become so occupied with our affairs that we ignore one of the basic rules of good hygiene. Neither inconvenience nor embarrassment must be allowed to exert the slightest influence. The command "march" must be obeyed.

There will always be an opportunity for costiveness to assert itself when one drops abruptly from an average amount of exertion to a life of inaction or complete bed rest. The abdominal muscles and organs must be well filled with blood and the nerves kept in tune before we can expect normal behavior. A sagging, weak wall will need to be aided by massage. Even bending and stretching gymnastics will be of value.

Straining at stool is never advised. This practice is probably one of the contributing factors in the development of diverticuli [outpocketings from the colon]. Furthermore, a heavy, squeezing pressure should never be employed under any circumstance. Structures in this area are not made to withstand much force. There will be a tendency also to dilate rectal blood vessels.

Diet, too, must be considered. Meat, potatoes, coffee, and pastry alone, while important, will not and cannot serve. If we lack vitamin B, the digestive tube will go on a strike. If we fail to provide plenty of calcium and phosphorus, the channel will become flabby.

The plan to be followed, then, is as follows:

Establish a balanced food intake.

Drink two glasses of water a half hour before breakfast.

Take enough exercise to maintain good body tone, not only of the muscles of the legs and the abdomen, but of the intestinal tract.

Finally, establish a time routine with which nothing can interfere.

Unless there is some definite organic obstruction or deformity, this program will solve most of our constipation problems.

LEG RENOVATION.

F. A. M. writes: The muscles of my legs protrude altho the bones are straight. Will an operation correct this condition?

REPLY.

Surgery will help if you have suffered an injury. Otherwise, leave your muscles alone. If you desire more graceful contours, massage is advised.

RING AROUND THE IRIS.

M. K. writes: What causes a grayish to white ring around the iris of the eyes?

REPLY.

This is known as "arcus senilis" and is supposed to mark the advance of time. A deposit of fatty granules is said to be responsible. Rarely is there any interference with vision.

OPEN SEASON AGAIN

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

SOME BUNDLING HERE, PLEASE.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The other evening a woman came to my room and broke down and wept. She is on relief, and is frail. She had secured a job in a home and did work that three maids should have been employed to do. At the end of two weeks she stopped because she was not physically able to continue.

Her earnings for the two weeks was $24, which she spent for clothing. When she went for her relief check she found that the relief agency had deducted from it the amount she had earned. As her monthly relief allowance is only $19 for food, shelter, and "clothing," plus a quart of milk every other day, she had nothing to live on for the current month. She was worse off than if she hadn't worked at all.

I called on another woman on relief and found her without shoes. She had made several applications to the relief agency for shoes, but got no response. The only winter coat this woman has is a $6 cotton one that she bought three years ago. She pays $3.75 a week rent for a small room with kitchen privileges. The relief allows her $13 a month for rent and incidentals, and food stamps good for $9 worth of food, which must last for a month. When this woman can get odd jobs she can pay her rent, but she can't always find one. She is at the age where women are not wanted here, consequently she is continuously worried for fear of eviction. She has been evicted many times for nonpayment of rent.

These two cases are not isolated ones. They are numbered by the thousands in Chicago, and by the millions thruout the U. S. A. Those citizens who are interested in the "Victory Round-Up" for the British War Relief, Oct. 17, might better consider relief on the home front. The "four freedoms" should be found at home before they are promised or given to the world.

There has never been an agency in our country for the aid of our destitute and unemployed citizens which is at all comparable in its scope and in its efficiency as that agency for the British War Relief. No such agency as Bundles for Britain has ever been established for the clothing of our own needy. It is a crime that such an agency as the British War Relief is permitted to function in the face of the facts that millions of our citizens are living on an existence level or below.

The bundlers for Britain had better wake up and bundle for Americans; the time may be later than they think.

NONDEFENSE SPENDING.

Flossmoor, Ill., Oct. 13.—That this nation is rightly committed to spending enormous sums for national defense and aiding other countries, there is no disagreement. Inevitably much waste will take place in carrying out this program. However, deliberately planned nonessential federal expenditures will be frowned upon and attacked by all worthy organizations. If this be done, the net result to the nation may well be the difference between solvency and bankruptcy. We must build an attitude against nonessential spending by our federal government.

A USEFUL TRAIN SERVICE.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Permit me to reply to J. C. R. regarding the one car passenger train that puffs into Englewood every day about noon on the C. & W. I. This train carries passengers, handles express, and company material between Dearborn station and Dolton, Ill. Passengers are carried on this and its other trains for 6.6 cents between Englewood and Dearborn station or just .04 cent less than the fare on the surface lines, and the running time is 15 minutes.

The men who operate this train arise at about 4 a. m., winter and summer, rain or shine, running a passenger suburban train carrying passengers from Dolton and intermediate points to the loop, and return them to their respective stations again in the evening. Long after J. C. R. has had his evening repast these same chaps are just completing their day.

BUNDLES FROM BRITAIN.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—I noted the other day an advertisment of suits and topcoats and decided to look them over. The salesman who served me made every effort to call my attention to the [made in England] labels in some of the topcoats so I finally bought one with an American label.

How can the British have so much wool [and these coats were labeled 100 per cent wool] that they can manufacture all these clothes and in America we are restricted? Where do they get so much help to produce and flood our markets? Why aren't these men fighting instead of producing and competing with our own people?

What suckers we be. We pay for bundles from Britain but they get bundles from America free of charge and now expect to have them delivered by us besides.

AN ALL AMERICAN.

SAYS SOUTH DOESN'T RULE.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 14.—A letter last week in THE TRIBUNE wished you to look into how the solid south dominates congress. It is ridiculous on the face of it. Or we'd have no tariffs, no discriminatory freight rates; also we would have over 200 men in the house.

No part of the country knows better what war means. And we don't like the implication that we are bribed by the powers-that-be for thinking our country in fearful danger both within and without.

HEADED FOR LEAVENWORTH.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—How would you go about finding out what color of caps the 1942 freshman class will wear at Leavenworth? I have never had to pay much money for income tax, but after taking one look at the rates for this next year I know I will not be able to pay my share for carrying all the freedoms to all the wide world, so I am heading for Fort Leavenworth by about May 1, 1942. How many of you good folks out there expect to join me?

Chicago, Oct. 15.—If you really are an American and have a sense of fair play—why not print in full Lindbergh's speech in Des Moines, Ia.? You and others are using the Jew part of his speech and the public is falling for your propaganda. Why not be fair?

PLENTY OF RAILS NEARBY.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—I note that Phil Harrington, the subway director, has become a party to the propagandists for war.

Maybe you will tell Phil for me that he can get all the steel rails he needs for his subway at little trouble and expense. All he has to do is journey to the nearby cities of Janesville and Madison, Wis., with the trucks to carry it back home.

In these two cities alone there are 205 miles of single track rail [105 pound rail of the exact kind needed for the subway] lying unused right in the middle of the street! You can buy it from these cities for a song, Phil, and all of it has from 7 to 10 years of good life left in it.

There it is, Phil—38,000 tons of it! You might tell F. D. R. and his phony "shortage" gang this is enough steel to build a battleship the size of the Hood.

OLD WORLD AND NEW.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—While browsing thru my library last night I came upon a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson and thought how much more appropriate it is today than when it was written. It is as follows:

IN THE STATES.

With half a heart I wander here
As from an age gone by,
A brother—yet tho young in years,
An elder brother, I.

You speak another tongue than mine,
Tho both were English born.
I towards the night of time decline,
You mount into the morn.

Youth shall grow great and strong and free,
But age must still decay:
Tomorrow for the States—for me,
England and yesterday.

PROPERTY PURCHASE.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I built a $6,400 home on [1] my lot with a $5,400 loan. When I signed the mortgage [2] I was told I would receive my deed when I started my payments.

3. They gave me a title guarantee policy from the title and trust company for $5,900.

4. Is that a small amount, as my lot was expensive?

5. Do I also need the deed to my lot if I ever want to sell? W. S.

1. This wording implies that you now own the lot.

2. This wording implies that you do not own the lot. In general, the time when a contract purchaser receives his deed depends upon the wording of the contract.

3. Ordinarily the guaranty policy covers the contract value of the property, but on this, as on other points, your rights depend upon the wording of the contract.

4. In general, the title company does not issue a guaranty policy until they have first satisfied themselves that the title is good. Hence we would not attach great importance to the amount of insurance coverage as long as you are to hold the property.

5. No, in the sense that the interest of the contract purchaser could be sold. It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney thruout, and we advise you to employ one now.

NAB FATHER OF 10, ONCE PARDONED, POSING AS G-MAN

Accused of Offering Bribe to His Captors.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 17 [Special].—Last February Gov. Julius P. Heil released Lionel L. Hausman of Milwaukee from Waupun penitentiary under a conditional pardon. He had served 14 months of a sentence for abandonment of his wife and 10 children. The governor made quite a ceremony of it. The wife and the 10 children were there. Hausman was impressively penitent and promised complete reform. Gov. Heil made a little speech, posed for his picture with the now happy family, and handed out $1 bills to each of the 10 children.

Tonight Hausman was in jail in default of $5,000 bonds on charges of impersonating a federal officer, resisting arrest, assaulting a federal officer and offering a bribe. State charges of cashing fraudulent checks and bigamy were in the offing.

Story of His Escapades.

Harry O'Connor, chief of the Milwaukee FBI office, told this story of Hausman's escapades following the scene in the governor's office:

Adopting the name of Lionel L. Carlisle, Hausman again deserted his wife and 10 children and came to Chicago, where he posed as a G-man. To Chicago he brought a young woman who was impressed by his claims of being a government agent, and last Oct. 1 he married her. Behind in Milwaukee he left three worthless checks totaling several hundred dollars which he had succeeded in cashing thru his G-man pose.

FBI agents soon heard about "Carlisle" and started looking for him. They traced him to Okauchee, Wis., where he was continuing his impersonation. Two agents seized him there last night, but not without a battle. Then he offered them $2,500 and a new automobile he was driving if they would release him.

Recognized at Jail.

Following his arraignment today Hausman was taken to the county jail by deputy marshals. He was recognized there by John Oehmcke, state parole officer, who happened to be at the jail, and who had been looking for Hausman since his disappearance from home.

Hausman was placed on two years probation in April, 1939, by Municipal Judge Max W. Wohl on the abandonment charge. He was sent to Waupun the next December as a parole violator. He escaped from prison camp, but was recaptured. Then his 10 children came to the attention of the governor and his conditional pardon and parole to Henry C. Fuldner of the state employment relations board followed.

The Hausmans live at 3723 Park Hill avenue.

John Leeds with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Leeds Braden.

Media, Pa., Oct. 17 (AP).—Fourteen-year-old John Leeds was held without bail today on a charge of murder in the fatal beating of Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, 83. The boy held the hand of his mother during the brief hearing before a justice of the peace. He did not testify. Leeds has made and repudiated three confessions to the attack on Mrs. Watson and her 80-year-old sister, Miss Belle Geary. They were beaten and robbed here on the night of September 24. Miss Geary remains in a critical condition.

SURFACE LINES GET MORE RIDERS, BUT PROFIT DIPS

The Chicago Surface lines' net earnings so far in 1941 have declined despite an increase in street car riding, Edward C. Burke, assistant auditor for the company, testified yesterday at an Illinois Commerce comission hearing on the lines' application for an increase in fares from 7 to 8 cents.

A statement presented by Burke showed that net earnings for the seven months ended Aug. 31 amounted to $2,033,000, compared with $2,057,934 in the corresponding 1940 period. The 1941 statement, however, reflected that portion of wage increases of 2½ million dollars a year paid from June 1 to Aug. 31, Burke said. Revenues from riders in the seven month period increased to $27,503,470 in 1941 from $26,789,882 last year, Burke's statement showed.

The company also submitted an exhibit showing rates of transit fares in cities over 500,000 population, excluding New York City. The rates vary from 5 cents in San Francisco, Cal., to 15 cents in Pittsburgh, Pa. The hearings, which are before Assistant Commissioner James C. Clark, will be continued Wednesday.

BELIEVE THEFT OF AUTO MOTIVE OF BOY SLAYER

Portland, Me., Oct. 17 (AP).—Two 'teen aged girls and a boy—all charged with slaying Grainger G. Browning, 40, in Maryland—faced an official contention today that the motive was theft of an automobile rather than defense of one of the girls.

County Attorney Albert Knudsen said Herbert H. Cox, 16, at first asserted he shot Browning to protect Ida May Price, 15, from the man's advances, but that the youth later admitted that he fired so he could "take his [Browning's] car and go on with the girls."

Miss Price and Leona Ellen Cunningham, 14, the third member of the trio that set out on a runaway trip from their Alexandria, Va., tourist camp home Sunday, also have changed their stories to agree with Cox's, Knudsen said.

Browning, whose home was in Mount Olive, N. C., but who had been working in Alexandria, had offered the youngsters a ride and met death while the car was parked north of Baltimore.

EPIDEMIC OF FLU FOR THIS WINTER FEAR OF EXPERTS

Find Conditions Similar to World War Days.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 17 (AP).—The nation was warned today to brace itself this winter for an epidemic of influenza which may be as severe as that of 1918 and 1919.

It may not kill as many people as did the epidemic of the World war, when hundreds of thousands died from the disease, Dr. S. Edward Sulkin, Dr. Joseph F. Bredeck and D. David Douglas of the St. Louis [Mo.] health division told the American Public Health association today, but all scientific indications point to a rapid and widespread epidemic sweeping the country during the coming winter months.

Conditions Are Similar.

The scientists said they were not trying to "throw a scare" into people but analysis of the present situation revealed two things: A minor epidemic of flu swept eastward from the west coast, probably having originated in Hawaii, a year ago; it has lain dormant during the summer months, possibly building up its virulence.

Exactly the same situation existed in 1915 and 1916, when the so-called "Spanish influenza" broke out on the east coast and spread like a forest fire which did not burn itself out until late in 1919.

Waiting to Strike.

Today, the scientists suggested, the viruses which cause influenza in a variety of different forms are hiding like a bear in hibernation waiting for the right kind of weather to strike out. The scientists did not know when or where the epidemic would strike, but they expressed themselves as quite certain that it would come.

The St. Louis research men added that the concentration of more than 1,500,000 men in training camps thruout the country would complicate the problem of control as badly as during the period from 1916 to 1918, when truckloads and carloads of coffins were a not uncommon sight in towns and cities near army camps.

However, they added, diagnosis of true influenza is made easier by new techniques and laboratory facilities which promise to reduce the morbidity and mortality from the disease to a much lower level than it was a quarter of a century ago.

STATE EMPLOYE TO BE QUIZZED IN UNION SHORTAGE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 17 [Special].—Acting Circuit Attorney Henry G. Morris today decided to subpena an employé of the state auditor's office to appear before the grand jury in connection with the investigation into the financial affairs of local 42 of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' union [AFL].

The prosecutor said he is interested in a report that the union's books were checked quarterly by three union trustees, who then called in an employé of the state auditor's office. The employé, in spare time and not in his official capacity, would look over the trustees' report. At the local's next meeting, President Edward Hill would tell the members: "The state auditor's office announces that our books are in perfect shape."

Hill and three other officers of the union have been suspended and have been charged in a warrant with embezzling $6,000 of union funds. An additional shortage of $41,750 has been revealed.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Frank B. Burch, 67 years old, an Akron, O., attorney and one-time member of the Ohio state senate who pleaded guilty of failing to register as a German agent, was fined $1,000 in federal District court today. A jail sentence of 8 to 24 months was suspended by Justice James W. Morris. Burch was accused of acting under the direction of Karl Kapp, German consul in Cleveland, O., and distributing literature thruout the country.

SETTLE STRIKES OF MUSICIANS ON CBS, NBC CHAINS

New York, Oct. 17 (AP). — The National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system announced tonight the settlement of a musicians' strike against two outlets in Pittsburgh which halted sustaining programs on both chains. In separate announcements the radio chains said that details of the settlement were not available immediately.

Mark Woods, NBC vice president and treasurer, said normal operations on the NBC networks would be resumed at once. CBS said it would return to normal operation as soon as possible.

The strike was called Wednesday by James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians [AFL], after a dispute with NBC and CBS over employment of musicians on their outlets in Pittsburgh. Petrillo ordered CBS' New York and Chicago musicians on sustaining shows off the air on Wednesday. NBC said only orchestra units in its Hollywood, San Francisco, and Chicago offices had been affected until today when 138 musicians struck in mid-afternoon on all NBC sustaining programs originating in Radio City.

EXPECT CATHOLIC BISHOPS TO RAP U. S. WAR TREND

Two high officials of the Catholic church and a prominent Catholic layman will join tomorrow in a 30 minute national broadcast on the subject, "Religious Freedom and the War."

Speakers on the program over the NBC blue network from 3 to 3:30 p. m., Chicago time, will be the Most Rev. Gerald Shaughnessy, bishop of Seattle, Wash.; the Most Rev. Francis J. L. Beckman, archbishop of Dubuque, Ia., and Joseph L. Scott, Los Angeles, Cal., attorney, and commander of the Order of St. Gregory.

Attorney Scott is expected to comment on the recent poll which showed the Catholic clergy more than 90 per cent against United States entry into a shooting war and against aid to communist Russia.

Archbishop Beckman and Bishop Shaughnessy both have denounced war mongering and the attempts to smear noninterventionists.

Seize Suspect in Train Wreck in Which 24 Died

Findlay, O., Oct. 17 (AP).—Sheriff Lyle Harvitt disclosed tonight that he is holding a suspect in the Harney, Nev., train wreck of two years ago in which 24 persons were killed and 117 were injured. Harvitt described the man as a 73 year old floater and said his fingerprints checked with those found on tools near the accident scene. Railroad officials said the train, the streamlined City of San Francisco of the Southern Pacific, was deliberately derailed.

Offers a Job

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. HELEN ZABELLA.

When Joseph Zabella, a pharmacist, told Judge Thomas J. Lynch yesterday that he was unable to pay any support money to his estranged wife, Helen, for their child, Mrs. Zabella spoke up and offered to get him a good job.

Mrs. Zabella, 26 years old, 6745 South Rockwell street, appeared in court with her attorney, Norman Becker, to complain that her husband, 31 years old, had failed to support their daughter, Audrey, 5 years old. Mrs. Zabella has a suit for separate maintenance pending.

Zabella's attorney, Victor Frohlich, said his client had been unable to get a well paying job. Then Mrs. Zabella made her offer to get him a job. At Becker's request the hearing was continued a week so Mrs. Zabella could make good her offer.

MAYOR PLEDGES AID TO WOMEN'S HOUSING GROUP

Mayor Kelly told members of the Women's Joint Committee on Adequate Housing yesterday that he will coöperate in a program to force building owners to improve housing conditions. The committee, headed by Mrs. Benjamin Morse, 3154 Hudson avenue, told the mayor that the 10 sanitation inspectors of the board of health cannot properly inspect all housing in the city. They asked that 30 additional inspectors be hired. The mayor suggested creating a Works Progress Administration project for that purpose.

A MINER FOR 70 YEARS IS NAMED OLD KING COAL

West Frankfort, Ill., Oct. 17 [Special].—Officials of the Franklin county coal festival in progress here announced today the selection of William Towers, 79 years old of Benton, for the rôle of Old King Coal at the celebration.

Towers has 70 years of underground service to his credit, having begun working in mines at the age of 9. He had to lay off work for three months prior to his 12th birthday because of the enactment of child labor legislation but has been steadily employed ever since.

H holds the first examiner's certificate issued at the No. 1 mine of the Bell & Zoller Coal Co. at Zeigler, first mine to be sunk in Franklin county. Selection of a "Queen of Coal" was delayed tonight when rain forced postponement of the program.

SYNOPSIS.

Gay Ripley, young American girl in Paris to buy antiques for her New York firm, runs into her Cousin Lou Rentrew, a rich widow, who insists Gay stay with her. Soon after Gay moves in, her cousin is taken to the hospital, ill, and Gay is left in the apartment with her cousin's brother-in-law, Horace, and the servants, Manx and Hortense. She goes to the hospital to see her cousin and meets Miles Dorsey, a young English lawyer, Raoul de Chabenil, a handsome gigolo, and Estrella, a dressmaker. Her cousin insists Gay take her jewel box, containing a valuable antique necklace, home and put it in her wall safe. The Manx is waiting outside in the Rentrew car, Raoul persuades Gay to ride home with him. That night she dines with Miles Dorsey and Catherine and Geoff Macadam. Macadam and Dorsey are partners in the firm that handles Mrs. Rentrew's business. They see Raoul and Estrella together at a nearby table and Catherine tells Gay that Raoul has an unscrupulous reputation. That night Gay's cousin dies, presumably of a stroke but after Horace demands an inquest it comes out that she died of an overdose of a powerful drug which any of her guests at the hospital might have put into her soup. The night of her death, Gay overhears some one in her room and the next morning the necklace has disappeared. The police are called in and the next night Gay again hears some one in her room and she is overpowered by ether. When she awakens, the necklace has been returned. By the will of Cousin Lou's dead husband, all his property, upon his wife's death, in case she never remarried, was to go to Horace, with small cash sums to Gay and her family and to Manx and Hortense. Gay, deciding to do some sleuthing on her own, visits Estrella, on pretense of having a gown made. Hiding in a hall closet she learns that Estrella's brother, Doctor Borosh, sells drugs illicitly, and that Estrella and Raoul are lovers. She also overhears Alixe, Mrs. Rentrew's discharged maid, sell some important letters to Estrella and learns that Alixe was one of Borosh's patients. Manx has been acting queerly and Gay feels he has been trailing her. While she and Horace are playing backgammon, they hear a body falling and looking out, see Hortense dead in the court below. Things indicate that it might be murder. Miles drops by and warns Gay against further sleuthing. Gay is grilled by the police, but Gay does not heed him and insists on calling on Alixe, and finds she has been missing since Hortense's death. Gay sees Borosh coming from Horace's shop and Horace claims Borosh tried to sell him information about the murderer of Madam Rentrew.

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

STROKE.

Borosh's pockets had contained only small change and cigarets, his head bore two injuries, the fresh one due, it was believed, to having struck the stone pillar of a bridge. At 10 last night a bargeman had seen the body floating near St. Cloud.

Horace said in a gone voice, "Think it's another dead end?"

"They may find out if any one was with him." I answered, but without any starch.

"Yeah! And again they may not."

I was thinking how this sleuthing business wasn't so hot after all. I'd dodged my police-detective. Had Borosh done the same? Or maybe Borosh himself hadn't interested the police. Thanks to legal advice I still hadn't said a word about Borosh's drugs—that is, officially.

Miles Dorsey's advice . . . O, my God!

Even now Horace was upbraiding himself.

"I think now I must have been a damned fool not to tell every single thing you managed to overhear in the Rue de Sevres. You didn't either, I take it?"

"No, I—I was afraid my being there at all might be hard to explain."

"So did I. I'd have spilled it yesterday, tho, if I'd been able to see that inspector. Now it's too late."

He was weaving about, unkempt and unshaven, picking up little things of Cousin Lou's and dropping them as tho they hurt. Now he was upset over having sent Borosh away.

"It was my blasted cautiousness. I guess the right thing would have been to play him a little and get Jacques to telephone the police."

"You couldn't possibly. Borosh would have skinned out at the first word. Well, we seem to be right where we were before . . . unless something more does come out over this new death."

I was trying my hardest not to think. Probably I'd never know where and how a certain Englishman spent the early part of last evening; and if the fresh catastrophe did seal matters up the not knowing wouldn't be nice. I was seeing right now Mr. Dorsey's sarcastic scrutiny of the dumbwaiter. Naturally it was sarcastic. The dusting powder hadn't shown up one print that hadn't a legitimate excuse to be there. What's simpler than wearing gloves?

It was odd Horace should say just then, "We've never been told, have we, if any papers—letters or what not—were found in this bedroom?"

"No," I said leadenly, "we've never been told."

"Another thing! That nursing home's got a fire escape. I noticed it. Well, after it happened, couldn't the murderer sneak up from outside, get into No. 10, and help himself to anything he might want to destroy?"

Yes, in the nursing home room there just might have been a written proposal of marriage—tangible proof that the dead woman's tale hadn't been a vain, self-deluding boast. Fantastic to call such a document a motive for murder? One never knew how a thing like that could injure a budding career.

Again I saw Alixe Jourdain as a link. Between the poisoner and the doctor whose blackmailing knowledge lay silenced on a mortuary slab. I wished Horace would leave me. I was itching to telephone Montrouge.

"This!" Horace had taken up the little silver gilt box. "I gave her this on her last birthday."

"Look inside," I said. "Did you give her what's in it?"

The rosary dripped from his fat fingers. I knew to a certainty he'd never seen it till now.

"A rosary! Where'd you find it?"

I explained. He shook a mystified head. It was a rare old Italian one, he declared. He could only assume some friend had left it behind and forgotten to inquire, but as he stood turning the beads over it seemed to me some troubling idea was stirring in his brain.

"No sugar." I was trying to tackle my coffee. "That's funny, did Manx bring in this tray while I was asleep?"

Then it came out. Horace, on his way with the newspaper, had seen the tray by my door and carried it inside.

"Mine's left, too, just like that. What has happened to that devil?"

He billowed out in his brocaded robe and in two minutes was back, badly shaken up again. Manx was in his own room lying sprawled out on the bed.

"Can't get a word out of him. Come look!"

I pattered behind Horace, my mules and negligee flopping. Thru the baize door, into Manx's bedroom.

"What's wrong with him?" I gasped.

Into my mind rushed the idea that the figure on the bed was arrantly shamming. It couldn't be Manx was unable to speak! Yet the face glaring up at us had the same queer look I'd seen on a memorable occasion—jaw stiffly working, but emitting no sounds.

Horace caught the rigid shoulder and shook it.

"Get up! Is this any time to be playing the fool?"

Awful gurgles—the rattle of false teeth. The man was dressed with his usual precision. He seemed just to have pitched over like a log onto the unmade bed.

"Oughtn't we to get a doctor?"

I'd rather have called the police. Who was to say what Manx had been up to late yesterday afternoon, or for that matter after 9 in the evening? We'd seen the last of him about then.

Horace lumbered back to the telephone, but as he picked off the receiver there came a thunderous knock at the front door. I answered it and found our two police officers pushing belligerently past me.

"Edouard Manx!" rasped the stout one. "He is here?"

The next minute the pair were crowding into the small bedroom, roughly prodding the bizarre effigy on the bed. "Ill, hein? Ah, bah! Not wishing to speak." Presently, tho, the inspector raised a perplexed face. "Something very peculiar here, Sergeant. Summon Dr. Legrand."

Horace and I were shoveled out and into the big hall where the thin officer was barking rapidly into the telephone. I'd just got on my clothes when the police surgeon arrived, so, determined not to miss anything, I slipped back again and stood just outside Manx's open door. Horace was in the room, colossally ignored. A thoro examination was in progress, tests were being tried. A grim demand for pencil and paper was followed by a dead silence.

"Useless!" It was Dr. Legrand speaking. "You see? The man cannot hold a pen. He is partially paralyzed."

"Paralyzed?" squeaked Horace. "But—but—are you sure?"

"Every typical symptom," pronounced the doctor, addressing his colleagues. We have here an advanced case of arterial sclerosis in which any undue exertion—weight lifting, hurry, even excitement—what's this? Another casualty?"

The bedsprings groaned as a heavy body squashed down on them. Horace, of course. His legs had simply buckled up.

"Ah, not serious this time!" Impatient grunts from the doctor, an order thrown at me. "Brandy, mademoiselle! I feared for one moment—but no, monsieur is merely feeling faint."

When I handed in the brandy Horace had sat up, looking greenish. The brown marble eyes of the two policemen were riveted on Legrand, who was speaking in low, puzzled tones.

"Odd, this . . . To be sure, one can't judge. Take the other case—yes, the deceased lady. Arteries perfect just one year ago; yet within 12 short months what are they like? Extraordinary! Fantastic! You saw my report. I might have been operating on iron pipes. You recall my remarks?"

The inspector muttered, rubbing his chin, "I recall your saying that benzedrine could not have caused the extreme hardening."

"Naturally! But what else did I say?"

The officers' eyes held consultation. "You called it a fluke, doctor. A rare medical anomaly, unless by remote chance. . . . Did you mention vitamin D?"

"Tchah! Think, man, think! What I told you was that I had read of a new compound very similar in action to vitamin D—a substance the Vienna doctors have been experimenting with, practically unknown to our French faculty. Now then! You know the small unlabeled bottle discovered by you at the Batignolles safe deposit?"

The inspector whistled softly. "Hortense Rimbaud's secret medicine. . . . You have succeeded in analyzing it?"

Looking Back—The trend of former King Carol's life has followed very closely the number of his personal year. This year he has been in a five-year, and certainly has had the changes and upsets promised in such a year, with the uncertainty and the sudden switching of plans so typical of the five. The letting down to the obscure four came the year before in the fall of his four-year. Now in the peak of his five-year comes the change that means this time a more permanent change leading to the establishment of residence in Mexico, which leads right into his six-year for next year. Very often the changes we make thru a five-year keeps us on the jump until the fall of the year.

Contracts Let for USO Clubs Near Chicago

United Service Organization workers will be operating clubs in 100 new buildings before Christmas and in 230 shortly afterward, Harper Sibley, president of the national USO, assured leaders and representatives in the six united agencies in the middle west at Hotel La Salle yesterday noon. These clubs will provide recreation facilities for soldiers, sailors, and defense workers in their leisure time, near the camps and factories.

Harper Sibley.

"Already 500 workers are conducting 149 clubs in 135 cities and towns," he continued. "Some are operating in permanent rented quarters, and others are working in temporary quarters, waiting for the buildings now under construction by the war department."

Sibley, a dollar a year man in Washington and a former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and the national council of the YMCA, explained that until three weeks ago the building program was under the PWA, which also is handling the government's rearmament building program. Realizing that the USO buildings were being lost in the shuffle, the officers obtained a Presidential order transferring the program to the war department.

"I received word yesterday that work had been started on 41 projects," Sibley said, "and that nine contracts had been let in the Chicago area." Among the buildings contemplated for this area he listed Highland Park, $62,000; Highwood, $83,000; Rantoul, $125,000, and Waukegan, $94,950, all to be completed by Dec. 15.

"These projects are not army barracks," he continued, "but attractive, variegated buildings, each with a large entrance lobby, reading, and game rooms, shower baths and an auditorium for meetings, dances and if necessary, to be used for sleeping quarters. In addition to these clubs, we are helping small towns near the camps and defense areas to organize their facilities for providing recreation for the servicemen."

Francis P. Matthews, an Omaha lawyer and civic leader who is national vice president and publicity chairman of the USO, told the workers that a plan is under way to inform the public generally on the USO program and its accomplishments. The 10 million dollar fund sought by the six united service groups, the YMCA, YWCA, National Catholic Community service, Jewish Welfare association, National Traveler's Aid society, and the Salvation Army, was oversubscribed.

"Now we are planning a united program to serve the million servicemen, whose ranks are growing, and the two million defense workers behind the lines, most of whom are young people," Matthews explained. "Our primary objectives are to maintain good spirits among the men and women, provide wholesome recreation for their leisure time and supply facilities for them to observe their separate religious duties."

DORIS BLAKE'S LETTER BOX

Have you a perplexing problem on which you need friendly counsel? Write to Doris Blake in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. If you wish a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Slave to Convention.

"Dear Miss Blake: A boy says he likes me. I like him, too, but he expects me to say 'hello' first or he won't say 'hello.' What should I do?
"MARIE."

He's being very, very proper, isn't he, Marie? So if he's such a "stickler" for conventions as all that, speak first, by all means.

Victim of Jealousy.

"Dear Miss Blake: When she went away I received letters from her saying how much she missed me. When she came home I told her I had gone out with a blonde. She became angry and started talking about the fellows at camp. Should I still go with her?
"BILL S."

Jealousy makes her act that way, Bill. Unless you want to marry her, it might be better to be friends—nothing else—and for both of you to go out with others.

Time to Investigate.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am in love with a boy who says he likes me very much, but he has been going to the country to see another girl. He said the only reason he goes to see her is that he made a promise to her. How can I find out if this girl really means anything to him? UNHAPPY."

You'd better find out what that promise is before you let yourself care even more deeply. Be guided by his explanation as to whether it would be best to break off now to save yourself later heartbreak.

"Blitz bags for bombed citizens" was Mrs. Philip B. Maher's cry as she stood in a booth at the Stadium during the British War Relief Victory Round-up Rodeo last night. The bags are filled with soap, toothbrush, toothpaste, and other necessities for persons who must answer an air raid siren in a hurry.

Chicago Goes Wild West in Rodeo Benefit

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

Chicago shouted "yipee ki yeaaa" with the cowboys last night at a new kind of benefit, the British War Relief Victory Round-Up at the stadium. Not since the circus wagons rolled out of Grant park has there been so much munching of peanuts and popcorn, and so many shrieks of excitement.

Mrs. Howard Linn, chairman of the benefit, had as her guests the Quiz Kids, the three red headed Andrews sisters, Mickey Rooney, Mrs. William McCormick Blair, and Bowen Blair. Mrs. Linn wore a black crêpe long torso dress with an accordion pleated skirt and a black skull cap with tiny velvet bows at the front.

Mrs. Louis F. Swift played barker for Mrs. Philip B. Maher's booth of blitz bags—Mrs. Swift in a strawberry printed black crêpe dress and Mrs. Maher in an evening gown of black crêpe with a square neckline edged in leopard. She topped it with a silver fox jacket.

Debutantes Miss Ruddy Hale and Miss Joan Hixon, both in black, were on a double date. The Kellogg Fairbanks and the J. Stewart Harveys were another team, and Miss Shirley Slade and James A. Babson were together.

Among others who yelled for the bronco busters were the John W. Clarkes, Miss Peggy Ware, the Peter G. Moons, Mrs. David B. Peck, Mrs. Montgomery Orr, Mrs. George Corson Ellis, Mrs. James G. Shennan, Miss Betty and Miss Caryl Broome, both in sports coats with wolf collars, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip D. Armour Jr., the I. Newton Perrys, and Mrs. James Ward Thorne.

Draft Causing Complications in Suitor Ranks

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I am going 'steady' with a boy and expect to be married in a year or so. One of my ex-boy friends has been drafted, and for the last few months has been writing cards and letters to me. I wrote to him only once, in reply to his first few letters.

"My problem now is that my beau is jealous and I have to watch my step. I don't know whether I should, out of courtesy, write to the draftee and keep my letters impersonal, or play safe and ignore his correspondence. Should I tell my boy friend about the letters? I know he would be very angry if he knew. The boy who writes to me is nice and always asks about my boy friend in his letters."—"DARK EYES."

You are taking the matter too seriously. There is no harm, surely, in writing friendly letters to an old friend away at camp.

You are not engaged and are not planning to be married for a year or more, so you would be foolish to eliminate all other friendships. It may be that in a year or so you will not be as much in love with the young man as you are now, and then where will you be? You'll have no other man to keep you from feeling neglected and lonely.

The fact that your boy friend is jealous is unfortunate. Do you wish to be a prisoner of his jealousy? Do you want always to be in a position in which you dare not look at another man for fear of arousing his anger?

'Destructive' Child May Be Only Curious

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It doesn't necessarily follow that a little child is, or will be, destructive because he breaks some of his toys or, perhaps, takes them apart and then discards them with apparent satisfaction. We discussed this very question just the other day when a group of women met, most of them mothers, and the talk as usual gravitated to the subject of children.

"My 3 year old Allen is constantly taking his toys to pieces. He's always so solemnly anxious to investigate every new thing he receives. I try to stop him because I'm afraid he has a tendency to be destructive," reported one mother.

"I delight in dressing dolls for Sally. When I've finished putting in tucks and sewing on lace on the various garments I'm practically in love with the doll myself. Then I give it to Sally and her one desire is to undress it. It breaks my heart to have her do it and I don't think she should be permitted to spoil the pretty things by dragging them off. She must be taught to admire and preserve lovely things, I believe," said a dainty and immaculate young woman.

Then a grandmother joined the group and she smiled at the anxiety expressed. She had brought up five sons and daughters and so she was well qualified to speak.

"Most of what you mothers consider destructiveness in the children is nothing more than a natural curiosity to see what makes the wheels go round and doesn't signify anything else," she explained.

"As for the doll, Mary, always make the clothes so that they fasten with snappers or buttons and can be readily taken off and be put on again. Half the fun in having a doll is the dressing and undressing of it."

Children like a racket and half the things they do that seem destructive happen in the process of satisfying that desire. Destructiveness is not a natural desire of a normal child, but usually the indirect result of a perfectly natural activity or curiosity. So when Bill whacks something and it shatters, or builds up his blocks or tin cans [if he's a little older] and then sends them crashing, don't think he's heading for a permanent habit of destructiveness.

"Is Tact in Your Bag of Tricks?" is the name of a booklet which we will gladly send to you upon receipt of a self-adressed, stamped large envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, the Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Bishop Conkling to Give Chicagoland Sermon

Bishop Wallace Edmonds Conkling of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago will be the preacher tomorrow morning on the Chicagoland church hour, broadcast from 9 to 10 o'clock by W-G-N. ★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

It's curious that we women who love perfume so much actually know so little about the many ways we can make the most of its particular appeal. It may be because we think of perfume as just a gorgeously fragrant liquid, expensive and precious, and never think of the many other scented things that help us to be beautifully perfumed but in a somewhat different fashion.

Perfume is in a class by itself and there is no substitute for it. But the colognes, the scented soaps, and the beautiful new cream sachets will enable you to use less of your precious perfume and to achieve even more satisfactory results. You're well perfumed when everything you use is in the same scent.

One of the newest perfumes has, as a companion piece, a cream sachet in the same fragrance. It's perfectly delightful to use and to enjoy. It's creamy, flesh tinted, and very fragrant, and it's to be applied directly to the skin. A bit of it rubbed into the wrists makes the hands fragrant for hours—and that, to us, is one of the pleasantest uses of scent in the world. It can be rubbed into the skin of the arms and neck and it won't have the slightest drying effect, as cologne sometimes has.

The perfume of this cream sachet is super-dooper but not so all-out romantic that its use is denied the poor working girl. In addition to sophistication and a very feminine kind of charm it has a certain freshness that keeps it out of the too-seductive class. In fact, it's the kind of a perfume the fastidious business girl likes; it gives her a lift and a constant reminder that daintiness is something more than its own reward.

Simple Jackets, but They Have a Lot of Snap

BY REA SEEGER.

A really distinctive evening jacket is sometimes difficult to find, especially if you demand something simple with long sleeves and a lot of snap. After sleuthing the shops, we found new arrivals that should satisfy every need. These clever new finds are made of firm, rather thick crêpe, stuff that clings smoothly to the streamline and stays snugly around the rib and waistline without a single wrinkle. The sleeves are fitted and taper to the wrists. There's a zipper down the front and a band of five inch fringe streaks all the way around the dropped shoulder line.

They are the smartest, smoothest jackets in town . . . available in a gay green, crimson, bright blue and black, good contrasts for any wardrobe. The shoulders are padded and that swinging band of fringe offers everything in the way of flattery. Necklines are high and curved up, or can be worn in a deep vee if you wish. Worn with either a wide full skirt of taffeta, velvet, or crêpe you have a demure but effective costume. They'll top pleated skirts as well, or skirts of dull black wool crêpe in sheath silhouettes. They are the type of jackets that easily serve as a blouse.

They Register Them Young in Nurse Service

BY JUDITH CASS.

NURSING now means only a game confined to their families of dolls to Harriet Arpee, Mary and Margot Noyes, and Alicia Magnuson, but some day it might become a serious business if they follow in their mothers' footsteps. As Katherine Trowbridge, Adelaide Atkin, and Marianne Stevenson, their mothers—Mrs. Edward Arpee, Mrs. William H. Noyes Jr., and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson Jr.—served as couriers for the Frontier Nursing service. Now the four little girls are on the list as tiny prospective couriers. It will be some years, of course, before they see service as frontier nurses in the Kentucky hills, for no couriers are taken before the age of 19. Harriet is just 5, Alicia is a little younger, and the Noyes twins will celebrate their second birthday tomorrow.

Former couriers living in Chicago are looking forward to first-hand news from Kentucky, as Mrs. Mary Breckenridge, founder of the service, is expected here soon with her annual report. Mrs. Breckenridge will speak at 3 o'clock on Nov. 3 at the Casino, illustrating her talk with slides. Before the meeting Mrs. Donald R. McLennan, who heads the Chicago committee, will entertain for her at luncheon.

Former Couriers to Hear Mrs. Breckenridge's Talk.

Among former couriers who will be able to hear Mrs. Breckenridge are Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Arpee, Miss Nancy Ann Blaine, Miss Barbara Ingersoll, Mrs. John B. Morse Jr. [Margaret McLennan], and Miss Virginia Watson. Of the other Chicagoans who held similar posts, Mrs. Magnuson and Mrs. George Manuel Fenollosa [Elizabeth Sutherland], now are living in Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. Herschel Virgil Downs [Barbara Boyd], in Arizona, and Mrs. Winston Lewis May Jr. [Susan Badgerow], in New York City. Mrs. J. Monroe McNulty [Evelyn Bouscaren] has moved to Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Mary MacCaughey Schreiner, to California.

Miss Nancy Dammann is the only Chicago girl now in service in Kentucky.

Symphony Giving Concert for Sustaining Members.

The sustaining members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra are to have a treat tomorrow when they are the guests at a concert given especially for them in Orchestra hall. The program will be conducted by Dr. Frederick Stock, with Joseph Vito as harp soloist. After the music the members are invited to meet Dr. Stock, Hans Lange, the associate conductor, and members of the orchestra at a reception in the grand foyer.

The woman's committee has arranged the details of the reception. Mrs. Telfer MacArthur is chairman of the committee. Sustaining members are those who have contributed from $10 to $1,000 each to support the orchestra. They were secured last spring, many of them by the woman's committee, and this is the first annual party given for them.

Miss Draper Holds Audience Enthralled by Her Artistry

BY CECIL SMITH.

In the first of her three programs at the Civic theater Ruth Draper made one point completely clear last evening: She must never again stay away from Chicago for seven years, or even for any sizable fraction of seven years.

For two hours Miss Draper created and sustained the fullest illusion of a complete and engrossing theatrical performance. With no scenery at all, with no furniture except a plain wooden chair and table, and with costume changes limited to a variety of headgear, shawls, coats, and neckpieces, all worn over a neutral black gown, she held her audience as few other actresses can even with the assistance of all the external artifices of the stage.

She understands, as Thornton Wilder understood when he wrote "Our Town," that scenery and elaborate production can fetter the imagination quite as easily as they can free it. When she assumes the character of a humble Irish woman in County Kerry she stirs the heart with her simplicity and directness, as she merely sits quietly and tells the commonplace but universal story of her son's death in the battle of Gallipoli.

A few minutes later, in startling contrast, she can evoke the most vivid impressions of a crowded department store restaurant, and of four diet-conscious women lunching together on raw carrots, cold boiled turnips, and strained lemon juice.

The quality of Miss Draper's performance is somehow defamed by any attempt to describe it. The sketches, which she has written herself, are masterpieces of form and execution; whether she is representing an English gentlewoman circulating among the townspeople at the opening of a bazar on her estate or sketching vignettes of the people who come and go in an Italian church during the noon hour, she never allows her literary style to lose its wonderful economy and pungency. As creative works of art her sketches are superior to Cornelia Otis Skinner's, and to all others I have seen, in their inimitable balance, proportion and climax.

Her acting has remarkable range, and the kind of modest, all-inclusive competence that almost hides the true extent of her skill. With her voice she attains an amazing wealth of color and dynamics. She has a keen ear for inflection and dialect, and her Italian and German are as remarkable as her English, American, and Irish.

But her appeal is by no means purely vocal and auditory; her use of her body is pictorially communicative, and has the fluent expressiveness of fine dancing. Nobody in last night's audience is likely to forget the final episode of "In a Church in Italy," a deeply moving pantomime of a young Italian girl pausing in adoration of the Virgin.

Miss Draper will present two different programs today. She is no more to be taken lightly than Katharine Cornell or Lynn Fontanne. She is a great actress.

Abrasive Exhibit Opened to Public at Museum of Science

An exhibit on the scientific history, development and uses of modern abrasives, sponsored by the Carborundum company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was opened to the public at the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park yesterday. Dr. Frank J. Tone, president of the company, and Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, president of the museum, took part in the dedication ceremony at a preview Thursday.

Features of the exhibit are a reproduction of the laboratory in which Dr. Edward Goodrich Acheson created the first manufactured abrasive, silicon carbide, which he named "carborundum;" a revolving seven foot mound of the man made crystals, which reflect every color in the spectrum, on a marble base, and diaramas of the processes in converting a mixture of coke, sand, sawdust, and salt into a grinding wheel.

A demonstration booth shows the simple grinding and sanding machines while wall murals present some of the larger and more complicated wheels.

Good Morning!

By Mae Tinée.

The absorbing Theater Guild play starring Flora Robson, has been made into a forceful and quietly terrifying movie.

The tremendous pull of the piece lies in its simplicity and its authors' pitiful understanding of the submerged; the slenderness of the border line between sanity and insanity; the mental confusion that can so easily, and does so often present wrong in the disguise of right.

The murder committed in Estuary House on the lonely English marshlands is neither a crime of passion nor of avarice. . . . It is a frightened, desperate endeavor to protect the helpless—inspired by misguided mother instinct.

Mrs. Fiske, gay, selfish, and paradoxically, carelessly generous remnant of a stage beauty of other years, maintained in comfort by a former lover, is slain by her gentle companion housekeeper, Ellen Creed—to whom she has always been most kind. . . .

Why?

Because—she will not permit Ellen's two addled sisters to make their home at Estuary House. . . .

The peculiarities of Emily and Louisa Creed have caused the police to issue the edict that they must either live with Ellen—under her personal supervision—or be put away. Mrs. Fiske, almost distracted by their activities during a prolonged visit to Ellen, emphatically refuses to harbor them longer. . . . And so—Ellen kills her.

Quietly hair raising incidents, made doubly effective by lightning flashes of droll humor, lead up to the crime which occurs in the early stages of the picture. . . . It is committed out of camera range, but is vividly burned into the imagination thru clever detail—the crash of hands on piano keys . . pearls from a broken strand, rolling on the floor. . . .

And then—the long shadowy trail of corroding fear. . . . The wild scurryings of subterfuge. . . . The shattering discovery that an evil mind, shrewder than Ellen's own, has sensed the secret, and fastened upon it fangs that worry, worry it in its hiding place and, finally drag it forth. . . . But, maybe you didn't see the play! I shall make no further disclosures. . . .

I don't believe that even Bette Davis could more effectively have repeated Miss Robson's great performance than does Ida Lupino. . . . She is tragically, movingly believable. . . . So are Elsa Lancaster and Edith Barrett as the sisters, Miss Barrett playing the happy nut and Miss Lancaster the intense one—disconcertingly astute at times. . . . Both project a lovable something that explains their sister's devotion. . . . All three, somehow keep you reminding yourself—"There, but for the grace of God, am I!"

Isobel Elsom, who played Mrs. Fiske in the stage original is again brilliantly in character and I can't say enough in praise of the work of Louis Hayward as Ellen's worthless nephew and Evelyn Keyes as Mrs. Fiske's susceptible maid. . . . Clyde Cook, veteran of slapstick, contributes some refreshing pantomine and Emma Dunn and Queenie Leonard as sisters of charity provide a touch of normalcy for which you are grateful.

The film closely follows the stage show. . . . Eerie backgrounds have been cunningly photographed, and, thru the cleverest of direction, "atmosphere" has been captured and the action fairly throbs with suspense.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Oct. 17.—Howard Hughes is going into full scale movie production. He recently signed Ginger Rogers for a picture at Ginger's record price of $175,000, and now he's planning production of an aviation superspecial, "Trans-Atlantic Clipper." It's to be a sort of "Grand Hotel" of the air. . . . On the Samuel Goldwyn lot all the important people have signs with their names on them projecting from above their office doors. But Paul Gallico's offices don't carry Paul's name. Instead, the sign says, "The Bull Pen." . . . Jack Benny is reading John Barrymore's old film, "Are You a Mason?" and Paramount may star him in it. . . . Donald Meek has been studying magic for his rôle in "Rise and Shine," and now Veronica Lake is taking Black Art lessons from Jan Grippo for her part in "This Gun for Hire."

Howard Hawks winds up shooting "Ball of Fire" this week, and on Tuesday departs with the Gary Coopers and the Robert Taylors for Sun Valley, where they'll meet Ernest Hemingway. Cooper, a gun nut and almost as good a marksman as the real Sergt. York, has been taking bow-and-arrow lessons from Howard Hill, ace archer. Don't be surprised if Coop and Hemingway go after big game with primitive weapons.

It is well known that an actor doesn't know what's good for him. Hollywood history indicates that most stars, who have insisted on the right to choose their own material, have chosen themselves right out of stardom. And many a star has had his best rôle forced upon him practically over his dead body.

George Raft missed the boat when he spurned "The Maltese Falcon" and handed an acting plum to Humphrey Bogart. . . . Gary Cooper tried to duck "Sergeant York." . . . Claudette Colbert at first didn't want to do "It Happened One Night," which won her an Oscar. . . . And Claudette turned down the gal part in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," which was Jean Arthur's good luck. . . . Robert Donat and Fredric March would have nothing to do with "Captain Blood," and a newcomer named Errol Flynn took the job.

Charles Laughton screamed at playing Capt. Bligh in "Mutiny on the Bounty." He claimed the character was absurd and the dialog was phony. . . . Flynn snooted "Four Daughters," and young Jeffrey Lynn got his chance. . . . Carole Lombard and Myrna Loy turned down the Colbert part in "It Happened One Night," and Robert Montgomery passed up the rôle played by Clark Gable. . . . And, of course, a classic bum guess was George Jessel's turning down "The Jazz Singer," which made Al Jolson a new fortune.

A newly revised edition of The Boston Cooking School Cookbook has been published by Little, Brown and company, and it seems to me the best version yet. Recipes have been modernized in accordance with the latest scientific knowledge of cookery, and there are many new recipes. Price remains the same, $2.50.

Fannie Farmer, author of the original Boston Cooking School Cookbook, was one of the first experts to make cooking a science. She established the principle of accurate measurements in recipes, banishing the "scant cupful," the "heaping tablespoonful" and other vague directions which were confusing to inexperienced cooks.

The new edition has been revised by Wilma Lord Perkins, who was editor of the 1930 and 1936 editions of this famous cookbook.

* *

"A Book of Hors d'Oeuvre," by Lucy G. Allen, published by the same firm and available at $1.75, is another revised cookbook. It's full of old and new ideas to aid the woman who entertains.

Both books may be found in book stores. Please don't try to order them thru this department. My only interest in reporting new cookbooks is to acquaint the homemaker with what is available to help her with her cooking and meal planning.

* *

Have you noticed the new type in which our recipes are set these days? Several readers complained that the print was so small they had difficulty reading proportions correctly. We hope they'll have no more trouble.

* *

Nobody likes a good doughnut better than I do, whether it comes from a home frying kettle or a commercial doughnut machine. But I get a little tired of the "novel" ideas which the commercial doughnut interests keep sending. A doughnut has no place in a salad, to my notion. And I don't want any doughnut served to me with a topping of marshmallow fluff and melted chocolate. Let's have doughnuts and coffee for breakfast, lunch, or midafternoon snack, but let's have them plain or sugared.

I'm no physician, but that "doughnut reducing diet" sounds bad to me. Thought up by a New York "plastic surgeon and beauty authority," it calls for a breakfast of two doughnuts and a cup of coffee, a lunch of two doughnuts and the juice of two oranges, midafternoon lunch of two doughnuts and a glass of milk, and a "dinner" at 8 of the same. A vitamin capsule at bedtime is recommended.

Let's have less nonsense with our doughnuts, please!

'TAIN'T SO: That if you leave orange juice exposed to the air for as long as 15 minutes it will lose all its vitamin C . . . that oysters are dangerous if eaten in any but the "R" months [but they don't taste as good in summer because it's the spawning season . . . that beef broth is nourishing [it stimulates appetite, but has no food value].

As announced all this week, the 1941 Bridge Examination will start Monday, Oct. 20. The conditions of the exam are exactly the same as those that covered last year's affair and the schedule of final rankings will also be the same, namely:

Final Standing of	Grade.
950 points and over	Master
875-949 points	Expert
800-874 points	Advanced
700-799 points	Good average
600-699 points	Weak average
500-599 points	Poor
Below 500 points	Dub

Once more I wish to point out that you can easily rate yourself by waiting one week and comparing your answers with the official answers that will appear in this column. However, if you prefer to have me do your ranking for you, send your answers in weekly batches, mailed in one envelope, on Sunday at the week's end. Address the envelope to Ely Culbertson, care of this paper. When I do the ranking I send signed certificates of merit to those examinees who end up with master, expert, or advanced rating. All this service is cheerfully extended free of charge to readers of this paper.

Please note one important fact: It is a physical impossibility for me to correspond with readers who may disagree with my answers. All controversial points will be thoroly thrashed out at a future time, but individual argument on the subject is beyond my capacity.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	2 clubs	Pass	4 hearts
Pass	Pass	Pass

West made his normal opening, the spade king. East played the deuce, and declarer unhesitatingly followed with the seven. On the half baked analysis that the one way to save game was to find East with the spade ace, so that he might come thru the diamond king, which West arbitrarily "placed" in declarer's hand, West continued with a spade. Declarer gobbled up this trick and ruffed his third spade in dummy, then gayly discarded three losing diamonds on the ace, king, queen of clubs.

West, in leading the second spade, must have thought his partner was a horrible player. If East had held the spade ace it was inconceivable that he would have failed to overtake and return a diamond to dummy's weakness. Certainly he would have done this rather than play the discouraging deuce on West's king. Faced with a solid club suit, West easily should have seen that the only hope of defeating the contract was to cash diamond tricks before surrendering the lead. As between placing East with a card which he had said in clearest terms he did not hold, and leading away from a tenace, surely West's choice was not difficult.

Busy Hands of 1941 Require Special Care

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The rôles women are playing in defense work are becoming increasingly important. Wives with men in training were the first to feel the urge to busy themselves in some kind of helpful work, such as knitting, Red Cross work, and other branches of activity. Sweethearts found themselves suddenly gladdened with "sparklers" on the third finger, left hand. And so hands suddenly came into the limelight.

Busy hands being more in evidence than ever, we feel it a fitting time to emphasize their beauty care. Rolling bandages, sewing, and knitting are good ways to limber them up and make them more graceful. But, unaccustomed as they may be to the new work you are doing, they may become tired, and, in some instances, cramped. A good exercise to ease that tired, cramped feeling is first to drop your arms limply to your sides, and shake your fingers loosely for a minute or so. Then, when your fingers feel relaxed, stretch them taut, then relax them. Next, raise your arms high above your head, with fingers stretched taut. Hold for a second, then relax them and shake the fingers. Before going to bed at night, soak your hands for about three minutes in lukewarm soap suds. Rinse them in clear, lukewarm water. Dry them thoroly, then gently massage a hand cream or lotion into the pores. Leave the cream or lotion on all night.

ELEANOR NANGLE REPLIES

If you have a beauty problem on which you need advice, write to Eleanor Nangle in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. For a personal reply inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your question.

Brush Lashes Daily.

R. B.—Brush and oil your lashes daily to help improve their growth. You can have artificial lashes applied at a beauty salon. If properly trimmed they will not look theatrical. These are not too satisfactory for everyday wear, but are all right for special occasions.

Use Good Eye Lotion.

S. R.—Use a good eye lotion regularly. Perhaps you should consult a physician to get at the cause of the yellowed look of the whites of the eyes. It may be due to some physical disorder.

Pretty Snub Nose.

T. M.—There isn't much you can do about that retrousse nose. I wouldn't worry too much about it. Most people consider it attractive.

Crocheted "Hug-Me-Tight"

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The unusual, crocheted, "hug-me-tight" is made in one triangular piece and then joined. That is all there is to creating one of these warm and comfortable jackets. A few balls of Shetland floss, the easy double crochet stitch, and a shell trimming are the requirements for completing this jacket. The instructions include directions for making the large, medium and small sizes.

For instructions in crocheting the hug-me-tight, No. 395, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

This evening Mr. Hambro will speak in Oak Park. Tomorrow he is scheduled to address the Nordmanns Forbundt, of which he is world president, at a dinner at the Norske Klub.

Altho Ambrose Cramer's birthday was yesterday, he postponed its celebration so that the Cramers might attend the Victory roundup last night. Mrs. Cramer will give a frontier party for him in their log cabin on the Des Plaines river tonight.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 17.—Wisconsin's Badgers, the same boys who last week were sent reeling by a 41 to 14 onslaught launched by Northwestern's Wildcats, are going back to the football war tomorrow with their chins up. The sting of the Marquette defeat has healed—they hope. The unhappy affair with the Wildcats has been forgotten—they hope. And now comes Iowa, an experienced, well knit outfit that, even tho losing, 6 to 0, threw a terrifying scare into Michigan's muscular Wolverines.

The thought that the Badgers might suddenly start to roll against the Hawkeyes isn't exactly general. The hard hit Harry Stuhldreher sees a ray of hope in the fact that his cardinal clad young men weren't as feeble against the Wildcats as the score indicated. But the perennial experts on capitol square are inclined to fear that Wisconsin's defense will be driven back by the versatile attack conceived by Dr. Eddie Anderson.

They've a Few Tricks Ready.

One item on which the Badgers have made up their minds is passing. They've concentrated all week on aerial tricks that are liable to be touched off from any point in a back field which has another asset in more than an average amount of speed. But the Hawks, made up of four seniors and seven juniors, have seen these passing tricks in other years and weren't mystified to any extent. Then too, there is that long standing Wisconsin habit of picking bad spots in which to make mistakes.

If the recent struggles between the two foes mean anything there will not be a shutout recorded. The last of these was in 1932 when the Badgers piled up a 34 to 0 triumph. The next year Iowa carried off a 26 to 7 decision. The next meeting was in 1937, Wisconsin winning, 13 to 6. The Badgers did it again in 1938, the score being 31 to 13. Iowa did it by 19 to 13 in 1939 and last fall repeated by a 30 to 12 count.

Sticks to Lineup.

Disregarding what happened to his 11 starters against Northwestern last week-end, Coach Stuhldreher will bounce back with the same combination. That means only one senior, six juniors, and four sophomores against the thoroly experienced Hawkeyes. But one of the Badger sophomores happens to be Pat Harder, the full back find who in two games eased the grief over the graduation of the battering George Paskvan.

Iowa came up during the week with yarns of minor injuries, but the Badgers are inclined to suspect an attempt to mislead them. The expectation is that Dr. Anderson will turn loose, at least for the start, the 11 men who drew the assignments against Michigan two weeks ago. Among these will be Jim Walker, the Negro tackle, who blocked a punt, captured the ball and dashed sixty yards to a touchdown in the battle of a year ago.

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—One of the hottest football towns in the United States again has gone goofy over an Ohio State eleven which hasn't yet met a Western conference opponent.

Approximately 72,000, the capacity of the stadium, tomorrow will see Purdue, beaten by Vanderbilt and victorious over Pittsburgh, meet the Buckeyes, conquerors of Missouri and Southern California, in the ninth battle of a gridiron series that had its origin in 1920.

The thousands parading up and down High street and milling in hotel lobbies tonight won't accept the statement of Paul Brown, Ohio State's new coach, that he doesn't want to set the world on fire. They expect him to burn up the conference. The spirit in Columbus on the eve of the team's Big Nine campaign is reminiscent of the enthusiasm that prevailed in the early days of Francis Schmidt's regime.

Coach Paul Is on the Spot.

Coach Brown has done his best to combat the optimism prevailing on and off the campus. He has tried to point out that he isn't satisfied with his squad's defense against plays the Boilermakers are certain to use. But Columbus believes, as it usually does at this stage of the season, that Ohio State has the greatest team intercollegiate football has known.

Ohio's 33 to 0 victory over Southern California two weeks ago was all the fans needed to convince them of its class. They apparently haven't read that the Trojan eleven which faced the Buckeyes is rated the weakest group Southern California has put on the field in the last decade.

Mal Elward and his squad of 36 Purdue players stopped in Columbus for breakfast this morning and then moved on to Magnetic Springs, where they will remain until time to leave for the game.

Injuries Dog Purdue.

Both Purdue and Ohio State had open dates last week, but the extra time did little to rid the Boilermakers of injuries which have dogged the squad since the start of practice. John Galvin, No. 1 left half back, was left in Lafayette with facial injuries which threaten to keep him out of competition the rest of the season. It is unlikely that Marion Carter, right half back, will be able to get into the lineup tomorrow and John Petty, the squad's best full back and line backer, is far from peak condition.

Kenneth Smock, a sophomore from Indianapolis who performed creditably against Pitt, will start in Galvin's place at left half. Either Francis Meakim, sophomore from Chicago, or Anthony Berto will get the call at right half. Vincent Snyder, who played prep football under Brown at Massillon, will start at full back in the event Elward decides Petty isn't ready.

There will be only one change in the Buckeyes' battle front. Pete Hershberger, veteran end, has a throat infection and Bob Shaw is expected to take his place.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—The old guard passes. . . . Following Charley Root's retirement from the major league wars come reports that neither Charley Gehringer nor Lefty Grove will don uniforms in 1942, except, perhaps, as coaches. . . . Gehringer, no doubt, will wake some morning to learn that his name has been engraved in Cooperstown's Hall of Fame beside those of two other brilliant second basemen — Eddie Collins and Nap Lajoie. . . . Charley certainly rates with either, defensively and offensively, over the years of his long career with the Tigers. . . . If Roger Peckinpaugh is promoted to the Cleveland general managership made vacant by the resignation of Cyril Slapnicka, Jimmy Foxx is considered a good bet to succeed him. . . . The Chicago Blackhawks have had no team captain since Goalie Charley Gardiner died after the 1934 Stanley cup triumph. . . . Tommy Kuzma, who is helping Michigan football fans to get over the loss of Tommy Harmon, is only 19, and even if he does have to register for the draft two years hence, there is little chance of his being called. . . . He has flat feet. . . . Pitt's Panthers, of course, will never believe that last statement. . . . Pop Foster, the wealthiest fight manager in the country, who piloted Jimmy McLarnin to the heights, is seriously ill in a Los Angeles hospital. . . . Coach Paul Brown's victory string is now

35. . . . His Massillon High school elevens had won 33 straight before he transferred to Ohio State.

Along the Way.

God took me from a busy world
Into a bed where I must lay,
And there within that quiet room
I found Him with me every day.
Within those hours in hospital
I constantly discovered much—
The nurses' never-ending smile,
Their gentle ways, and soothing touch,
And then the doctor [God bless him]
His visits were a tonic, too,
I had a lot of time to think
[With little else for me to do],
My illness wasn't half so bad
As some one else along the hall
And thus with reason to rejoice
I knew I shouldn't fret at all.
I learned as well what friendship means
[Altho I thought I knew before]
Returning from the shadowed ways
I learned again—this much and more—
And now at last I'm home again
With my beloved family.
And life has never seemed as sweet
Or really meant as much to me.
And if I could erase these weeks
Somehow I wouldn't—not one day—
I'd hate to lose one loving word
Bestowed on me along the way.
—Hilda Butler Farr.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17. — That Minnesota game the University of Illinois football team played last week? It was something the Illini et. It was a nightmare that might happen to anybody, that 34 to 6 hallucination. Tomorrow, these same Illini aim to have fun, if they can, against a Drake university eleven coached by Vee Green, who happens to be an Illinois alumnus. A crowd of 15,000, including a considerable batch of war veterans, is anticipated.

Mr. Green, who arrived with his team in midafternoon, plans everything possible to destroy the prospective happiness of a team which has yet to face Notre Dame, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio State, and Northwestern. This would seem to be a grave breach of etiquette on Mr. Green's part, for only this evening he was honored at a dinner given by old friends from Champaign and Urbana. Vee being a native of the latter borough. Vee played at Urbana High before doing a trick at center on the 1922 and 1923 Illinois teams, playing alongside Jim McMillen on the unbeaten team of '23, Red Grange's first season.

Fancy Game Promised.

Green brings a Drake team which stresses wide sweeps and passes, so that, in view of the expected tactics of the Illini, a very fancy contest is in line. Drake defeated St. Ambrose and Grinnell, tied St. Louis, and then lost to Iowa.

Bob Zuppke, former tutor of Green, was right proud of his boys' performance against the mighty Minnesotans last week. After all, as he pointed out, the second half score against the Gophers showed only 14 to 6 against the Illini.

Zuppke plans to start five sophomores and six juniors, and neither he nor his press conferee, Mike Tobin, could remember a situation in which Illinois kicked off without a senior on the initial eleven.

Rely on Don Griffin.

It's a hard row Zup's kids have to try to hoe, but they are eager and willing to try it. Much depends upon the one time Chicagoan, Don Griffin of Fenger high, who did a noble job last week against Minnesota, and who will be working hard at left half tomorrow. Up in front of him will be a former Fenger classmate, John Genis, at right tackle. Reason for the absence of seniors in the Illini cast at the start were practice injuries to Liz Astroth of Wood River, Ill., and Myron Pfeifer of Illiopolis.

LOUIS CLASSED 1-A BY BOARD; WILL GO SOON

Joe Louis last night was placed in class 1-A by his local draft board, No. 84, 309 West 47th street.

Louis was not present when members of the board, headed by Titus O. Fentress, met and classified him for immediate duty. It is expected he will be called for induction with his board's next quota probably between Nov. 20-24.

Well, Wildcats, Here They Are

Notre Dame Bids Good-by to Carnegie Eleven Today

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 17 [Special].—Two old friends, an Irishman and a Scot, will come to a parting of the ways here tomorrow afternoon. Some 30,000 friends of the pair are inclined to think it will be an Irish wake—in honor of the Scot. Those who know the latter intimately, tho, say that he is very much alive in spite of the dizzy fall he has taken.

In other words, undefeated Notre Dame will play twice-beaten Carnegie Tech in Pitt stadium in the final game of a series which started in 1922. The expected attendance of 30,000 or more for an exhibition which promises to be as hotly contested as a match between Joe Louis and a punching bag is a tribute to the drawing power of Notre Dame, as well as to the sentiment which has grown up thru nearly two decades of friendly warfare.

Seeks Moderate Score.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, who played tackle for the 1929 Irish in their 7 to 0 victory over one of the greater Tech elevens, is almost as worried over the possibility of an overwhelming Irish victory as he is over more disturbing thoughts of an upset. He does not relish the idea of trampling an old friend like Carnegie.

In defeating Arizona, 38 to 7; Indiana, 19 to 6, and Georgia Tech, 20 to 0, the Irish have looked fully as strong as last year's team appeared in its early games. Carnegie has not only lost two out of three games, but the defeats have been at the hands of Westminster, 19 to 13, and Muhlenberg, 26 to 0. The lone victory came, 12 to 0, at the expense of Albright.

A large part of tomorrow's gathering will be present at the final Irish visit to Pittsburgh to see Steve Juzwik, the little round right half back from Chicago; Owen [Dippy] Evans, the 178 pound power back who has raced to four touchdowns and 203 yards from rushing—more than Notre Dame's three opponents have combined to make, and Angelo Bertelli, the sophomore left half back who has completed 22 out of 35 passes for 330 yards.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The blue chips will be down this afternoon in Dyche stadium, when the football warriors of Michigan and Northwestern, contenders for Minnesota's crown, battle for survival in the 1941 campaign. A near capacity homecoming crowd of at least 45,000 will sit in on the first major clash of the Big Nine season.

Today's loser conceivably may recover to share in the title, since both rivals meet the champions. The margin of defeat, however, will indicate the chances for future success. Michigan and Northwestern inaugurate the round robin which last year decided the title when Minnesota whipped each of today's contestants by one point.

Today's game is the 16th in a series that has been played intermittently since 1892 and annually since 1932. It is the Wildcats' homecoming and it will be preceded by introduction of the famous 1916 football squad by Kenneth L. Wilson, director of athletics. The kickoff is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

They're Both Unbeaten.

Northwestern and Michigan each has won a conference game. The Wolverines defeated Iowa, 6 to 0, Michigan State, 19 to 7, and Pittsburgh, 40 to 0. Northwestern trampled on Wisconsin last week, 41 to 14, and prior to that had defeated Kansas State, 51 to 3.

The Wildcats apparently are a popular choice because of the plethora of backs, including Senior Bill De Correvont and Sophomore Otto Graham, but a survey of line material, notably at the flanks and guards, shows it to be lacking in experience compared to the Michigan men. The Wolverine team is founded on a sturdy veteran line, and, for that fact alone, Michigan should be rated on equal terms.

Michigan whipped Northwestern last year, 20 to 13, the Wildcats' misplays and indifferent kicking contributing largely to Michigan's success.

Leon Cook Is Out.

Leon Cook, who has started at right tackle for Northwestern in previous games, is the only casualty on either squad. Cook suffered an injured knee in practice this week.

Northwestern also may have the handicap of overconfidence. Ninety-two points in two games form a barrier the coaches' warnings may not be able to penetrate. In an effort to overcome the players' natural confidence because of these overwhelming victories, the starting personnel has been changed. Only Nick Burke, left guard, and Alf Bauman, left tackle, have retained their starting assignments in the line and Capt. Tuffy Chambers will be replaced by Ike Kepford at right half.

Changes Mean Little.

In most positions, however, since the work is divided between two or more men, these changes merely are honorary. They are intended, of course, to keep the players on their toes. The exception is at right tackle, where sophomores must bear the brunt of Michigan's attack since Cook is injured.

Unless Northwestern gets to its third back field group, Michigan will use as many sophomores as Northwestern does. Graham, Tony Samarzia, right tackle, and Bob Wallis, right end, may be classed as Wildcat regulars. Samarzia and Wallis will start. For Michigan, Tom Kuzma will start at left half while Paul White, sophomore right half back from River Rouge, Mich., very likely will play more than Harold Lockard, a junior who will start.

JOCKEY'S BACK BROKEN IN FALL AT SPORTSMAN'S

The first serious accident of the Sportsman's Park meeting occurred yesterday in the seventh race when Hubert Kees, riding Magic Winnie, was thrown in a collision with Cardibre. Kees was taken to St. Anthony's hospital with a broken back. Physicians said his condition was serious.

Virgil Phillips, who was riding Cardibre, was not injured. In the fourth race Florizan Sally stumbled and threw Nick Jemas.

Kees, who was born in Durand, Wis., is 29 years old.

RINGER HEARING SET FOR FRIDAY; JOCKEY CLEARED

Bohn Permitted to Ride at Sportsman's Park.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Formal action against the culprits in the Rapid Bone ringer case was launched yesterday when Maj. Edny-fed Williams, chairman of the Illinois racing board, returned from Maryland and announced that all parties concerned would be asked to attend a hearing next Friday.

Tho Maj. Williams declined to name all who will be invited to appear, the list is certain to include Brad Brodsky, who owned Hasty Notion the last time the horse ran under his right name, and R. V. C. Van Cleve, who brought the animal to Hawthorne masquerading as Rapid Bone, according to the findings of the investigators. "Rapid Bone," supposedly a first starter, won a race at Hawthorne on Sept. 24.

But Will They Appear?

The next question which arises is whether the persons involved actually will appear. It is not generally considered likely. If they do not, they will be ruled off the turf. This penalty, of course, is considered inadequate and an attempt will be made to find grounds for prosecution under Illinois criminal law. Maj. Williams said yesterday that he plans to launch a move making it a federal offense to ship a horse from one state to another with the intention of defrauding the public.

Van Cleve is reported to be in California. Brodsky is a Philadelphian. Neither played an important part in racing until both suddenly jumped into the center of attention with the breaking of the Rapid Bone case. Van Cleve is identified vaguely as a "Texas horseman" and Brodsky is a Philadelphia lawyer who is in the woolen business.

As for the real Rapid Bone, the investigators still are checking in an effort to determine his whereabouts, dead or alive. Such a horse apparently existed at one time, for he was registered with the Jockey club of New York as having been bred by David Becker of Ottawa, Kas. He never did get to the races, however, so the task of tracing him has been somewhat complicated.

Praises Hawthorne Officials.

"I wish to state that Charles Krutckoff and Charles Bidwill, president and chairman of the board of Hawthorne, respectively, deserve a great share of the credit for running down the evidence in this case," Maj. Williams said yesterday. "Their alertness largely was responsible for opening up the investigation. We also benefited by the close coöperation of the Maryland racing authorities."

Another development of the day was the clearing of Ralph Bohn, who rode Rapid Bone in both his Hawthorne appearances, from blame in connection with the case. The stewards permitted him to accept mounts as usual yesterday at Sportsman's Park, thereby vouching for the fact that they considered him in the clear.

Meet a Ringer and His Mysterious Owner

Turf fans who wagered on or against "Rapid Bone" in the third race at Hawthorne on Sept. 24 will be interested in this picture of the horse, which has been identified as Hasty Notion, a veteran eastern campaigner. The man at the bridle is Owner R. V. C. VanCleve, who has vanished to parts unknown as the Illinois racing board investigates, and the jockey is Ralph Bohn. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

PHILLIPS KEEPS SLATE CLEAN IN CENTRAL SECTION

Beats Kelly, 19 to 13, for 4th Straight Victory.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

The most popular athlete in Chicago's Negro colony on the south side last night was not Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis but a 145 pound half back, Ranis Thomas of Wendell Phillips High school's football team.

Thomas yesterday afternoon distinguished himself as Phillips defeated Kelly, 19 to 13, in Shewbridge field for its fourth consecutive victory in the central section of the Public School league and boosted its hopes to reach Mayor Kelly's game in Soldiers' field on Nov. 29. Thomas scored two touchdowns in the victory, the first recorded by Phillips over Kelly since the latter school joined the league seven years ago.

Phillips, this season under the direction of Leonard Sachs, Loyola university basketball coach, now is expected to reach its big game with Tilden Tech on Nov. 7 for the sectional championship with an unbeaten record.

Meet Du Sable Next.

The south siders will oppose Du Sable, which has won only one of five games, in Soldiers' field next Saturday and Farragut, which also has only one triumph this season, in Normal Park on Oct. 31. Tilden Tech, co-holder of first place in the central zone, will face Farragut and Englewood before the Phillips engagement.

Kelly threw a scare into the Phillips eleven when it scored early in the first quarter after recovering a fumble on the Phillips 22 yard line. It required only five plays to cross the goal line, Full Back Bob La Francis carrying the ball once for a five yard gain and Gene Mageria, who replaced the injured Kenneth Rowe at right half back, making 18 yards in the four other attempts, the final try being from the 3 yard line. Mike Pontarelli added the extra point when his kick sailed between the uprights.

Phillips also capitalized on an opportunity in the second quarter when Kelly, deep in its own territory, attempted to punt. The kick was blocked and recovered by Phillips on the Kelly 10 yard line. Only two plays were needed to score, Thomas bringing the ball to the 2 yard line on the first attempt. Then Otis Finney, quarter back, plunged over. Thomas attempted to run around left end for the extra point, but was dropped on the 2 yard line.

Phillips Takes Lead.

Phillips went ahead in the third quarter when Thomas shot a forty yard pass to Duke Davis, left half back, who was downed immediately on the Kelly 10 yard line. Finney carried the ball to the 5 yard line and on the next play Thomas scored his first touchdown on a wide end run. Finney's kick for the extra point was wide and low and Phillips led, 12 to 7.

Kelly, however, regained the lead early in the final period on a sleeper pass play. Kelly received the ball on the 28 yard line after Phillips was penalized fifteen yards for unnecessary roughness. Then Pontarelli faked an end run, tossed a pass to Bruno Bednarz, right end, who was on the left side of the field, ten yards from the nearest Phillips player. Kelly failed to add the extra point when Pontarelli's kick was blocked.

With five minutes remaining in the game Thomas assured Phillips of its victory when he raced 50 yards for a touchdown. William Warden kicked the extra point. It was Kelly's third defeat in five central division games.

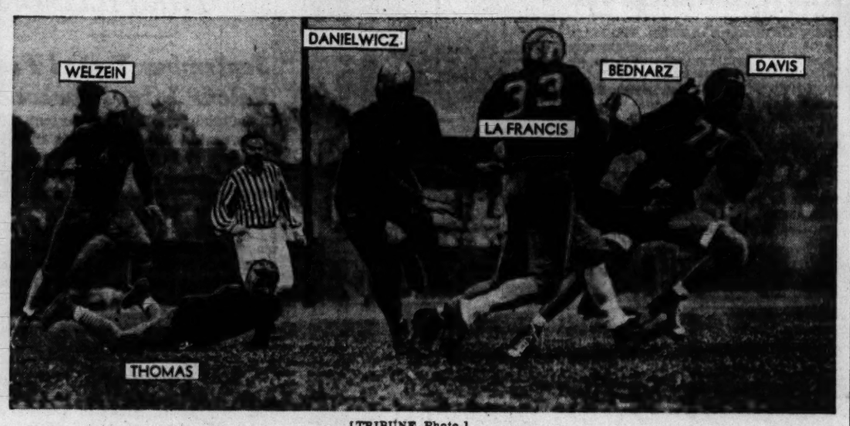
Everybody There Saw Kelly's Bruno Bednarz



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Bruno Bednarz, Kelly right end, crashes thru Phillips' interference to drop Montell Davis for a loss early in the second quarter of yesterday's central section game on Shewbridge field. Phillips won its fourth straight victory, 19 to 13, despite the energetic Mr. Bednarz, who, later on, caught a twenty-eight yard touchdown pass from Mike Pontarelli as a Kelly counter-rally fell short in the last quarter.

Marquette to Battle Kansas in Night Game

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 17 [Special].—Two southeastern Kansas boys, from towns 40 miles apart, are expected to put on a pitchers' duel when Marquette university's football team opens its home campaign against Kansas tomorrow night.

Both the Jayhawkers and the Hilltoppers have made their heaviest advances by air this fall, with Quarter Back Ralph Miller tossing the ball for Kansas and Half Back Jimmy Richardson throwing for Marquette. Richardson, now a Milwaukeean, was born at Independence, Kas., 40 miles from Chanute, the home town of Miller.

Both boys have brilliant aerial records this fall. Miller, who boasted the best forward passing in the country in 1939, has this year completed 25 of his 43 passes for a total gain of 265 yards, with five interceptions. Richardson is currently leading the nation's passers with 16 completions in 22 attempts, his work resulting in 200 yards gain, three touchdowns and no interceptions.

Greenberg May Get Release, but Not Before Jan. 1

Fort Custer, Mich., Oct. 17 (AP).—Corp. Henry Greenberg has applied for discharge from the army under the revised selective service law, military authorities disclosed today, but the former Detroit Tiger's release is unlikely before Jan. 1.

Intelligence officers of the Fifth division, of which the American league's most valuable player of 1940 is a member, said Greenberg was the last selectee in a group now being considered for release under the war department's plan to discharge 28-year-olds. Greenberg, who is 30, was inducted May 7.

Second army headquarters has a tentative quota of 930 releases by Jan. 1, it was pointed out, but Greenberg is the last on that list. After Jan. 1 he will be one of the first to be considered.

GOPHERS SLEEP SOUNDLY ALTHO PANTHERS ARRIVE

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 17.—Pittsburgh's Panthers are right here in town, bless their hearts. Many teams that come here to play football against Minnesota's Gophers hide out of a Friday over in St. Paul. Not the Panthers. They can take it, at least the day and evening before the fateful whistle blows.

They say that 35,000 are going to see tomorrow's engagement between the emphasized Gophers and the de-emphasized Panthers. Which would seem to indicate there are 35,000 folks here who will pay to see the Gophers frisk around on the football lawn, regardless of the provocation.

What's the Answer?

The man who knows why thousands paid a half million or so to see Lou Nova go into a ring with Joe Louis recently probably will be able to tell you why 35,000 are going to watch the Gophers work out against the Panthers tomorrow.

It should be added, however, that there is no distortion of sports values around the hotel lobbies, smoke shops, saloons, and other joints where wise guys hang out and pop off. If they had joints in Evanston one might imagine on entering one of the bazaars here that he was a few feet from Dyche stadium. All the bugs around here are wondering what Northwestern is going to do to Michigan, or vice versa.

Even Bierman Not Worried.

The Gophers, you know, play the Wolverines next Saturday and the Wildcats a week later. No one has forgotten about Ohio State, which Minnesota doesn't play, but just the same the championship conscious Gophers are thinking almost exclusively about the doings in Evanston tomorrow.

In his authorings Coach Bernie Bierman devoted most of his adjectives to the future Gopher foes rather than the Panthers. Bierman probably would like to throw in a couple of routine spasms of worry about the Panthers, but the Pittsburghers' poor showing in their 40 to 0 loss to Michigan last week made it pretty difficult for the Gopher coach to view with alarm.

Coach Charles Bowser of the Panthers says: "Our morale is good, under the circumstances." What else could the fellow say?

Purified. Now What?

Still, we can see why Bierman is a little softened up anent the Panthers. Apparently one of the reasons Pittsburgh got pure several years ago was to have said virtue recognized by the Big Nine bigwigs who must have pure opponents, even when they are playing among themselves.

So what happens? The Panthers reach the full flower of football virtue in 1941. This is the year they got on four Big Nine schedules, including such soft touches as Michigan, Minnesota, and Ohio State. What we can't understand is how they happened to miss Northwestern. We know of no team in history so admirably scheduled to set the all time hollow shell or mere-shadow-of-its-former-self record as these same Panthers.

SANTA CLARA 3-1 FAVORITE OVER MICHIGAN STATE

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 17 (AP).—Santa Clara, only undefeated and untied major football team in the far west, plays an intersectional game tomorrow with Michigan State.

The Broncos last week whipped California, 13 to 0, but the overwhelming odds established for them against the visitors from the middle west were a source of uneasiness for Coach L. T. [Buck] Shaw.

In this section it was 3 to 1 the pass tossing Santa Clara team would make it three victories in four clashes with Michigan State. The game was expected to attract a crowd of 30,000 fans. Fair weather was forecast. Delayed 17 hours in Colorado by a bridge washout, the Michigan State squad was due here tonight. Lineup:

West High of Waterloo Defeats Tilden, 9 to 0

Waterloo, Ia., Oct. 17 [Special].—Irwin Knox tonight led West High of Waterloo to a 9 to 0 victory over Tilden Technical High school of Chicago. Knox scored a touchdown on a 14 yard run in the first quarter and kicked a 28 yard field goal in the final period. Eddie Uvodich, Tilden half back, ran 100 yards for a touchdown in the opening period, but it was not allowed, officials ruling that he had touched the ground behind his own goal line before making the long run.

SHORT LINE RAILS TELL WHY THEY CAN'T BOOST PAY

Testify Revenues Have Declined Steadily.

Representatives of the American Short Line Railroad association and the Railway Express Agency, Inc., told the President's fact finding commission in Kimball hall yesterday why their organizations were unable to meet demands for wage increases.

J. M. Hood, president of the short line association, had read into the record a statement of his organization's problems. He said revenues have been declining steadily for the short railroads, many of them local enterprises, and that competition had been effective. The association has a membership of 309 railroads, including the Chicago Tunnel company and the Chicago Tunnel Terminal corporation which operate a freight system far beneath Chicago's streets.

Fails to Meet Expenses.

Hood said the Chicago Tunnel company did not meet its expenses in any year between 1932 and 1940 except 1934 and that in the first eight months of this year it failed by more than $15,000 to meet operating expenses. The terminal company between 1931 and 1940 earned expenses only in 1932, 1936, 1938, 1939, and 1940.

Trucks have provided particularly strong competition for the short line roads, he said, because of the short distances over which the lines operate. Waterways also have taken a large slice of the business of the short roads.

Hood contended that short lines should not be put in the same class with the standard roads in wage matters because of the great differences in operating conditions.

William H. Benson, vice president of the Railway Express Agency, said that revenues have been on the decline and that imposition of a 30 cent an hour wage boost, plus a minimum of 70 cents an hour, would impose too heavy a burden on the agency.

PROFITS OF TWO STEEL PRODUCTS MAKERS LARGER

Leather Firm Reports Net Income for Quarter.

Two steel products makers and a major processor of leather were among several companies which issued reports yesterday showing improvement in earnings.

In Peoria, Ill., Keystone Steel and Wire company announced that it had a profit of $352,414, equal to 47 cents a share, for the three months ended Sept. 30, the first quarter of its fiscal year. In the corresponding period a year earlier net income was lower at $280,409, or 37 cents a share. Keystone makes wire fence, concrete reinforcing bars and numerous other finished and semi-finished products.

A. O. Smith Sales Climb.

A. O. Smith corporation, Milwaukee, Wis., manufacturer of auto frames and gas and oil pipe, reported sales as well as a rise in net income for the fiscal year ended July 31. Profit was $2,734,657, equal to $5.49 a share, compared with $1,686,681, or $3.38 a share, in the preceding year.

Net sales jumped to $46,667,754, from $29,835,418.

American Hide and Leather company's report for the quarter ended Sept. 30 showed a net income of $278,323, equal to 37 cents a share, in contrast with a net loss of $139,117 in the corresponding 1940 period.

Tool Maker Reports Gain.

Warner and Swasey company, maker of turret lathes and other machine tools, reported a September quarter profit of $1,181,482, equal to $1.44 a share, compared with $668,855, or 84 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1940.

A downturn in September profit to $581,086, from $710,974 in the 1940 month, was reported by Caterpillar Tractor company, of Peoria. For the nine months ended with September, however, net income was larger than a year earlier at $5,873,696, compared with $5,486,636.

ARMS CONTRACT COST A FACTOR IN EUREKA LOSS

Eureka Vacuum Cleaner company encountered costly difficulties trying to fill an arms program contract and finally canceled the order, H. W. Burritt, president, disclosed yesterday in a report showing that the company had a $475,113 net loss in the fiscal year ended July 31.

Expense in connection with the order was one of the nonrecurring items which helped cause the year's loss, Burritt said, but he asserted some benefit had been derived from the contract.

"While the experience was costly, the company did gain some thru training and experience," he said. "Currently the company is in production on five defense products."

Another nonrecurring loss, he said, resulted from inability to fill a large contract for cleaners of a type new to Eureka. Priority rulings prevented Eureka from getting some of the needed metals, with the result that the agreement had to be canceled at "a heavy loss," Burritt said.

No comparison of the year's showing with an earlier period was available, the fiscal period having been changed.

Retailers Warned Against Advertising Tax Absorption

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 [Special].—The bureau of internal revenue today issued a warning to merchants not to advertise that they are paying retail taxes on certain articles and not passing on the cost to their customers. The internal revenue code, officials pointed out, prohibits such advertising and provides the penalty of a fine of not more than $1,000.

Crude Oil Stock Declines During Week Ended Oct. 11

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—The bureau of mines reported today stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum on Oct. 11 totaled 243,571,000 barrels, a net decrease of 2,573,000 barrels compared with a week earlier. Daily average production for the week was 4,071,000 barrels or an increase of 210,000 barrels.

ASKS PRICE LAW 'JUST TO AVOID PROFITEERING'

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 (AP).—Rep. Reid F. Murray [R., Wis.] urged the house banking committee today to write a price control bill "just from the standpoint of keeping out profiteering."

"People with fixed income want protection," said Murray, who appeared as a witness on price legislation. "They want control which will avoid making of huge profits by anybody."

Limiting prices on products, Murray contended, may result in reduced production in agriculture.

"You can fix a ceiling on prices of agricultural products," he said, "but you can't make a man work or make a farmer produce cotton if you've put on a ceiling that limits his wage by limiting his returns. A farmer will not produce cotton if you limit the price at 17 cents, which may mean 17 cents an hour in wages, while he can go out in industry and get $4 or $5 a day."

ASKS CONVERSION OF RAIL PARLOR CARS TO COACHES

A proposal to convert a large number of parlor cars into coaches to increase the railroads' passenger carrying capacity was made yesterday by Ralph Budd, transportation commissioner and president of the Burlington railroad, to J. J. Pelley, president, Association of American Railroads.

Budd said it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain materials for railroad maintenance and repair and for new car building. The question already has been raised as to whether any materials should be used for new passenger cars, he added. In view of this situation he suggested it might be advisable to increase carrying capacity of existing equipment.

Budd said he understands there are about 750 parlor cars in the country. If 500 of them could be converted into coaches and each carrying 30 additional persons it would be equivalent to adding 250 coaches to service.

WOOL SHIP RATE CUT.

The Maritime commission has announced a reduction of 74 cents per 100 pounds in the basic freight rate on wool from Australia. The maximum rate allowed by the commission will be $3.04 per 100 pounds for greasy dumped wool.

Beneficial Industrial Loan Files Debentures

The corporation will use the money to reduce outstanding bank loans and commercial paper.

NEW BUILDING GAINS SLIGHTLY THRU ILLINOIS

September Total Far Below July, However.

Building construction thruout Illinois during September was slightly higher than in August, but was nearly 30 per cent below July and 2.7 per cent lower than the average for the first eight months of 1941.

According to the Illinois department of labor 4,196 permits were issued last month in 163 Illinois cities for buildings costing $12,464,650. In August there were 3,842 permits, valued at $12,115,296. September volume showed a slight increase in number and value over a year ago.

Residential construction thruout the state was affected by the priorities program. The number of permits for new homes issued in September was 1,302 compared with 1,408 in August. The value was $7,866,141 against $8,318,724.

The decrease in home building, however, was offset by a large gain in nonresidential building [including industrial, commercial, and business projects]. August permits numbered 751 valued at $2,227,603 and in September they totaled 931 costing $3,108,115. This is a 24 per cent gain in number of projects and 39½ per cent in value.

I. C. C. PROGRAM FOR ROCK ISLAND ROAD DEFENDED

The Interstate Commerce commission plan for the reorganization of the Rock Island railroad was defended yesterday by Wilkie Bushby, attorney for a group of first refunding mortgage bond holders. Bushby spoke at the final session of a hearing on objections to the plan before Judge Michael L. Igoe in federal District court.

Bushby, representing owners of the largest single bond issue of the line, said that the commission made the fairest and most equitable distribution of securities possible within the limits fixed by the ICC for the capitalization of the road.

The plan wipes out the equity of common and preferred stock holders and reduces the capitalization from $553,313,003 to $351,180,912.

WISCONSIN FIRM SHARES AWARD ON OHIO PROJECT

Fead J. Robers Construction company, Burlington, Wis., and the La Crosse Dredging corporation, Minneapolis, Minn., have received a $2,439,642 contract for construction of the Mill Creek Pump station near Cincinnati, O., the war department announced yesterday.

The Public Buildings administration announced a $394,586 contract to Dunlap & Co., Inc., Columbus, Ind., for a 100 dwelling housing project at Versailles, Ind. The department of the interior let a $975,800 contract to General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y., for three generators at the Keswick power plant, Central Valley project, California.

THREE RAILROADS FINED $12,000 IN CONCESSION SUIT

Practice Favored Some of Commission Men.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday fined three railroads a total of $12,000 for violation of the Elkins act, which prohibits the granting of unfair concessions or rebates to shippers. The roads and the fines were: the Alton, $5,000; Burlington, $3,000, and Missouri Pacific, $4,000.

Assistant District Attorney Lawrence Miller said that the railroads had granted certain commission men in the Chicago Produce market long term credits as a result of which they were able to operate their business virtually on railroad credit whereas competitors in the produce business had to use their own money.

Advantage to One Group.

He explained that the favored produce men were not required to make immediate payment of shipping charges on receipt of merchandise, but were able to sell the produce and pay the railroads from the profits. Most produce men did not have this advantage.

A number of commission men receiving such concessions finally went out of business owing the railroads about $100,000. It was this situation that disclosed the practice.

Welcomed by Carriers.

Bringing of the case into federal court was reported welcomed by the railroads. It was explained that the roads engaged in the practice only because of heavy competitive pressure put on them and they were glad to get an "out."

Cases of three other railroads and three commission men also involved in the case were continued until Nov. 7.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Summer at the Zoo

October 17, 1941.

THERE'S a pair of "city slickers" on the Wheaton farm trying to show the unsophisticated lambs, chickens, turkeys, and ducks how they should act in higher social circles.

These high-toned residents are Gertie and Sister, the Southdown lambs which were born on the farm this spring but were transferred to the Brookfield zoo for the summer. They were orphan lambs so the flockmaster had to feed them from a bottle for the first few weeks of their lives. As a result of this intimate contact with humans they became great pets and spent most of their time following visitors around the barnyard begging for free handouts of fresh milk. When the Brookfield zoo said that it wanted a pair of gentle lambs for the children's playground on the Brookfield property, Gertie and Sister were nominated for the job.

Southdown Snobs.

During the summer the lambs had a grand time at the zoo amusing the youngsters, so after this absence they hardly recognized their Southdown relatives and pals when they returned to the farm the other day. The flockmaster took one look at them and paid high tribute to the men at the zoo who took care of them, for the Southdowns came home in excellent condition.

The farm workers have reversed their conclusions on the pheasant population of the farm fields. While they were cutting alfalfa this summer they saw fewer pheasants than usual and the number of chicks following each hen was small. Some of the hens hatched and raised only two or three chicks. The workers naturally concluded that it was a poor season for the ringnecks.

Pheasant Outlook Good.

Since then, however, the pheasant outlook has brightened. Many hens which had unsuccessful first hatches went back on the job and raised second broods as evidenced by the number of summer chicks seen in the fields which are not full grown. Ringnecks hatched from early settings now are fully feathered and almost as large as their parents, whereas the chicks from second hatches are noticeably smaller.

Naturally, the farm residents feel pretty good about the pheasants' comeback, but they miss the annual visits of the wild ducks to the farm ponds. For the first time in many years no one has seen any wild mallards, teal, or pintail on any of the farm ponds. There are thousands of these migrants in the Illinois river valley, and doubtless many of them passed over the three farm ponds as in other years. But they failed to register at the free hotel and lunch counter operated here for their benefit.

OPM ALUMINUM REPRISAL PUTS FIRMS ON GUARD

Officials Re-examine Priority Mazes.

The Office of Production Management priorities division's first punitive action in its campaign to enforce compliance with its regulations yesterday jolted executives of many companies using materials covered by the priorities system into reëxamining the division's orders affecting their industries to determine if they had unknowingly stepped out of line.

Unfamiliarity with the complicated details of priority orders, the rapidity with which they have fallen upon business men, and the lag that occurs in adjustments to new regulations may have caused numerous unintentional violations, some company officials said.

Firm May Appeal Order.

Meanwhile, officials of the Central Pattern and Foundry company, which was ordered Thursday to suspend aluminum operations for six months because it allegedly diverted the metal to nonessential products, such as juke boxes and slot machines, conferred with attorneys on the preparation of an appeal from the order.

Frank P. Battle, president of the foundry company, and other officials declined to comment on the severe penalty. They indicated they were awaiting the receipt of the formal order from OPM.

From sources close to the company, it was learned that Battle has maintained that he had not knowingly violated the priority rules as the OPM charged. The newness of the regulations and the confusing details may be stressed by the company's attorneys as extenuating circumstances in appealing to Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson to rescind or suspend the penalty, officials intimated.

First Industry-Wide Rule.

The priorities rule over aluminum was issued last March 21. It was the first industry-wide control imposed over any material and was one of the earliest orders of the priority administration.

The order required all producers of aluminum and aluminum products to complete orders required by the armament program first and to fill no orders without a preference rating. The regulation set up a schedule of priority indicating the order in which deliveries of aluminum should be made.

Aluminum companies were required to maintain accurate records of all contracts and deliveries, and submit to audits and inspections. Special stress was placed on the prohibition of the use of preference ratings to obtain aluminum in excess of the amount needed, or for uses not covered by priority ratings. The producers were required to utilize their existing stocks of aluminum in completing armament orders.

Limits Handling of Scrap.

The regulation also limited deliveries on civilian orders to a specified percentage of the customer's 1940 monthly average receipts. The quotas ranged from 80 per cent for the highest rated orders to 10 per cent for the lowest.

A later ruling forbade the delivery of aluminum scrap for melting or processing unless the producer had been assigned a rating of A-10 or higher.

Central Pattern and Foundry was accused of misstatements in its reports of July shipments, failure to make necessary inventory reports, and having accepted deliveries of aluminum scrap without authorization.

Shortage of Scrap Closes Steel Furnaces in East

Lackawanna, N. Y., Oct. 17 (AP).—The Bethlehem Steel company started today to curtail steel-making operations at its Lackawanna plant because of lack of scrap steel. A company spokesman said two of the company's 28 active open hearth furnaces were taken out of service and another would be discontinued tomorrow.

Londoners Get U. S. Foods at Less than Cost

Many of the foods the United States is shipping Britain under the lend-lease program are retailing for less in London than in Chicago, food distributing center of the nation, food dealers reported yesterday. Some London retail prices are below wholesale prices in America, it was noted.

After comparing prices being paid in London for lend-lease foods as reported in Thursday's TRIBUNE in a cable from Larry Rue, London correspondent, the storekeepers said the British people could purchase America's finest ham, bacon, cheese, and salmon for far less than Chicagoans can buy these items.

The London report told of smoked ham retailing at the equivalent of 25 cents a pound. The wholesale price of ham in Chicago yesterday was 25 to 27 cents a pound and retailers were getting as much as 49 cents a pound.

Get Best Salmon; Not Sold Here.

The London housewife found fine sockeye salmon on her grocer's shelves for 34 cents a can. The Chicago housewife learned some time ago that the large cans of sockeye salmon such as the United States was giving the British could be purchased only at a premium. One of the larger food chains said it hadn't stocked any of this kind of canned salmon for months, last sales being made at 43 cents a can.

The United States food buying agencies purchasing cheese to give Britain paid 23¼ cents a pound for about 3 million pounds on the Wisconsin Cheese exchange at Plymouth, Wis., yesterday. Cheese made in Wisconsin factories make up the bulk of the shipments to the British. Rue reported cheese retailing in London at 22 cents a pound. Cheese of a comparable quality would cost the Chicago shopper at least 35 cents a pound, a retailer asserted.

Chicago Unable to Compete.

"Don't quote these as being the prices in my store," one Chicago retailer pleaded. "If the Chicago housewife is to see how cheaply the Londoner can buy better quality American produced food products than we can sell her, and then compare them with our prices, we would be boycotted."

London stores carry canned lunch tongue put up during the last year by Chicago meat packing companies. Rue reported they sell it for 66 cents per pound. The buyer for a food chain with offices in Chicago said that canned tongue cannot be purchased in this country at any price.

After the first bacon was shipped to England under the lend-lease plan, government officials were flooded with complaints from the British about it being too fat and not the way they wanted it. But almost as a direct result of the purchase of pork and bacon for the British, bacon is selling here for 29 to 38 cents a pound and in London for 25 to 31 cents a pound, a survey of retail prices discloses.

Prices There and Here.

A comparison of retail prices in London stores for American donated foods and for comparable quality in Chicago, follow:

	London.	Chicago.
Ham, lb.	$0.24@0.25	$0.25@0.49
Bacon, lb.	.23@ .31	.29@ .38
Salmon, tall can	.34	.43
Eggs, doz.	.45@ .50	.45@ .50
Cheese, lb.	.22	.35
Condnsd milk, tall can	.14	.14
Canned pork, lb.*	.26	.40

*The canned pork shipped to Britain is reported by packing company officials as comparable to our pork sausage. The price shown for Chicago is for link sausage said by the packing company to be of approximately the same grade as that sent abroad.

ECUADOR PLACES RESTRICTIONS ON JAPANESE TRADE

QUITO, Ecuador, Oct. 17 (AP).—The Ecuadorean government clamped restrictions on trade with Japan today as a result of complications arising from the freezing of Japanese assets in the United States.

Under the new rules all products for export to Japan must be purchased with Ecuador's national currency, and all imports as well as exports will be strictly supervised by the finance ministry.

The regulations are expected to even up trade between the two countries, formerly heavily in Japan's favor.

Stocks Revive on Average, but Many Sag

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Despite further adverse news, including a torpedo attack on a United States destroyer, stock and commodities markets today canceled much of yesterday's losses on a broad rebound in prices.

Shares played a comparatively minor rôle in the recovery, but their Thursday decline had been less severe than in speculative staples. An early upturn gave way to irregularity, but prices hardened again later, and at the finish many industrial leaders were ahead fractions to a point or so. Dealings totaled 670,010 shares, against 841,360 yesterday.

Index Shows a Gain.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite had a net gain of .2 of a point at 40.6 after three consecutive declines. However, declines slightly outnumbered advances.

Steels were most prominent in the late climb. Financial offices displayed keen interest in President Roosevelt's press conference observation that he thought there would be something soon from the OPM on the question of strikes retarding arms output.

CHICAGO LIST WEAK.

Prices continued their downward trend on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions totaling 30,000 shares. Only 26 issues advanced, while 60 declined and 25 closed unchanged.

Volume leaders were Chicago Corporation, 3,550 shares, up ⅛ to ⅝; Commonwealth Edison, 3,400 shares, up ¼ to 24¾; Miller & Hart voting trust certificates, 950 shares, unchanged at 1; General Motors, 900 shares, up ⅜ to 39⅜, and Great Lakes Dredge and Dock, 700 shares, off ⅛ to 13⅞.

BONDS STILL ARE SHAKY

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Selected recovery ruled in some sections of the bond market today, altho the main list still was shaky from Thursday's setback.

The rails, heaviest losers in the preceding session, showed the best comeback powers. Total transfers of $6,559,000, face value, compared with $7,477,900 the day before.

The general trend of foreign bonds was down, altho there were exceptions. Losers included Tokio City 5½s. German 5½s gained a point.

United States governments were irregularly lower on both the stock exchange and over the counter. Trading was light in both markets.

SAYS FEW LITTLE FIRMS CAN TAKE ARMS CONTRACTS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17 [Special].—Less than 25,000 of the nation's 185,000 manufacturing plants are equipped to work on armament contracts, Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.] said today in announcing that the Republican small business defense committee will hold a statewide hearing on priorities unemployment next Tuesday at Columbus, O.

The inquiry which the committee of Republican congressmen is making into the hardships and unemployment caused by the armament program has covered Indiana, Minnesota, and New York and will be extended to other states, he said.

"Under prevailing policies of the Supply Allocations and Priorities board," he said, "thousands of the smaller plants face shutdowns. This, it is estimated, might entail government-made unemployment for approximately 3 million wage earners over the next four months."

AWARDED $30,000 FOR HEAD INJURY IN STEEL STRIKE

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17 (AP).—A jury today returned a $30,000 personal injury damages verdict against Republic Steel corporation for a CIO unionist who contended company police inspired and led a 1937 steel strike raid on union headquarters. The plaintiff, John Solanics of Cleveland, contended he suffered a permanent brain injury.

The suit was the first of more than 250 actions seeking $2,500,000 damages from Republic because of strike violence in several Ohio cities and at South Chicago. Republic attorneys contended the strike riot here was a spontaneous rebellion of nonstriking employés.

The jurors also signed "yes" to this written question submitted by Republic attorneys: "Did Republic Steel enter into a conspiracy to prevent unionization or bring the strike to an end by means of violence?"

New Car Output Up Again, but Far Below Year Ago

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17 (AP).—Ward's Reports, Inc., today estimated car and truck output this week at 85,600 units, compared with last week's 79,065. A year ago this week assemblies totaled 114,672 cars and trucks.

MEMBER OF SEC WARNS AGAINST POST-WAR SHOCK

Wellesley, Mass. Oct. 17 (AP).—Commissioner Ganson Purcell of the Securities and Exchange commission said today that "our national confidence that Hitlerism is certain to be crushed must more than ever be carefully tempered with the qualification—'if we do everything in our power as a united nation'."

Addressing the 28th annual national business conference at Babson Park, he said:

"Any other kind of confidence is but blind folly with which the road to destruction is inevitably paved. In short, we can no longer be cocky and overconfident. We must be energetically determined."

While the United States was doing everything in its power to defeat Hitler, he added, "we must build defenses against economic forces which may otherwise eradicate our way of life after the war."

"To those ends," he asserted, "we have the clear duty to see to it now that the financial condition of our American industry is such that it will be able to absorb the postwar shocks resulting from technological changes and the job of shifting back to peacetime production of goods We cannot begin too soon on this vast and complicated undertaking."

RATIONED PHONE CALLS FORESEEN FOR SOME AREAS

Rationing of telephone conversations may be necessary in some sections of the country unless telephone companies can obtain priority ratings high enough to assure them adequate materials for maintenance, repairs, and necessary expansion, the United States Independent Telephone association was told yesterday at the closing session of its convention in the Stevens hotel.

The speaker, Francis X. Welch, associate editor of Public Utilities Fortnightly, said the rating of A-10, which was made available to telephone companies on repair and maintenance, will help, but will not be adequate to maintain service at its present efficiency. He said no priority rating has been given the companies for necessary expansion.

BIG ARMS PLANT EQUIPMENT TO BE TAX EXEMPT

Involves Property Held by RFC Units.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

More than 25 million dollars of personal property in the form of new machinery and equipment that will shortly be devoted to armament production in Cook county will be exempt from local taxation in accordance with federal statutes, County Assessor John S. Clark disclosed yesterday.

The properties in question will be used by five industrial concerns which will operate arms plants being built in the Chicago area. Title to the properties will be held by the Defense Plant corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation set up last year to finance construction of goods needed in the rearmament program.

RFC Subsidiaries Exempt.

Under legislation passed by congress personal property owned by RFC subsidiaries is exempt from local taxes, but their real estate is taxable, Clark explained. RFC officials in Chicago estimated the total investment in the five Chicago plants being built will be approximately 58 million dollars, of which, they said, nearly 50 per cent will be machinery and equipment—personal property.

The plants involved and the approximate investments are: Buick aviation engine plant, 31 millions; Studebaker corporation's aviation engine plant, 15 millions; Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., 10 millions; Stewart-Warner corporation, 1 million, and Wyman-Gordon company, machine tool concern at Harvey, 1 million.

Position of Other Firms.

Clark emphasized that no exemption from personal property taxes can be granted to other Chicago companies which have arms contracts, but own their own facilities, even if operations are being financed partly by RFC loans. The exemption applies only to properties owned by RFC subsidiaries, he explained.

Special rules are being devised, however, for assessing some personal property such as new machinery that is owned by Chicago companies and being devoted to armament production, Clark said. This type of equipment, if purchased and used solely for arms work, is assessed at 50 per cent of normal rate for nonarmament machinery, Clark said.

The reason for this reduction, the assessor said, is that on the basis of present predictions, the equipment for producing armaments will be out of use within five years, whereas the assessor's office figures a 10 year life for ordinary machinery.

Facilities Not Completed.

The facilities being built in Chicago by the Defense Plant corporation have not been completed, so the 1941 assessments do not involve the exemption question.

Clark announced yesterday that the 1941 personal property assessment for West township in Chicago is $126,781,099 compared with $143,004,431 last year. The reduction reflected recent court decisions exempting certain classes of property from taxes.

Railway Express' Air Traffic Shows Upturn

Air express handled by the Railway Express Agency in Chicago in September totaled 25,560 shipments, an increase of 16.2 per cent over 21,993 shipments a year ago, the company reported yesterday. Rail express shipments numbered 2,015,288, a gain of 5.5 per cent over the 1,909,580 reported last year.

Expect OPM Action on Strikes; Agree on Drivers' Work Rules

Wage Discussion Next

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Government officials, concerned over the effect of recent and current labor disputes on armament production, may soon make a new declaration of views and policy toward strikes and work stoppages.

President Roosevelt told a press conference at Hyde Park, N. Y., yesterday that he believed there would be something soon from the Office of Production Management regarding strikes. He gave no hint what it might be.

There was speculation in Washington that the pronouncement may deal with the question of union ships. This has been one of the major bones of contention in many of the cases coming before the mediation board, and, in the past, union officials have expressed concern that the government might prohibit union ship conditions on any defense work.

Expect Mediation Demand.

In some quarters, it was indicated that the statement would be a joint one from the three top administrators of labor policy—Sidney Hillman, associate OPM director, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, and Chairman William H. Davis of the mediation board—again emphasizing that machinery for mediation and conciliation must be used before strikes.

A 30-day truce which ended a strike last September by 43,000 miners will end tomorrow. Davis said, however, that it would be extended on a day-to-day basis.

Among other labor developments yesterday, there were reports that the war department had taken a hand in the situation at Consolidated Aircraft corporation, where AFL machinists were talking of a strike.

Government Aid Asked.

It was assumed that army representatives were discussing with the management the question of the government's assuming part of the cost of proposed wage raises. A proposed new contract, approved by the union, would increase the beginners scale at the huge San Diego, Cal., bomber plant from 55-65 cents an hour to 60-75 cents and give a 13-cent blanket increase to employes earning more than 65 cents an hour.

Major R. H. Fleet, Consolidated president, said the raises would amount to $82,000,000 and that he could not sign the contract unless the government assumed part of the cost.

The CIO United Automobile workers will vote tomorrow on whether to strike at Bell Aircraft corporation's plants in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, a union official said. Pay increases are sought.

May Demand Mediation

An agreement on contract clauses covering working conditions for about 300,000 truck drivers in 11 midwestern states was reached yesterday in Chicago by a negotiating committee representing interstate trucking companies and another committee acting for the drivers' union—the International Brotherhood of Teamsters [AFL].

The question of wages was not settled. After agreeing on working condition clauses, the committees adjourned their joint session at the Sherman hotel until Nov. 3, when wages will be discussed. The drivers have threatened to strike if wages are not increased to 5 cents a mile from the present rate of 3 cents.

Adjournment of the meeting was announced by John L. Keeshin, president of Keeshin Motor Express company, Inc., and chairman of the employers' negotiating committee.

Drivers Are Benefited.

Michael Healy, Illinois state chairman of the Highway Drivers, Dockmen, and Platform Workers' union, and acting chairman of the union negotiating committee for the 11 states, said that changes favorable to the drivers were made in nearly all of the articles in the contract covering working conditions.

No comment on that point was made by Keeshin whose announcement merely said: "Clauses in the contract dealing with certain working conditions have been agreed upon."

According to Healy, some of the more important concessions granted by the employers related to methods of settling driver grievances, and to rules covering purchasing of uniforms, financing of examinations, and protection for the workers against having their weekly earnings reduced by any future legislative actions which would cut working hours.

Firms to Pay for Uniforms.

Healy said that the revised article relating to uniforms provides that employers requiring drivers to wear uniforms shall buy and maintain them at company expense. Practices have varied in this respect.

Employers likewise agreed to pay for all physical and mental examinations required, and the drivers agreed to fulfill all requirements for such tests.

Revision of another article provided that if the maximum working week were cut by legislation to a point below the present 60 hour week for drivers, the drivers could reopen wage negotiations. This provision, Healy said, would clear the way for a discussion of possible changes in wage rates to prevent total weekly pay from declining.

PROPOSE POWER POOL IN SOUTH; FACE SHORTAGE

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 17 (AP).—A pooling of the power resources of the Tennessee Valley authority and the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, a group of technicians decided here today, would avert at least until Nov. 10 a threatened power shortage in Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia.

In announcing this, Chairman Walter R. McDonald of the Georgia Public Service commission said that if rain did not relieve the current water shortage by that time a curtailment of power usage by 20 to 25 per cent would be necessary in the three states unless Carolina utilities contributed to the pool. He said the technicians found that the Commonwealth and Southern storage reservoirs in the area had only enough water left to last a week or 10 days, but that a pooling arrangement with the TVA would enable the company to meet power demands until Nov. 10.

Findings of the group will be sent to the Federal Power commission and to the utility commissions of the southeastern states.

DUN AGENCY REPORTS LETDOWN IN ADVANCE BUYING THRUOUT U. S.

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—A decided letdown in forward buying was an outstanding development in both trade and industry this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today.

"Retailers reported demand steadier than in weeks," the agency said, "with little evidence any longer of the feverish protective buying which boomed sales at the end of September. Wholesale ordering has declined as retailers concentrate on pushing surplus inventory items.

"In contrast to a few weeks ago, sellers once more are reported actively seeking new business in some lines. Wholesale prices have suffered a moderate setback, sufficient to offset the advance of the last two months."

The agency estimated retail sales for the country as a whole were 12 to 16 per cent better than a year ago, but labeled it the narrowest margin of gain in months.

DEALERS STUDY HOW TO OFFSET CAR OUTPUT CUT

Urged to Increase Servicing Income.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Automobile dealers in Cook county will have to sharpen their wits to maintain the solvency of their businesses and to keep their workers on the pay roll as Washington imposes new restrictions on factory production, Samuel B. Shapiro, general manager of the Chicago Automobile Trade association, warned yesterday.

Samuel B. Shapiro.

Dealers get the greater part of their profits from the sale of automobiles—revenues from servicing being a lesser factor—and profits will decline proportionately as supplies of automobiles decline, Shapiro said. However, it is hoped to make up for a large part of revenues so lost thru the greatly increased amount of servicing which will be required to keep older cars running.

21 Small Outlets Close.

So far none of the major dealerships in Cook county has found it necessary to liquidate or to lay off any considerable number of employés because a moderate number of new cars has been made available under the 26.5 per cent reduction for factory production in effect for August, September, October, and November.

However, since July 1, 21 small retail outlets in Cook county have closed. On Oct. 1 there were 461 new car outlets in Cook county—294 in Chicago and 167 outside the city. It is estimated that about 2,500 salesmen were employed in the county, including those employed by used car companies.

Since Oct. 1, 1940, when the total was 504, there has been a reduction of 43 in the number of new car outlets. It is explained that the large volume of new car business in 1940 and to date this year brought a considerable increase in the number of small dealerships. Some were one man businesses, with the owner acting as his own salesman.

Many in Strong Position.

The recent profitable business has put most of the long established dealerships in at least temporarily good financial position. What will happen when there are fewer cars to sell is a subject that is giving the dealers thought. It is feared that eventually even some of the older dealerships may be forced to liquidate should the car situation become really acute.

Moving to devise means for helping dealers to ride out the expected storm in their businesses, members of the recently organized committee on new activities of the Automotive Trade Association Managers met last week in Detroit. Shapiro, who attended the session, said that among the subjects emphasized was expansion and improvements in service departments, economy and efficiency in operation of dealerships, and more attention to business management.

Shapiro said it will be difficult for dealers to meet all their overhead thru operation of service stations alone. However, manufacturers say the dealers have a good opportunity to step up their service and accessory business substantially. Some dealers already are reported to be transferring new car salesmen to service departments for the purpose of not only selling servicing but improving customer relations.

★SMALL BUSINESS★ MAN'S DEPARTMENT

This department is prepared to help the small business man who is seeking information on priorities, substitute materials, and related subjects. Inquiries should be directed to the Small Business Man's department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill. All inquiries will be given careful attention. Letters on subjects of broad interest will be published with comment.

APPEALS.

Is there any provision in the priorities division for appeals? I have made repeated but unsuccessful efforts to get the division to raise the rating they have assigned me for an order of brass sheets. I have a B-8 rating, which means nothing as far as getting the brass.

Answer: Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson is developing the machinery for the hearing of appeals. He indicated several days ago that he is planning to establish a board to hear appeals from business men who have complaints of injustice or discrimination, and another to hear cases of hardship or distress.

The need for an appeals board has been evident since early in the application of priorities. The assignment of priority ratings in specific cases did not always appear to follow any uniform rule. Policies changed from day to day and the rating assigned to one company on any application might differ substantially from that given to another under similar circumstances. Business men, therefore, have pleaded the need of an impartial review board.

THE WORD OF LAW.

I notice that the priorities division has started punitive action against alleged violators of its orders. I did not know that it had the power to force companies into compliance. Where does it derive its legal power?

Answer: The priorities division gets its authority from the amendment last May 31 to section 2 [a] of the national defense act of June 28, 1940. The law gives the President power to apply priorities to orders which he deems necessary or appropriate to the defense of the United States, to orders for foreign governments whose defense he deems vital to the defense of the United States, and to subcontracts which are essential to the fulfilment of the armament contracts. The President is empowered to require reports and order inspections of any company to enforce compliance with priorities regulations.

Under section 9 of the selective service act the President has the power thru the army or navy to force any company to accept military orders and to take possession of the plant and take criminal action against the owners if they refuse to comply.

WARNS LIBERTY DIES IF WE LET CAPITALISM DIE

Connely Says Public Must Save American Ways.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 17 [Special].—Capitalism will not be able to survive the war unless the American people express a will that it shall survive and express it now, Alabama industrial leaders were warned here today at the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Alabama.

Emmett F. Connely, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, which has headquarters in Chicago, told the industrialists that liberty dies when government guaranteed security is accepted by the people or is forced upon them.

Fascism Here Unnecessary.

Asserting that America does not have to become totalitarian to fight totalitarianism, Connely added: "People who believe that we must adopt totalitarian methods seem to feel that the best way to preserve capitalism is to give it up."

Connely said this country has been flooded with propaganda from foreign sources in behalf of various theories of government, all offering us "security." For such security, millions of men and women in other nations "are forced to renounce every human freedom and every human right," he said, declaring that "the only people in Europe who have even temporary security are the privileged few who run the governments."

He termed "sheer nonsense" any suggestion that capital has gone on a strike in America.

Can't Compete with Government.

"Capital is a stream that flows into every nook and cranny where it can find a fair return for the risk taken," he said. "Capital never strikes. But there comes a time when capital cannot function at all. That is when it must compete with government.

"Just as bad money drives out good money, so does government enterprise drive out private enterprise. The rules that govern them are different."

Brig. Gen. Charles Hines, secretary of the army and navy munitions board, called upon the industrialists for "sacrifice, speed, and synchronization" in the arms program, and said there must be no "piecemeal plodding." He said the army, navy, and Office of Production Management are trying to liberalize procurement methods to speed up contracts.

SHARPEST BREAK IN 2 YEARS HITS TRADE FOR HOGS

Prices Tumble 25 to 50 Cents in Chicago.

The sharpest decline in more than two years swept the hog market yesterday as wholesale pork prices slumped again. Prices of live hogs fell 25 to 50 cents, with some underweights off even more. The extreme top tumbled 45 cents to $10.30 a hundred pounds, representing the biggest break since Sept. 11, 1939. That day the top declined 75 cents after hysteria over England's declaration of war subsided.

Prices for the entire day averaged 25 cents under the preceding session, at $10, the lowest average since June 19. The price was $1.25 under the 1941 high day, altho top grades of hogs showed $2.05 loss compared with the $12.35 peak of last month.

Farmers Boost Shipments.

The severe decline in hogs was attributed to heavier selling by farmers anticipating further price reductions, which is seasonal, as well as recent sharp losses incurred in provision markets as a result of bearish war news.

The effects of a recovery of grain and lard markets was offset in the hog market when wholesale prices of fresh pork fell mostly $1. Packers accepted $21.50 a hundred pounds for top light pork loins, the lowest price of the season. The heaviest loins were sold at $18. Farmers shipped 12,000 hogs to the yards yesterday, including directs to packers, which compared with 6,748 a week earlier. Only one load of hogs brought the $10.30 top.

Lambs Market Strengthens.

Stronger prices were paid for slaughter lambs. The best natives available topped at $11.75 a hundredweight. Yearlings brought $9.85, and best old ewes were quoted at $5.75.

Steers and yearlings were scarce and about steady.

PAPER AND FIBRE.

What information do you have on Champion Paper and Fibre company and its debenture issues? Have any debentures been called recently?

—P. T. K.

Answer: Champion Paper and Fibre company and its subsidiaries form one of the leading domestic organizations manufacturing types of paper known as book or white papers. Output is diversified, including coated and uncoated book and bond paper, cardboard, pressboard, tablet and envelope papers and kraft and manila papers. The pulp required is produced in the company's own plants and other raw materials also are produced or controled. Pulp and paper making yield by-products such as turpentine, rosin oil, and adhesives. The company has developed a process for converting low cost southern pine into pulp suitable for high grade paper products. Paper plants are at Hamilton, O.; Pasadena, Tex., and Canton, N. C., and pulp plants are at the latter two communities. The main office is in Hamilton.

Funded debt, amounting to about $10,500,000, includes 1938 and 1935 issues of 4% per cent sinking fund debentures, both due in 1950, notes payable to banks and other long term debt. The debentures are direct obligations but are not secured by mortgage.

Excluding sinking fund instalments due last July of $365,000 on the 1938 issue and $275,000 on the 1935, these debentures were outstanding in respective amounts of $4,535,000 and $4,125,000. Debentures equal to the sinking fund payments were called for redemption Sept. 1.

There are 550,700 shares of no par common and 89,093 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, $100 par, outstanding. Both stocks are listed on the New York and Cincinnati Stock exchanges. The debentures are listed on the New York exchange.

Operations have been profitable since a loss in 1933. Net income was well over the million dollar mark from 1936 thru 1938, then slumped to $446,648 in the 1939 fiscal year ended April 30. In the 1940 fiscal year, net income increased to $1,731,938, then rose to $2,379,660 in 1941. Net sales in that fiscal year were $29,743,122. For the 16 weeks ended last Aug. 17, net income was $690,425, compared with $819,929 in the same 1940 period.

Common and preferred dividends have been paid regularly. The company has covered its fixed charges by large margins. Total assets last April were more than $40,500,000. The company was incorporated in 1893 as the Champion Coated Paper company and adopted its present title in 1935.
